AUTO UNIONISTS TOOLS OF REDS, WITNESSES SAY

Reveal Evidence to House Body.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—A binding link between the Committee for Industrial Organization and the communism of soviet Russia was forged today by a series of witnesses before the special house committee investigating un-American activities in this country.

Witness after witness took the stand to bring the C. I. O. and communists into a united front. The committee heard:

1. A former Red organizer who testified that officials of the United Automobile Workers' union, a C. I. O. affiliate, taught communist doctrins in a Detroit propaganda school.

2. A member of the U. A. W. A., who broke into tears as he told how communists threatened his life and asserted that communists apparently have "a lot of influence on" John L. Lewis, C. I. O. czar.

Lays Strikes to Reds.

3. Star witness, Fred W. Frahm, superintendent of the Detroit police, who told the committee 75 per cent of the strikes in the Detroit area were instigated by communists and charged that state Democratic officials refused aid against the Red menace.

4. John P. McGillis, secretary of the Detroit council of the Knights of Columbus, who charged communism is a racket for its organizers in telling how Reds recruited youths in unemployment lodges of labor unions for service with loyalist forces in Spain.

5. A Detroit police sergeant, who named a long list of auto union officials he said were known to police and listed in police records as communists.

6. An attorney, employed in the service department of the Ford Motor company, who declared that the National Labor Relations board is sympathetic to the progress made by communists in American labor unions.

Tells of Red School.

The day's developments popped like firecrackers before the astounded members of the committee. The first explosion came when Melvin Kells, former organizer for the Trade Unity league, which he described as a Moscow front organization, portrayed automobile worker officials in the rôle of teachers of Red doctrins.

Kells said that the school was known as the Detroit Workers school and was operated from May 7 to July 15, 1933, and was the first of a series of schools which have been held from time to time since that date. The school, he said, was headed by William Weinstone, general secretary of the Michigan communist party.

Among its instructors he listed John Anderson, Nat Ganley, and Stanley Novack, all of whom were identified as leaders in the C. I. O. auto union today. He also named as an instructor Tony Gerlock, present head of the international labor defense.

Calls Teachers Communists.

"These men were all communists and instructed us in the doctrines of Marxism and Leninism," Kells stated under oath. "They taught us organization tactics for the seizure of industry."

Kells described strikes engineered at the instance of communists and told how Francis Dillon, head of the American Federation of Labor auto union, was ousted and succeeded by Homer Martin, who later led the union into the C. I. O.

Kells was followed on the stand by James Mitchell, also of Detroit, who formerly was in charge of welfare activities of a local union of the U. A. W. A. Mitchell described communist engineering of a sitdown strike in the Murray Body plant in Detroit in 1936 and 1937.

During his recital he was asked by Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.] what efforts were made by responsible labor leaders to drive Reds out of the auto union.

"Homer Martin, president, tried everything in his power," Mitchell said, "but it seems they are on the

SIKORA'S FATE MAY BE PUT UP TO JURY TODAY

Testifies in Strong, Eager Voice.

BY MARCIA WINN.

Rudolph Sikora, his face drawn but his voice strong, yesterday took the witness stand to tell in his own defense of his futile struggle to revive the waning love of his wife, Margaret.

For this love he killed Edward Solomon on Aug. 22, and for that killing he is on trial before a jury of eleven husbands and one bachelor in the court of Judge James F. Fardy. By tonight, it was indicated yesterday, he will know whether he will lose or regain his liberty for having slain the man who stole his wife's affections.

May Go to Jury Today.

Through a lawyers' agreement, the case, sensational in that the wife scorned her husband's defense to vow allegiance to the memory of her dead lover, should go to the jury some time today. If so, it will go on record as one of the swiftest murder trials in the history of Cook county.

Sikora, a dispatcher's clerk for the elevated lines, is 31 years old. His defense has been emotional insanity. As a result, the jury may deliberate over eight possible verdicts. These are [1] death, [2] life imprisonment, [3] a prison sentence of not less than fourteen years if convicted of murder, [4] one to fourteen years if guilty of manslaughter, [5] sane at the time of killing and insane now, [6] insane then and insane now, [7] insane then and sane now, or [8] not guilty.

Yesterday for the first time since the fatal shooting Sikora gave his version of the tangled, tragic story. He seemed proud, full of assurance, anxious to speak coherently and well.

Talks to Tense Court Crowd.

Step by step, with slow and deliberate words, before a courtroom tensely silent, he told how he tried to hold his wife's love.

He told how for five hours last July 1 he begged her to "tell me what is wrong." He told how he discovered, but not from her, the identity of his rival, and how he obtained from Solomon a promise to renounce Margaret. Then, with a breaking voice, he told how he subsequently saw Solomon emerge from eight or ten meetings with the woman he had foresworn.

These meetings, however, Sikora told the jury, were after Margaret had left him on July 9, leaving the following note on the kitchen table: "O, Rudy, for the good old days when my only worry was what we were going to have for supper! How is it all going to end? Our vacation will decide where we stand. O, Rudy, I am counting so much on it!"

Accosts Rival on Street.

Two days later, he testified, his pale face fervent, he accosted Solomon early one morning as he set out for work.

"I asked him to quit going with my wife," he recounted. "I told him I loved her more than anything else in the world.

"And Solomon said he realized how much Margaret meant to me. He

Grieving Suitor Kills Self on Grave of Girl

Grief-stricken by the sudden death of his sweetheart, a young man killed himself with a shotgun yesterday on her freshly made grave in Calvary cemetery. His body was found crumpled on wreaths of flowers, withering in the hours since her funeral on Wednesday.

The man was De Forest Jayne, 28 years old, instructor in a riding academy, a champion horseman who had won scores of trophies and prize ribbons in rodeo contests in the West.

Planning to Be Married.

The girl for whom he grieved was Miss Mae Sweeney, 25, a telephone switchboard operator. They had known each other for four years. They were planning to be married this fall. Last Saturday she became ill; that night she died, an hour before Jayne called to take her to a dance.

Jayne, tall, and handsome of feature, was taken home, sobbing, from the Sweeney house at 1912 Belle Plaine avenue. He brooded over his sweetheart's death. He declined to eat. His family watched him closely. Early yesterday afternoon he seemed to have come to some decision.

He dressed carefully. He donned dark blue breeches with white stripes; he pulled on his high boots and carefully polished them. A white shirt, left open at the neck, and a new black sombrero completed his attire. He hid a shotgun in his automobile and drove to Calvary cemetery, which adjoins Chicago on the southern boundary of Evanston.

Brothers Start Search.

Back at the riding academy at 5663 Elston avenue [the Jaynes live in a house close by] De Forest's brothers, Frank and Silas, became apprehensive.

Accompanied by a married sister, Grace, they hurried first to the Sweeney home, then to the cemetery. They arrived a few minutes too late. They were the first to find the body as it lay among the withered flowers.

One barrel of Jayne's double-barreled 12 gauge gun had been discharged.

Doctor and Police Called.

Frank and Silas Jayne notified the cemetery superintendent, W. J. Lynch, who summoned Dr. Joseph Blech of Evanston and the police. They took the body to an Evanston undertaker's, passing through groups of persons who had come to the cemetery to visit other graves and had remained, puzzled by the sound of the gunshot.

At the Sweeney home it was learned that the young couple's romance began while Jayne was teaching Miss Sweeney to ride. She appeared in the best of health until last Saturday afternoon. Then she collapsed on the floor of the bathroom. A neighbor, Policeman Max C. Christ of the Racine avenue station, was summoned and helped revive her.

"She said, 'Get away from me; I want to die; what is there to live for?'" Christ recalled.

Delay Girl's Inquest.

Jayne was divorced from his wife, Florence, in 1934. They had two children. Mrs. Jayne lives at 808 North Milwaukee avenue in Libertyville.

BEST STORE WINDOW SOAPERS TO GET $25 PRIZES IN THIS TOWN

Go ahead, kids, soap up those store windows! It's O. K.—if you live in the village of Itasca, Du Page county.

The extraordinary Halloween invitation was issued by Itasca merchants through Postmaster George J. Pfaff. Mr. Pfaff also has arranged for $25 worth of prizes to be given to the best soapers. He said, "We've got some real talent around here."

But there's a catch to it. The kids have to sign a pledge to commit no other deviltry.

In Chicago, Police Commissioner Allman issued this Halloween greeting to the youngsters: Have a good time, but don't damage property or play malicious jokes. If you do you'll be taken to the police station and your school principal will be told about what you've done.

YOU CAN SOBER UP IN A JIFFY AT WORLD FAIR

New York, Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Sobering-up stations, with machines which will restore sobriety and banish hangovers, will be installed at the New York World fair next year—just in case.

The machine is a respirator which, among other things, gives the patient a mixture of 90 per cent air and 10 per cent carbon dioxide.

PostmanKeeps Everyone Glad but Uncle Sam

Until yesterday the happiest folks in town lived on Postman Joseph Yanevich's route.

They seldom got begging letters from their poor relations. If Junior flunked out of college, they never heard about it. Chain letters never cluttered their mailboxes.

Tax notices were headaches they didn't know. They had no wedding gifts to buy because they got no invitations. Politicians' blurbs and advertising circulars were things they heard about from envious friends. They had no weighty magazines to read.

Beams Upon His Patrons.

This condition existed in a territory which lies between 71st, 73d and Leavitt streets, and Ashland avenue. There Postman Yanevich, a veteran of thirteen years in the postal service, had been making his rounds for three years, beaming upon his patrons.

They never suspected what had made their lives so unbelievably happy lately until small children began bringing home unopened mail they found in the prairie when they were at play.

Parents, hoping to make Superintendent Frank Sweeney happy too, took the mail to him at the Ogden Park postal station and told him where it had been found. It didn't make him happy. He called in Cecil Gant and George McGrath, postal inspectors.

They looked around the prairie, and found 200 more letters and circulars; then asked the postman about it.

Just a Pain to Him.

He told them his feet ached.

The ache, he said, came from carrying too much mail. It wouldn't have been so bad if it had been important mail. But most of it was a headache to those who got it, as well as a foot ache to him. He began throwing away the mail he thought people wouldn't enjoy. He felt better then, and hoped they did too.

United States Commissioner Edwin T. Walker fixed the postman's feet up yesterday by sending him to jail to rest until the trial.

Kicks in 3 Shop Windows Just Because He Wants To Uninhibited fellow: Charles Nystrom of 809 South State street. He kicked in three plate glass shop windows yesterday in the 100 block of South Clark street. Police asked him why. "I wanted to!" he told them.

Casey Attacks Holland Over Gaming Cases

Judge E. B. Casey.

The charges were made by Municipal Judge Edward B. Casey. Judge Casey emphasized his accusations by saying, ". . . When the Municipal court is exploited by corrupt political bosses to carry out their own selfish objectives, and when their judges sully their own judicial position, I must speak out."

Asks About Special Lists.

Judge Casey then dared Holland to explain the use of specially prepared lists of gambling cases managed by Holland's bailifs and five regular attorneys. The Casey charges were made before the Apartment House and Hotel association in the Midland club.

Judge Casey described what he called a typical morning session of the Racket court during Judge Holland's tenure there. He said:

"There are five lawyers very conspicuously active in the court. As the defendants in the gambling cases come in, each of them walks over and whispers to one of these five select lawyers. The lawyer in every instance takes the defendant's bail slip, walks right over to the clerk and the clerk enters a discharge on the receipt. The lawyer then takes the slip back to the client.

"Now bear in mind at this point that the court has not yet opened. The judge has not yet appeared."

Charges Legal Favoritism.

"The clerk," he said, "has already prepared, under the instructions of the judge, a private and unofficial sheet containing the names and addresses of every defendant appearing upon a gambling charge.

"In every case where the defendant is represented by one of the five select lawyers, he has in his pocket his bail bond slip already marked 'discharge' with the official stamp of the court. The lawyer moves to suppress the evidence and the case is peremptorily discharged.

"But where a lawyer, not one of the select five, comes forward to defend his client and makes the same motion in the same way on the same form of petition and with the same facts, the case is continued from sixty to ninety days.

"As each of these cases is disposed of, the judge, in his own handwriting, makes a certain initial opposite the name on the unofficial sheet I have been telling you about. As the cases are concluded and the call is finally completed, the judge makes tally marks upon the sheet.

"He then neatly folds it and hands it to his bailif, Theodore Bayer, who

4 OF ACCUSED DEMOCRATS KIN OF U. S. SENATOR

New Mexico Rocked by Scandal.

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Seventy-three persons, many of them leaders of the Democratic party in New Mexico, were indicted here today by a federal grand jury investigating graft and corruption in the WPA.

The indictments charged:

1. Diversion of WPA funds, property, and services to private use.

2. Political discrimination against WPA employés.

3. Illegal political activities.

4. Conspiracy to violate the federal WPA laws.

Prosecutors and Accused.

Four relatives of Senator Dennis Chavez of New Mexico, who has been credited with obtaining most of the WPA millions for the state, were indicted. They are:

Stanley W. P. Miller, assistant United States attorney, Senator Chavez' son-in-law;

Mrs. Anita Tafoya, Senator Chavez' sister;

Salamon Tafoya, Senator Chavez' nephew;

Salamon Chavez, Senator Chavez' cousin;

Joe Martinez, Senator Chavez' secretary.

Ousted Official Indicted.

Among others named in the true bills, which were returned to Federal Judge Colin Neblett, were:

Fred G. Healy, former state WPA administrator who was ousted Sept. 24;

Fred Sganzini, head of the state drivers' license bureau;

Mrs. J. A. Werner, wife of the Albuquerque postmaster;

Police Chief John Wooten, of Las Vegas;

Steve Wooten, Chief Wooten's brother;

Many WPA Employés Named.

Of the fifty-nine others indicted in the graft investigation, many were state WPA administrative employés.

A maximum penalty of two years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine may be imposed on persons convicted on the conspiracy charges.

The indictments, which presaged the greatest scandal ever uncovered in the WPA, caused a sensation throughout the state. Judge Neblett, grim and low voiced, ordered the United States marshal to arrest the defendants and bring them into court Tuesday morning for arraignment.

"We do not say that all investigations have been concluded," the grand jury reported to Judge Neblett as it turned in the indictments. The jury recommended that federal authorities take up the investigation where the jury left off, but Judge Neblett ordered the jurors held in recess. The investigation was started Sept. 7.

Selfish Aims of Officials.

"The selfish aims and ambitions of individuals entrusted with the administration of the WPA amazed the jurors," said A. R. Combs of Carlsbad, the foreman. "It is apparent that too many persons seeking personal and political gains have violated legal and moral codes.

"It is clear that many of those in positions of honor and trust have failed in creating and maintaining respect for themselves and the government which they were under oath to represent."

The indictments charged that the Democratic leaders "conspired for the purpose of joint and unified political activity and to build a political organization in the city of Albuquerque, the county of Bernalillo, and the state of New Mexico."

Demand Cash from WPA Men.

It was alleged that contributions were demanded from WPA employés for political purposes, and that threats and intimidation were used to force the workers to take part in political activity. An organization known as the Rio Grande club, composed of WPA foremen and timekeepers, was reported to have been formed for the purpose of lining up WPA workers and gathering political contributions.

The indictments declared that WPA employés also were required to join other political clubs, which were disguised as social functions. The workers belonging to these clubs, it was charged, were forced to pay dues and to purchase tickets to social functions. It was charged that funds thus collected went to swell the politicians' campaign coffers.

Politicians Control Votes.

It was further charged that persons on the WPA rolls were forced to vote according to the dictates of the political leaders in a state-wide election on amendments to the state constitution. Employés who refused to vote according to orders were dismissed from the projects on which they were employed.

At issue in this election was a proposal to amend the law which limits state officers to two terms. The amendment was voted down. Had it been approved, Gov. Clyde Tingley, who is at odds with Senator Chavez, would have been able to run for another two year term as governor.

The grand jury also charged political coercion of WPA employés in a municipal election last spring in Albuquerque. In addition to being forced to contribute funds, it was charged, WPA workers were required to circulate vote petitions, take part in political rallies, and transport voters to the polls on election day.

The indictments also alleged that the defendants conspired to divert to their personal use portions of WPA appropriations, services of WPA workers, and WPA materials.

For a long time it had been common talk that WPA funds were being expended for purposes other than those for which they had been allotted. It also was reported that political chieftains used WPA materials and WPA labor to build houses barns, and roads for private purposes.

$25,000,000 Allotted to State.

About $7,000,000 in WPA funds has been poured into New Mexico annually since 1934, it was reported here tonight. It was reported that the allotment has been in excess of $25,000,000. The number of WPA employés in the state has averaged between 12,000 and 20,000.

Among projects for which the money has been expended is the Carrie Tingley Hospital for Crippled Children at Hot Springs, N. M., costing $500,000. Other jobs include a $750,000 airport and a $350,000 state fairgrounds project in Albuquerque. The federal funds have been spread throughout the state. More than 200 school buildings have been erected and many municipal jobs completed. More are in progress.

Judge Neblett launched the grand jury investigation after he had received several affidavits, the source of which was kept secret, charging graft in the state administration of the WPA.

No Previous Investigation.

"It is common rumor," he told the jury when it convened, "that grafting has been going on for some time, but, so far as I know, there has been no investigation whatever.

"Such matters cannot go on in this community. Do not fail to indict any one because of his reputation or standing in the community."

Healy, the former state WPA administrator, was ousted by Harry L. Hopkins, national WPA administrator, in what was believed to be a maneuver in the fight for political control of the state.

Healy was appointed about a year ago, when Lee Rowland, a political supporter of Gov. Tingley, was removed. Both Rowland's dismissal and Healy's appointment supposedly were at the behest of Senator Chavez and Congressman John J. Dempsey.

When Healy was appointed it was reported that Hopkins gave him the post because he was the choice of Chavez. Chavez subsequently began taking state control away from Gov. Tingley. The governor's supporters charged that WPA employés were used to control party caucuses and select county convention delegates opposed to Tingley for the state convention.

Senator Awaits Trial.

In firing Healy Hopkins said Healy had permitted state politicians to interfere with the WPA program, with resultant inefficiency. Healy's ouster came three weeks after the beginning of the grand jury investigation.

Senator Chavez tonight refused to comment on the charges contained in the indictments.

"The matter is pending before the court," he said. "Under our system of jurisprudence all persons charged with offenses are presumed to be innocent until proved otherwise."

Miller, the assistant United States attorney, one of those indicted, said he would have something to say tomorrow.

HELD ON THEFT CHARGES.

Ira Joadwine, 1216 Waveland avenue, and James Richard, 2733 Lincoln avenue, were held to the grand jury yesterday on charges of larceny and burglary by Judge Lambert K. Hayes. William Melton, 1228 Diversey parkway, was held on a charge of receiving and selling stolen goods.

HEAR SEDUCTION CHARGE AGAINST ENGINEER'S AID

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—A hearing on an affidavit in which a clerk on the Indianapolis city engineer's staf is accused of seduction and contributing to the delinquency of a girl 17 years old was conducted today in Juvenile court.

The affidavit was filed by Mrs. Della Eaton of Indianapolis, grandmother of the girl, Della Francis Mason, a waitress in the city hall cafeteria. It accused John Schilling, the clerk, of seduction. Schilling denied the charge.

Judge John F. Geckler of Juvenile court will rule on the case Nov. 16. A civil suit against Schilling, in which Miss Mason seeks support and alleges that he is the father of a child born to her, has been filed in Circuit court. Miss Mason said the baby died when 5 weeks old.

DOUBLE SLAYING IN GEORGIA STIRS RACE DISORDERS

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Twenty-eight persons were under arrest today in an investigation of racial disorders which occurred in nearby Smyrna after a Negro killed a farmer and his daughter.

The victims, George Camp, 66 years old, and Mrs. Christine Rauls, 26, were slain Sunday night in their home. The Negro, Will Russell, confessed beating them to death.

Soon after Russell's confession was announced Monday night a mob burned a Negro school in Smyrna. The next night 200 persons wrecked 25 Negro homes and beat several colored persons. To safeguard him from violence, police placed Russell in Georgia's new state prison.

STUDENT SHOT AT INDIANA U.; INQUIRY BEGUN

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Police and Indiana university authorities tonight investigated the mysterious shooting of Russell Regentine, 18 years old, a member of the editorial staf of the Indiana Daily Student.

Regentine was wounded in the right leg by a revolver bullet which was fired last night when he left his boarding house. Six shots were fired at him, Regentine told police. He was taken to his home in La Porte for medical treatment.

Police said the shooting might have been caused by a feud between high school pupils and university students.

Kentucky Coal Loader Gets Life for Wife Murder

Whitesburg, Ky., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—T. H. Foote, 50 years old, coal loader for the Elkhorn Coal corporation at Fleming, pleaded guilty today to murder and was sentenced to life in prison. Foote shot and killed his wife, Mary, in their Fleming home Aug. 11.

Steer Astride Board Fence; Both Fall, Injuring Farmer

Belvidere, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Walter Gray was feeding some steers when one of them attempted to leap a board fence, alighting astride it. Gray grabbed the steer's tail and attempted to pull it off. The fence collapsed. Steer and fence fell on him, fracturing his right leg.

RELIEF RECORDS SCANDAL IN S. D. ELECTION ISSUE

Taken from State During Berry's Regime.

BY LLOYD WENDT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Sioux Falls, S. D., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The spiriting away of South Dakota relief records, covering an estimated $35,000,000 of expenditures, just as a state senate committee was to probe relief spending in the state, has injected a major political scandal into this state's torrid congressional campaign.

The records covered a period when Tom Berry, cow man candidate for the United States senate on the Democratic ticket, was governor of South Dakota and federal relief administrator for the state.

Berry was defeated for governor by Leslie Jensen, a Republican, in the fall of 1936. In January, 1937, just as Jensen took office and a relief investigation was planned, it was found that the relief records had disappeared.

Investigation Blocked.

This move blocked an effective investigation of relief spending, as the state senate planned, but the reverberations of it are plaguing Berry almost as much as any scandal which might have been revealed.

Chandler Gurney of Yankton, Republican candidate for the senate, and other Republican speakers are going the length and breadth of the state, demanding to know why the records were taken and what scandal was being hidden. Berry's only reply to date is to rest on a statement of Louise Kubler, a woman assistant in the relief office, that she ordered the records removed to another state on her own responsibility.

The story of the secret removal of the relief records, which strangely enough wasn't fully revealed even in the senate investigation, has a melodramatic aspect.

Four Tons Ordered Moved.

Shortly before Jan. 17, 1937, the offices of the Wilson Forwarding company, largest truck transport firm in the state, received a call to transport four tons of cargo out of the state.

Where this call came from, and from whom, no one admits knowing. Neither was it known what was to be hauled. Workers in the Wilson company say the orders came to the Huron branch, but Grant Reynolds, manager of that branch at the time, declared that he was out of the city, did not handle such a call, and that none of his men knew about it. The general superintendent of the company at Sioux Falls is as to the source of the call and will not reveal who paid the bill.

Further to insure secrecy, drivers did not carry their usual bill of lading. On ordinary trips they usually know what merchandise they carry and to whom it is consigned.

Drivers Ordered to Hurry.

The drivers said they were ordered out in shifts at Huron and Sioux Falls on a cold January day and were told to be ready to get a cargo across the state line before midnight.

Three trucks, loaded with 45,000 pounds of documents, brought the records from Pierre into Huron, where new drivers hurried them on to Sioux Falls.

Two trucks reached Sioux Falls in sufficient time to permit them to proceed to Sioux City by the company's regular route, via Elk Point. The third truck arrived so late that the new driver was routed into Minnesota over highway No. 16, to make sure he would be out of the state in ample time. He then cut down into Iowa.

"We were told to be out of South Dakota by midnight," the drivers said. "We had to drive through snowdrifts, and in some cases push stalled trucks out of the way to get through. We drove as fast as the trucks would go and didn't stop to eat. We didn't know what we were carrying, but we knew it was important."

Ordered to Rush Cargo.

F. K. Jory, general superintendent of the Wilson depot in Sioux Falls at the time, also said the orders were to get through by midnight. "I got the calls from our office at Huron," Jory said.

Carl R. Gray, now general superintendent of the Wilson company, denied that there was any secrecy or great emergency in the movement of the records. "No one could stop interstate commerce once it started, anyway," he said. He added, however, that he was in Sioux City at the time the records were moved. They were reshipped from Sioux City to Mitchell, he said.

Miss Kubler testified that she ordered the removal on her own authority. Her associate, Irene Reudi, told the committee under oath that Miss Kubler had said that "Tom Berry ordered her to remove the records from the state."

"Miss Kubler said," Miss Reudi testified, "that there was going to be a senatorial investigation and that she wanted them out, and she thought he [Berry] had charge of the records so she did as he [Berry] told her to, and he told her to get them out.

Miss Kubler also, Miss Reudi testified, took $20,000 of FERA money with her to Sioux City when she went there to await further instructions on what to do with the records. This was returned.

Republicans, because of the Democratic strategy, confess they are unable to prove that the relief funds were used for direct political purposes or that graft was involved.

The Republicans, however, have pointed the finger of suspicion, and Gurney is blasting at Berry for hiding behind a woman's skirts on the relief record issue.

Peacock Dancer Sues

MRS. KATHRYN BERNHARD.

Mrs. Kathryn Bernhard, a dancer known professionally as Renee Villon, filed suit yesterday for divorce from Louis Bernhard, a Hollywood costumer. She is an exponent of the "peacock dance." Her bill, drawn by Attorney Henry Kalcheim, charged desertion. The dancer asked support for herself and her daughter, Barbara, 4 years old. Mrs. Bernhard is 25 years old. DEMOCRATS DINE AT $100 A PLATE AS FARLEY BEAMS

$347,800 Is Poured Into Penn Hope Chest.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 20.—[Special.] — With Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley beaming benignly on the assemblage, the Pennsylvania Democratic machine tonight produced 3,478 guests for the third annual "hundred dollar dinner" and poured a total of $347,800 in the campaign hope chest.

Because of the scandals which have marked the administration of Gov. George H. Earle, the party's candidate for senator, there were some local wags [probably Republicans] who compared tonight's sumptuous banquet to Belshazzar's feast. The handwriting on the wall, they declared, was that the G. O. P. would recapture control of the traditionally Republican Keystone state at the polls Nov. 8.

Warns Against Strife.

The usually cheerful and unruffled national chairman blew a somewhat sour note into the festivities when he warned against internecine strife. Without mentioning names, Farley referred to the hot Democratic primary of last spring when Gov. Earle and Senator Joseph F. Guffey were hurling bombshells at each other.

"We cannot nurse our private feuds with the calm assumption that Democratic sentiment is so strong that we can afford to withhold support and strenuous effort from this candidate or that candidate," declared Farley.

The governor and the senator were both present at the speakers' table and enthusiastically applauded their mentor's remarks.

Secret Knifing Report.

This contrasted with the reports that Guffey is secretly knifing Earle, who beat the senator's C. I. O. slate in the primaries. If Earle is defeated, Guffey will retain 100 per cent of the federal patronage and will lead the delegation to the national convention in 1940.

Gov. Earle, who is running against the incumbent Republican senator, James J. Davis, declared the Democratic party represents the "purest liberalism" while the G. O. P. composed the "blackest reaction."

Earle did not bore those about the festive board with an explanation of what was behind the "loans" of nearly $100,000 which he has obtained from political sources since he went into office nearly four years ago. Senator Guffey was likewise silent on his fiscal transactions which have been under scrutiny.

Matthew H. McCloskey, the political contractor who admittedly lent $26,500 to Gov. Earle, did not take part in the festivities. McCloskey was awarded 10 million dollars worth of public building contracts from the general state authority, headed by Earle, during the time that he was the governor's financial angel.

The "hundred dollar dinner" was McCloskey's brain child three years ago. Since his financial connections with Earle were revealed, he has been kept under wraps.

ROOSEVELT GIVES SOME STUDY TO N. Y. POLITICAL SITUATION

The President was forced to remain indoors by the rainy gloom of a late October day which ended the warm and sunny season.

Mr. Roosevelt lunched with Charles Poletti, nominee for lieutenant governor on the Democratic ticket. Poletti has been accused of being a member of the communist party, a charge he denies.

A wave of resentment among Catholics was caused by his substitution on the ticket for the present lieutenant-governor, M. William Bray, a Catholic. Poletti was placed on the ticket at the insistence of the radical American Labor party, but Democratic politicians now fear that he is a definite handicap to the slate.

"The President gave me advice based upon his experience as a candidate in New York," said Poletti, afterward.

"Are you a communist?" he was asked.

CAPPER WARNS OF DANGERS IN LUST FOR POWER

United States Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas warned yesterday that "anti-social men, whether they be drunk with greed or the lust for power or with the insanity of inordinate egotism, must be kept within the regular lanes of society's trafic." He spoke at the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Audit Bureau of Circulations in the Stevens hotel.

The senator also warned that America is not immune from the dictatorship craze that threatens the entire world. Europe as well as the western hemisphere, he said, is confronted by the age old question of men versus superman.

Senator Capper, who addressed the convention as a publisher, mentioned no names. He spoke of the United States as a democracy and democracy as a new system that has made possible further advances in civilization than all the preceding periods of recorded history.

HITCH-HIKERS GET A QUICK PICKUP WITH CATCH TO IT

An obliging motorist drove up beside William Cashmore and his second wife yesterday as they were hitch-hiking in U. S. route 41 southwest of North Chicago.

"Jump in," invited the driver. The Cashmores did. Then the motorist introduced himself as Deputy Sherif Edward Tornquist of Lake county. He drove to the Waukegan jail and locked up Cashmore on a bigamy warant.

Cashmore's first wife, Marion, sued him for a divorce a year ago, but didn't get a decree. Cashmore, believing he was free, remarried. He moved from Waukegan to New York City. Last Tuesday he and his second wife returned to Waukegan. Marion Cashmore learned he was in town and got the warant.

Deputy Sherif Tornquist missed serving Cashmore in Waukegan. Informed that the couple were on the road returning to New York, Tornquist hurried after them, hoping he would be the first to pick them up. He was.

DEWEY DEMANDS END OF MACHINE POLITICS IN N. Y.

Assails Lehman as Link in National Chain.

"If he talks out of turn," snapped New York City's district attorney, "he gets in wrong." He referred to Gov. Lehman's stand against President Roosevelt's court packing bill.

The Republican candidate set a noon hour crowd roaring in an impromptu speech in the public square here shortly after luncheon. He denounced corrupt Democratic machines from New York City to Buffalo.

Rips into Tammany.

"Such machines," he said, "form the very foundation of the Democratic party in this state." For Tammany, he had a special word. The hall, he said, "claimed the right to dominate the political affairs of this state."

Dewey demanded that the state of New York become a state and not a subsidiary province of any national machine.

The Lehman administration in the last six years, the young prosecutor charged, has merely pretended to have an interest in protecting the people of the state from the attacks of the underworld.

The G. O. P. nominee alluded sarcastically to the scandals in Kings county [Brooklyn], where a special prosecutor has been appointed by his adversary to investigate the whole picture of law enforcement.

Points to Lehman's Rôle.

"Can you imagine the Brooklyn machine being interested in protecting the rights of the people of the state of New York?" Dewey asked.

He recalled that Lehman, "our loyal branch manager of the chain store political system now operating in America, took occasion once to disagree with the main office. Temporarily it brought him into disfavor, but that has all been patched up now."

"Now, when I am governor of New York," Dewey continued, "I will cooperate with Washington when it is in the interest of the people of New York state to do so, but I will shout 'No when I think there's something wrong. And when I say 'No,' it won't be so surprising as to be big news."

WARD LEADERS PLEDGE TO HELP CHRISTMAS FUND

Democratic ward committeemen met yesterday in Mayor Kelly's office and pledged to buy $130,000 worth of tickets for Chicago's Own Christmas Benefit fund. The fund sponsors the Night of Stars at the Chicago Stadium on Dec. 21 and the championship football game between public and parochial schools in Soldiers' field on Nov. 26. The money is used to buy clothing and shoes for needy children. Mayor Kelly is chairman of the fund and Coporation Counsel Barnet Hodes is secretary.

Seeks Tax Cut

ADRIENNE AMES.

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Her reputation as a well dressed woman is essential to her career, Adrienne Ames, film actress, contended today before the United States board of tax appeals where she sought $9,053 in wardrobe and traveling allowances for 1934.

"An actress must keep herself in demand," Miss Ames explained. "If she is not seen, photographed, written about—well, the public forgets."

Counsel for the actress sought to prove that Miss Ames' expenditures for wardrobe, maid service, hotels, and traveling during 1934 were business rather than personal items.

FIVE POLICEMEN ARE DISCHARGED BY TRIAL BOARD

Five policemen were ordered discharged last night by the police trial board.

John Guligowski and William F. Looney, of the Maxwell street station, were discharged for being involved in a robbery and refusing to attend their station roll call Aug. 29 when the complainant appeared to identify them. Guligowski had been on the force eight years and Looney sixteen.

Charles Maloney of the Summerdale station was discharged for intoxication and shooting with a service revolver a man whom he mistakenly thought was a robber. John Warpenberg, Racine avenue station, was discharged because of a shooting in a tavern argument Sept. 13. George A. Johnson, Shakespeare avenue station, was discharged for intoxication.

SCHOOL CHILDREN WORK BEST ON A FULL STOMACH

That's what F. O. Washam, director of Chicago school lunchrooms, told the National School Cafeteria association at its convention yesterday in the Morrison hotel. He said the days of the school lunch prepared at home are passed because proper lunches, dietetically correct, are now sold to children at cost.

More than 1,000 school cafeteria executives who serve approximately 1,000,000 pupils daily are attending the convention. In Chicago 86,000 school children are served daily in school lunchrooms.

Pick and Shovel Row Brings WPA Sit Strike

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—A delicate problem in specialization—whether a man should be asked to use both pick and shovel on a ditching job—brought a one day sitdown strike of thirty-eight WPA workers on a Bronx project today. The workers maintained that pick and shovel work is a team arrangement in the more enlightened circles, with one man working while the other rests. Supervisors said the strike followed an order that the laborers spend less time talking and more time working.

BROAD AUTHORITY GIVEN FOR CRIME QUIZ IN BROOKLYN

Lehman Issues Orders to Supersede Prosecutor.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Gov. Herbert H. Lehman issued today the formal orders necessary to supersede District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan in the investigation of all law enforcement agencies in Brooklyn. This is the third time that the Democratic prosecutor has been superseded.

Associates of the governor, who once cleared Geoghan of charges that he was unfit to hold the office, declared that the orders were the broadest ever drawn to supersede a district attorney.

Theft of Records Specified.

John Harlan Amen, special prosecutor, has authority to go into everything connected in any way with the activities of the district attorney, the police, the courts, the commissioner of jurors, the department of correction, and all other agencies of justice in Brooklyn.

One of the subjects specified by the governor was the theft of 7,200 police records from a police station. The theft was discovered this week. Another was the fur racket, in which one defendant said recently that he "paid plenty" to be freed of charges against him. It was this remark which spurred the investigation of official corruption in Brooklyn.

Presiding Judge Named.

In addition, the governor wrote a broad specification covering "any and all acts of misfeasance and malfeasance, nonfeasance, misconduct, and negligence committed in connection with the enforcement of law."

Gov. Lehman's order named Supreme Court Justice Francis D. McCurn of Syracuse to preside over the extraordinary term of Supreme court in Brooklyn starting Nov. 17.

FIND ADDITIONAL CAMPAIGN SIGNS ON CITY PROPERTY

Candidates Violate Law to Get Votes.

Another piece of city property was found bearing campaign posters yesterday, in violation of an ordinance against defacing public property.

Signs advertising the candidacies of Thomas J. O'Brien [D.] for sherif, and of Judge Samuel Heller [R.], for reëlection to the Municipal court, adorned a refreshment stand at 700 Montrose avenue, on ground owned by the city.

A clerk there said the concessionaire, Peter M. Barry, had given permission for posting the O'Brien sign, but none for the Heller poster.

Permission Unlawful.

William Hunter of the city bureau of compensation said the concessionaire had no right to permit either sign to be displayed.

Wednesday, three campaign posters were found on the rear wall of the Hyde Park police station, 5233 Lake Park avenue, which also is owned by the city.

The signs were removed yesterday.

Another violation of a city ordinance making it unlawful to post signs on utility poles was discovered on a telephone company pole in the rear of 1821 Humboldt boulevard.

Bid for "L" Riders' Votes.

The pole bore an O'Brien poster which apparently had been placed there for the eyes of riders on the Humboldt Park branch of the elevated lines, which passes nearby. The sign cannot be seen from the street.

Republicans are having a more difficult time than Democrats in getting their signs before the public. This results from the refusal of Otto Krueger, business agent of the bill posters' union, to post anti-Nash-Kelly placards. These are being distributed through citizens.

COUNTESS OF CARRICK WEDS BARON; FORMER HUSBAND WEDS IN U. S.

SAINT ALBANS, England, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The American born former countess of Carrick was married today to the fourth Baron Chesham while her former husband was en route to England with a new American bride.

Countess of Carrick.

The earl of Carrick married Margaret Power Drum of Helena, Mont., at Franklin, N. J., yesterday and sailed for England aboard the Queen Mary. Baron Chesham was divorced last year.

The new Baroness Carrick is the former Mrs. Marion C. Edwards of Philadelphia, daughter of Daniel C. Donoghue. She and the earl of Carrick were married at Doylestown, Pa., on Aug. 19, 1930, and were divorced last March.

CASEY ATTACKS HOLLAND OVER GAMING CASES

Judge Dismisses 700 a Month, He Asserts.

at this precise moment steps up beside the bench. Bailif Bayer puts this sheet in his pocket and walks out into the corridors and into the judge's chambers through the side door.

"I have so far characterized this whole procedure as a game. I should like to cite to you, however, at least one specific instance, which I think reveals the viciousness of the whole system.

"Not long ago a lawyer—not one of the select five—had a case in Judge Holland's courtroom. After it was disposed of, he left. Bailif Bayer followed him to the door. An argument ensued. In the presence of several police officers the lawyer was heard to say, 'Sure, I got a good fee, but I didn't know when I tried a case in this court that the bailif was my partner'."

In a fist fight that followed, the lawyer whipped Bailif Bayer, Judge Casey said. He added that although Judge Holland threatened to issue a warant immediately, the case was hushed up. Then he proposed his questions for Judge Holland to answer:

"1. Why did you instruct your clerk to have a separate, unofficial sheet listing the names and addresses of all gambling cases ready for you each morning in court?

"2. Why were the bail slips marked 'discharged' before your court even opened?

"3. What is the meaning of the initials that you wrote on that sheet and the tallies that you made thereon?

LUCKY NUMBERS 7-11 BRING MISFORTUNE TO 7 AND 11 HANDBOOKS

State's attorney's police and city police combined unwittingly yesterday to make ordinarily lucky gambling numbers unlucky for gamblers. The city police raided seven handbooks and the state's attorney's men chopped up eleven. To date the prosecutor's squads have struck 456 spots.

One hit yesterday was at 22 East Randolph street. It was familiar ground to the raiders, it being their fourth raid there. RACINE DIVORCEE IS SHOT TO DEATH; FIND SUITOR DEAD

Racine, Wis., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Mrs. Anita Benson, 31 years old, a divorcée, was shot to death in the yard of her home tonight. An hour later police found the body of Otto Schultz, 35, also shot to death, in an alley two blocks from Mrs. Benson's home. A pistol with six discharged bullets was at his side, police said.

Terming it a case of murder and suicide, Detectives Lyle George and Theodore Hodges said Mrs. Benson once had complained Schultz had threatened her. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Olesen, said Schultz had been extremely jealous and she had refused to go out with him.

Mrs. Benson was returning home from a bowling party. Members of her family said they had heard four or five pistol shots and ran out to find her dying, with her jewelry scattered in evidence of a struggle. They said Schultz, part owner of a cleaning company, had called at the home earlier in the evening and asked for Mrs. Benson.

LUCAS INVADES CHICAGO; MAYOR LEADS CHEERING

6,000 Attend Meeting in Broadway Armory.

BY PERCY WOOD.

Scott W. Lucas opened his Cook county senatorial campaign last night—spurred by a handshake and praise from Mayor Kelly—before about 6,000 Democratic workers in the Broadway armory.

Gov. Horner was to have been the third headliner at this, the first of four meetings planned to display complete interfactional harmony. But it was explained by Ald. J. M. Arvey, chairman of the meeting, that Mr. Horner was at the bedside of his secretary, Arthur P. O'Brien, in Springfield. O'Brien became ill in Washington on Wednesday and the governor brought him back and will remain with him until today.

Horner to Speak Tonight.

Tonight, however, Arvey promised, will see Mr. Horner attending and speaking at the south side rally in Dexter pavilion at the stockyards. The mayor will not be present, due to a previous engagement, but he is expected to attend the west side meetings on Monday and Tuesday, where the governor also will appear.

Most of the state, county, and Municipal court candidates attended the north side meeting, but there were only four speakers—Mayor Kelly, Lucas, Arvey, and James M. Slattery, the governor's closest political adviser and chairman of the commerce commission. Each delivered a variant on the harmony theme.

State's Attorney Courtney was not present, nor was his name mentioned. The prosecutor announced two months ago that he would not attend a gathering where the Nash-Kelly leadership was present. He has kept that word.

Coördinators on Platform.

Prominently on display on the speaker's platform, however, were the eight members of the so-called coordinating committee—four men from each of the Nash-Kelly and Horner-Courtney camps—and among them was one of Courtney's close adherents, Ald. Harry E. Perry [18th].

Flanking Perry were the Hornerites—Slattery, Martin J. O'Brien, committeeman of the 29th ward, and Charles K. Schwartz of the state tax commission. The regular organization's representatives were Arvey, Joseph L. Gill, clerk of the Municipal court; Ald. Terence F. Moran [16th], and Paul Drymalski, member of the board of tax appeals.

Lucas sat on one side of Arvey, the chairman, and the mayor on the other. This was the harmony backdrop on view before the north side precinct captains and pay rollers.

Expects Big Lead Downstate.

Lucas delivered a cheerful speech, full of fealty toward the Roosevelt administration, and praise for the entire Democratic ticket.

"Mayor Kelly," he added, "has placed party principle above personalities, just as has another man, our great governor. I am glad to tell you that we believe the state ticket will come to the Cook county line with a 200,000 vote majority.

"Our opponents are following the politically bankrupt leadership of Hoover, Landon, and John Hamilton. I am fighting them, but not the rank and file of the Republican party."

Mayor Kelly told the workers: "I'm here trying to act as a sales agent for a good commodity which needs practically no selling talk—the Democratic ticket. For example, we have the right kind of man for senator. He comes from a poor family downstate and sat up nights studying law. Scott Lucas will represent President Roosevelt and the President wants him elected to the senate."

"I'm going to vote the straight Democratic ticket, from top to bottom," the mayor concluded.

Arvey, attempting to refute claims by Republicans that there is no real Democratic harmony, tried to dump the charge back into Republican laps.

"What about their harmony?" he demanded. "Their national committeeman [George F. Harding] has not attended a meeting of the Republican county committee and the man in charge of their money bags [C. B. Goodspeed, national party treasurer] has said he won't give any to the ward committeemen.

"We'll take care of our own harmony; let the Republicans do likewise," Arvey said.

Quotes Governor on Harmony.

Slattery told of a telephone conversation with Gov. Horner earlier in the day.

"The governor asked me to tell you," he said, "that he hopes every friend of his in Cook county will work harmoniously for the party."

CALLS NEW DEAL BARBARIC FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Noble W. Lee, Republican candidate for congress in the 2d district, charged last night that the New Deal has reverted to governmental barbarism through dictatorial tendencies and the use of relief funds for political ends. Lee spoke at a meeting of the Men's Club of Hyde Park.

"If any one said ten years ago," he said, "that it would be possible to lose in six short years so much of the liberty it took five centuries to acquire, he would have been dubbed a fool. Now in a world characterized by a mad lust for power by those temporarily in positions of authority, we find our own country becoming involved in a similar maelstrom."

LYONS PROUDLY CITES RECORD IN LABOR'S BEHALF

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Richard J. Lyons, Republican candidate for United States senator, tonight read his labor record and assailed that of his Democratic opponent. He was cheered by thousands here and at Carlinville.

"I'll prove who has the labor record to deserve the support of workers," Lyons said. "I'll do it according to official records."

He read from the weekly news letter compiled by the Illinois State Federation of Labor.

"My record in the Illinois legislature shows that I led the fight for the eight hour law to protect women working in industry," Lyons said.

The following bills also received Lyons' vote: Wage collection law, industrial home work law, compulsory insurance law, unemployment compensation law, amendment to the wage assignment law.

LAWYERS' GUILD INDORSES 8 FOR MUNICIPAL BENCH

Only eight candidates for the Municipal court bench were indorsed by members of the Chicago chapter of the National Lawyers' guild, according to completed tabulations last night.

The eight, who received the necessary minimum one-third vote or more, are, in order, John Gutknecht, John Haas, Lambert K. Hayes, Cecil C. Smith, Samuel Heller, Edward B. Casey, John J. Rooney, and Mary B. Quinn.

Twelve judges are to be elected, and the failure of a full list to win the lawyers' guild approval was regarded as surprising. The vote was announced by Frank J. Delany, chairman of the organization's judiciary committee. George L. Quilici is president.

SLAYER SIKORA TELLS OF FIGHT FOR WIFE'S LOVE

Becomes Alert and Proud on Witness Stand.

said he couldn't be the husband to her that I had been, and he would see what he could do about breaking it off."

"And did he?" Defense Attorney W. W. Smith asked.

"He called me the next morning," Sikora said. "He said he had kept his promise to me, that he would not interfere with my wife any more. He said he wished I would not look on him as I had in the past, and he wished me all the luck in the world."

"And what did you say?" Smith asked.

"So long," Sikora said simply.

"Did he keep his promise?" Smith asked.

"I saw them together eight or ten times within the next three weeks," came Sikora's slow reply.

Confident Manner Is Surprise.

At this point, court adjourned for the day, leaving a courtroom buzzing with excitement. To the curious murder fans who had lined the Criminal court hallway for hours to get advantageous seats at the trial, the testimony of Sikora was a revelation.

All week he had been a drooping, dejected figure beside the counsel table. He had seemed inert, lifeless, except for his nervously twitching hands. He had seemed the quintessence of disintegration.

But the minute he ascended the witness stand, his attitude changed. He became assured, confident, eager.

As he testified, he held his head high, for the most part, the widow's peak in his black hair prominent against his sallow, furrowed forehead. Forked eyebrows gave his dark eyes a look of astonished solemnity. Occasionally he smiled, his rather pug-nose crinkling.

Tells of Romance, Marriage.

Under the sympathetic questioning of his attorney Sikora told of his marriage in August, 1935, to Margaret, then a girl of 18. He had known her only 3 weeks, he said, when they became engaged.

"Did you ever have any quarrels with your wife?" Smith began.

"Nothing of any consequence," he replied.

"Was she affectionate toward you?"

"Very," came his distinct reply.

"And did you have deep affection for her?"

"Yes," looking down at his clasped hands.

But the early part of last April, he testified, as the murder fans leaned forward with heightened interest, he noticed a change in his wife. She was less affectionate. She repulsed his caresses.

Q.—Did you sleep together? A.—O, yes.

Q.—As man and wife? A.—Well, that's one of the changes that took place.

Says She Avoided Him.

Q.—Well, what did you notice? A.—She would avoid me.

Q.—Did you have any sexual relations with her? A. [Slowly.]—Not for some time.

Q.—How long a time had it been up to your separation [on July 9]? A.—O, about three or four months.

Q.—Did you speak to her about this? A. [Firmly.]—Yes, I did.

Q.—Can you tell us about the first date? A.—I can't tell the exact date, but it was in April. She said she didn't feel well.

Q.—How long did that continue? A.—O, until she told me of her intentions, two or three months or so.

Q.—Did you speak to her frequently during that time? A.—Yes, I did.

He noticed, too, he said, that dinner would not always be ready when he came home at night, and occasionally, he testified, he noticed the smell of liquor on her breath.

"Did you talk to her about this?" Smith asked.

Asks Her to Explain.

But then on July 1, he testified, he finally broached the matter again. They were at home in bed.

"Well," Sikora began, when asked by Attorney Smith to tell the whole story. "I wanted to know what was wrong with her. She didn't answer." He was silent a moment, then repeated, "She didn't answer."

Q.—Did you keep on talking to her? A.—I did. I wanted to know what was wrong, why she was avoiding me. She didn't answer. I spoke to her half an hour at least, and she didn't say a word.

"Finally, I asked her if she were awake. She said, 'Yes.' I asked if she heard me. She said, 'Yes.' I asked her to tell me what was wrong.

"She said, 'Rudy, you really want me to tell you?'

"I said, 'Yes, I can't go on like this.'

"She said, 'Well, I'll tell you. I want to call it quits'."

"I asked her if she realized what she was saying. She said she just wanted to call it quits. I wanted to know if I had done anything. I said, 'have I done anything to hurt you? Have I been mean or unkind?"

No Complaint About Him.

"She said, 'no, you've been very good to me. I'm well satisfied. I have no complaint as far as you are concerned.'"

Q. Did you ask her anything else?

A. I asked if there was anything troubling her, if she had taken a liking to any one else.

Q. What did she say? A. She said no. She always insisted [dropping his head] that there was no one she cared for.

He had started talking at 10 p. m., he recalled, and it was 3 a. m. when they finally got out of bed to have a drink. They went to the kitchen for this.

"Well, we tried to drink," Sikora said. "She made a toast that she hoped we would have more drinks together. When we tried to drink we couldn't. She cried. I cried. We finally went back to bed."

Q. Prior to that did you know a man named Edward Solomon? A. Yes, I did. I met him two or three years before.

Meet at Wife's Office.

He had met him three or four times, he said, usually when he drove down to Brantman & Co., where his wife and Solomon both worked, to pick up his wife. As Solomon also lived on the north side, Sikora said, he drove them both home.

Asked about the concert to which Solomon took Margaret in April, he replied that this was done with his consent; that he had to work that night and Margaret, wanting to attend the concert, suggested Solomon take her.

"I said yes," he testified. "I thought it would be all right, as long as he could take care of her in the right way."

Q. Did you talk to Solomon about it? A. Yes, over the telephone. He was very grateful to me for the privilege. He wanted me to rest assured that she would be well taken care of.

After the concert, Solomon came upstairs with Margaret, Sikora testified, and they all sat and chatted, Margaret taking that occasion to "pet, caress, hug and kiss" a toy panda which Solomon had given her.

Takes Panda to Bed.

Q.—Did you have any conversation with Solomon? A.—Yes, I did. I told him she thought more of that panda than she did of me.

Q.—Did you laugh about it? A.—[wearily]—Oh, yes, we all laughed about it.

After a recess, he told of conversations in which Mrs. Elizabeth Boehme, his mother-in-law, told him of Margaret's relations with Solomon. The following day, July 9, he testified, he asked Margaret about it.

Q.—[by Smith]—Did she say she loved him? A.—Yes, I couldn't understand it. She had always been the right kind of a wife to me. I could not understand why she had fallen for him.

It was then, he testified, that she said she wished to leave him for two weeks on the plea that "she needed time to think it over."

Time to Think It Over.

After that, Sikora confessed, he haunted Margaret's new homes. He begged her to return. He kept a light burning at night that she might see it and come back. He took her hot coffee on Sunday morning and sat while she drank it. On many nights, he admitted, "I watched."

Then, accompanied by his mother-in-law, he said, he tried to resort to legal methods to bring her home. He went to see Judge Nuncio J. Bonelli, to the social service bureau of the Women's court, to the federal narcotic bureau, to the state's attorney's office, to the state criminologist.

"They said they couldn't do anything," he said.

At this point Judge Fardy ordered an adjournment until 10 a. m. today.

Mother-in-Law on Stand.

Sikora's mother-in-law was the first witness of the day. Her face was devoid of makeup, sallow beneath her black hat. She wore a white gardenia on her lapel. Mrs. Boehme testified that Sikora had told her he was afraid to put his car in the garage.

"I have a feeling they'll bump me off," she said he told her.

When she asked, "Who?", he replied, "Margaret and Solomon. I'm in the way."

Spectator Makes a Scene.

Near the end of the morning session a spectator, unduly excited, tried to jump out one of the courtroom windows. Bailiffs forcibly dragged him to an outer hallway, where he gave his name as Joseph Levine, 1445 Drake avenue.

Here, however, he suddenly broke away, screaming, "That's what marriage does for you!" and ran down the hall, divesting himself of his outer garments. By the time the bailifs again had him in tow, he was down to undershirt and shorts. This time he was removed to a locked, empty courtroom to await a psychiatric examination.

Women on Trial

MRS. JEAN BROOKS.

Fairfield, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Attorneys for two women hitch-hikers on trial in the murder of an Illinois farmer today fought the introduction of a statement one of the women made concerning the slaying.

Sherif Ernest Burkett of Wayne county had said that Mrs. Jean Brooks, 23 years old, accused her co-defendant, Mrs. Beulah Honeycutt, 25, of killing the farmer, Felix Shannon.

Mrs. Honeycutt denied the accusation and accused Mrs. Brooks, the sherif said.

Circuit Judge W. J. Hill ordered the jury excluded at the opening of the afternoon session of the trial while the admissibility of the statement was argued.

Sherif Burkett, who was on the stand most of the morning, described his investigation of the slaying and the arrest of the two women in Hopkinsville, Ky.

Shannon, who was 58 years old, was found shot to death Aug. 21 in his home near Mount Erie. Witnesses identified the two women, who lived in Tennessee, as hitch-hikers they had seen with Shannon.

MRS. RAE EDELSON.

Although Mrs. Rae Edelson accuses him of being entirely too friendly with a Madam X on their wedding night, Arthur Edelson still loves his wife. He told Judge Philip J. Finnegan so yesterday with such conviction that the judge permitted him to file a separate maintenance suit. Edelson didn't say why, but he told the judge the suit would help him woo her back.

Mrs. Edelson, who is 24 years old, told about Madame X in a separate maintenance suit of her own last Saturday. She was in court yesterday with her attorney, Morris Goldstein, to task temporary maintenance. But her husband's attorney, Norman Becker, protested that she shouldn't have it because she had been married to Edelson only four months. The judge refused her plea. Edelson is in the automobile supply business at 707 East 63d street. Mrs. Edelson lives at 3407 Sunnyside avenue.

POPE DENOUNCES NAZIS; 'STRONG LANGUAGE' USED

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, Oct. 20.—(AP)—A Vatican news service said Pope Pius denounced the Nazis in Germany and Austria in a discourse today before several hundred delegates to the Christian Archeological congress. The pope was said to have used "very strong language" in reference to events in Germany and Austria.

An authorized text of the pope's words was expected to be issued tomorrow. Pending this text authoritative Vatican sources declined to quote the pontiff.

They declared, however, that he made "very grave references" about the situation. It was understood the pope's remarks were directed in part at the recent attack by a mob of Nazis on Cardinal Theodore Innitzer's palace in Vienna.

TWO N. Y. ROBBERS ACT AS CLERKS IN STORE; STEAL $10,000 IN GEMS

New York, Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Frank B. Lansberg of 2012 Jackson boulevard, Chicago, walked into a jewelry shop just off the main lobby of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel today.

"I want a crystal put in my watch," said Lansberg to a man who appeared to be a clerk.

"It will be ready in fifteen minutes," said the man.

Mr. Lansberg walked out. The man put the watch in his pocket and walked out, too. So did another man, who had been standing behind a counter. With them they took jewels valued at $10,000, which they had scooped up after binding and gagging three clerks just before Mr. Lansberg entered. The two robbers overlooked $150,000 worth of gems in an open safe in the rear of the shop.

WANTON KILLERS SOUGHT IN POLICE GUARD'S SLAYING

Shot in Back by Bandits, Who Flee with $2,000.

Police directed by Capt. George Lynch of the Austin station were searching last night for two brutal gunmen who shot and killed Policeman John A. Olson during a $2,000 robbery earlier in the day.

The slaying occurred in view of shoppers and storekeepers at North and Harding avenues. Policeman Olson was escorting Harold Osmundsen, cashier in the Metropolitan Life Insurance company branch office at 3909 North avenue, to the Pioneer Trust and Savings bank at 4000 North avenue. Osmundsen was carrying a black satchel containing the $2,000 which was to be deposited.

Grabs Money and Runs.

At Harding avenue, half a block east of the bank, a young man stepped out from a doorway. He pointed a revolver at Osmundsen, growled "Give me that dough," and grabbed the satchel. Then he darted south in Harding avenue.

As Policeman Olson began to chase the robber, the second gunman, who had been standing gazing idly into a store window, followed and struck the policeman on the head with a heavy blackjack. Although momentarily stunned, Policeman Olson attempted to catch up with the first robber.

Bandit Shoots Him in Back.

Olson had run about twenty feet into Harding avenue when the second bandit fired, hitting him in the back. Then the killer sped across North avenue and disappeared into an alley half a block north. The first robber meanwhile escaped by running into a passageway. Policeman Olson died shortly after he was taken to the Danish-American hospital.

He was 45 years old and had been a member of the force for 16 years. He lived at 3810 Neva avenue. Surviving are his widow, Dorothy, and three children, Richard, Alice, and La Verne.

ALDERMEN ASK NO WASTING OF SURPLUS FUNDS

Members of the city council finance committee charged yesterday that many city department heads overload their budgets at the beginning of each year and then use the surplus at the end of the year to finance their favorite projects.

"If they have salvage money the city ought to keep it and not eat it up," Ald. James Bowler [25th] declared.

The issue was raised when the board of health asked for the transfer of $823 from rat extermination to fuel, light, and power and $5,000 from country dairy inspection to material and supplies.

Ald. Roger Kiley [37th] said: "We have demands for rat extermination every day. We shouldn't take money from that fund." And Ald. George D. Kells [28th] thought every ward office should be furnished with rat poison. The requests were referred to a subcommittee.

FIFTEEN POLLS OFFICIALS TO GO ON TRIAL TODAY

Five election officials of the 33d precinct, 24th ward, were arraigned yesterday on contempt charges arising from alleged frauds in the primary last April. Judge Edmund K. Jarecki of the County court set their trial for today, when ten other election officials of the same ward, in the 35th and 58th precincts, will go on trial.

The 33d precinct officials arraigned yesterday are Paul Ledvosky, 1459 South Hamlin avenue, Democratic judge; Rose Fishman, 1518 South Lawndale avenue and Eugene Steiner, 1505 South Ridgeway avenue, Republican judges; Albert Brooks, 3738 West 15th street, Democratic clerk; and Estelle Litwin, 1522 South Lawndaye avenue, Republican clerk.

HOLDUP SLAYER PUT TO DEATH IN CHAIR AT JOLIET

John Jelliga, 33 years old, a former mill hand in Whiting, Ind., was executed in the electric chair in the state penitentiary at Joliet shortly after midnight this morning. He was put to death for the murder of Edward Pansa, a Will county farmer, last December.

Warden Joseph Ragen announced that the execution was to be "no Roman holiday," and fewer than eighty persons saw Jelliga's death. He went to the chair calmly, accompanied by a prison chaplain. Earlier he had feasted on a chicken dinner.

On Dec. 9, 1937, Jelliga and Michael Munjas of Indiana Harbor invaded the Pansa home near Crete, stole $77, and then killed Pansa. They also shot his wife, Huldah. Although gravely wounded, she crawled over half a mile of icy road for help. The killers were quickly seized. Munjas confessed and then hanged himself. Jelliga was tried and convicted. The Supreme court twice refused to intervene for him. Jelliga was married and the father of two little girls.

QUESTION FOUR ON AFFAIRS IN KONKOWSKI WARD

Four men were questioned yesterday at the state's attorney's office in the investigation of affairs in the 26th ward, where Ald. Frank E. Konkowski has been supplanted as Democratic campaign chief. Assistant State's Attorney Mal Coghlan said the four men could shed no light on turbulent conditions in the ward.

Konkowski received visits from eighteen young men Wednesday night in his real estate office at 1030 Chicago avenue. He denied that the visits had any connection with reports that his troubles in recent weeks were the result of failure to get names sponsored by his constituents on the recently posted list of eligible candidates for the police force. On Sept. 22 and 30 the windows of the office were struck by bullets.

Coghlan was at Konkowski's office Wednesday night, but got no information from the visitors. Joseph T. Baran, sanitary district trustee, has been appointed Democratic campaign manager in the 26th ward for the Nov. 8 election. Konkowski, who is the ward committeeman as well as alderman, has stated that he will be out of the city until after the election.

CONFESSED SPY TELLS WOMAN'S AID IN NAZI RING

Her Admission of Part in Plot Also Is Read.

New York, Oct. 20.—[Special.]—A confessed spy testifying in federal court today attempted to implicate a woman accomplice in a Nazi German ring which plotted to steal military secrets vital to the United States.

The witness, Guenther Gustav Rumrich, a deserter from the United States army, said the woman, Johanna Hofmann, had admitted to federal bureau of investigation agents that she was a member of the espionage ring.

Testifying for the fourth day as a government witness, Rumrich said Miss Hofmann's confession was made after federal agents confronted her with the spy ring's code key.

Hairdresses on Liner.

Miss Hofmann, who is 26 years old, was a hairdresser on the German liner Europa. On trial with her are Erich Glaser, a former army private, and Otto Voss, a German born aviation mechanic.

The confession described by Rumrich was read into the records over the objections of George C. Dix, Miss Hofmann's attorney. The document quoted her as saying that Karl Schlueter, a fugitive defendant, had told her that the Nazi spy ring would pay $1,000 for the plans of the United States naval aircraft carriers Yorktown and Enterprise.

Miss Hofmann also was quoted as admitting that she carried stolen military secrets to Germany on the Europa.

Tells of Letter Carrying.

Rumrich testified that she admitted carrying letters to Germany for Dr. Ignatz T. Griebl, now a fugitive in Berlin, whose home in New York is alleged to have been a clearing house for the spy ring's dealings.

Griebl, a former lieutenant in the United States Army medical reserve, fled to Germany last May a few days before he and seventeen others were indicted in the espionage inquiry.

"I met Johanna in the F. B. I. offices in New York after my arrest," Rumrich told the jury, "and explained to her that I had admitted my guilt.

"She didn't believe it. She said it was incredible. Later she accused me of being an American spy. She used a German phrase which means: 'Birds of a feather flock together.'"

Passport Plot Described.

The witness said she later admitted her part as a messenger to transport to Germany fifty United States passport blanks—which Nazi agents were to use in entering soviet Russia. Rumrich had plotted to obtain these passports, and it was the frustration of this scheme last Feb. 15 which exposed the spy ring.

"On Feb. 14," he testified, "I called the passport bureau, represented myself as a government official, and requested Mr. Hoyt to send me fifty passport blanks.

"Mr. Hoyt said that a passport was an important document and that my request was unusual. I instructed him to forward them to a hotel."

Two federal agents brought a dummy package of passport blanks to the hotel and arrested Rumrich, the witness testified.

Earlier in the day Rumrich testified that Glaser, his close friend in army days in the Panama Canal Zone, demanded $100 for stealing the army air force secret communication code.

"Did you tell him why you wanted the code book?" asked Lester C. Dunigan, assistant United States attorney.

"Yes," replied Rumrich, "I did."

Rumrich also said that Glaser turned over to him, without a request, a list of the coast guard stations in the United States.

PLAN NAVY DAY CEREMONIES AT LAKES STATION

Chicago's observance of Navy day next Wednesday will include a program at the Great Lakes Naval Training station and airplane maneuvers over the loop. Rear Admiral Hayne Ellis, commanding the 9th naval district, said yesterday that thousands of persons are expected to view the ceremonies at the station.

Jim Rose, former navy man and airplane pilot, will trace smoke signs in the sky over the loop from 12:15 to 12:30 p. m. Then other airplanes will fly in formation. These performances will be repeated at the naval station an hour later.

There will be a sham battle between 1,000 naval recruits and a detachment of 500 from Fort Sheridan on Ross field at the station. Admiral Ellis will then review a parade of navy men. The public is invited to the station from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Navy day.

PERSONALTY TAX LIST IN HYDE PARK DROPS 18 MILLION

Assessor John S. Clark yesterday reported a 1938 personal property assessment for Hyde Park township of $60,949,992, or $17,961,997 below the 1937 assessment. Hyde Park is one of the eight Chicago townships.

The decrease was attributed chiefly to the new method of valuing intangible personal property. Ten per cent of the full value of stocks and bonds is taken as the assessing value in place of the 20 per cent factor used last year.

A total of 35,222 returns were filed from Hyde Park compared with 30,896 for 1937, Clark reported. Personalty assessments against corporations were higher, and those against individuals were lower.

Mrs. Cleaveland Putnam Also Sues for Divorce

Mrs. Jacqueline Abbott Findlater Putnam filed suit for divorce yesterday against Cleveland Putnam, socially prominent Lake Forest resident. Her bill, charging desertion, was filed in the Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan, less than twenty-four hours after Putnam had sued her for divorce on a desertion charge. Mrs. Putnam said she returned from Massachusetts to file her suit, but denied deserting her husband. Putnam lives at 440 East Wisconsin avenue in the suburb.

GERMAN CONSUL SEEKS BAIL FOR 4 FACING SPY TRIAL

Charge of Taking Photos in Canal Zone Aired.

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Kurt Lindenberg, German consul, and other friends tonight sought $55,000 required for bail for four youthful Germans bound over today for trial on charges of violating the United States espionage act.

The defendants were held in the Panamanian city of Colon pending trial in the Cristobal District Federal court before Judge B. Gardner. They were accused of photographing fortifications in the Canal Zone. The four were arrested Sunday.

In today's preliminary hearing in Magistrate's court, Judge Edward J. P. Tatelman overruled a defense motion for dismissal. He held one of the suspects, Hans Friedrich Schackow, 26 years old, in $25,000 bail.

The others were held in bail of $10,000. They are: Ingeborg Waltrunt Gutman, 19, a secretary; Gilbert Wilhelm Gross, 26, and Ernst Robert Edward Khurig, 29.

Says Batteries Were Photographed.

Private H. C. Steelman, a government witness, testified that the prisoners inspected batteries and took pictures of a channel and gun batteries at Fort Randolph and Caleta Point.

Lieut. Col. O. L. Spiller, commanding the 1st coast artillery regiment at Fort Randolph, said the Germans' pictures could be highly useful to a foreign power.

He said the Germans traveled along a road entirely within the military reservation leading to anti-aircraft positions as well as searchlights and batteries.

Pictures Show Shore Line.

Lieut. Col. Spiller said the Germans' sea views also showed the character of the rocky shore line and indicated a small, clear channel for landing parties at this season of the year when the seas are calm.

The first witness, Private Paul L. Ezelle, testified the prisoners denied having cameras when they entered the Fort Randolph military reservation. When arrested two hours later they admitted possession of a miniature camera, he asserted.

AFFIRM SENTENCE FOR C. J. MORLEY ON FRAUD CHARGE

A five year prison sentence imposed on Clarence J. Morley, former governor of Colorado, was affirmed yesterday by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Morley was convicted in Indianapolis, Ind., in July, 1937. He was charged with using the mails to defraud in the operation of an Indianapolis securities company bearing his name. Testimony showed that investors lost more than $400,000. Four partners were convicted with Morley.

The decision upholding Morley's sentence was written by Judge Evan A. Evans. It declared that the Morley company "engaged" in nothing but fraudulent transactions."

FRANCE NABS ONE OF OWN SLEUTHS IN SPY ROUNDUP

Accused of Deals with Italian Agents.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Counter-espionage agents working with police tonight were piecing together the parts of what they termed a spy ring for Italy which included a Paris police inspector.

Investigators in Paris and Lyons were questioning four men arrested last night and today. In the order of their arrest the prisoners are:

Adrian Grosso, Italian consular agent at Moutiers.

Confesses Giving Information.

A headquarters announcement said Rakowsky had confessed to furnishing confidential information to an Italian secret agent over a period of eighteen months. Detectives said Bellavia and Rakowsky admitted working together. The police inspector and Bellavia were being questioned here. Grosso and Di Resta were taken to Lyons.

Investigators identified Di Resta as the leader of a movement among Fascist Italians living in the frontier departments of Savoie and Haute-Savoie.

The drive against the supposed espionage ring coincided with a government order forbidding foreigners to settle in the Paris region in the future without special authorization, apparently in an attempt to prevent secret agents from posing as refugees.

Frontier guards also have been reinforced in the campaign against spies.

Communists Make New Demands.

Already harassed by a Communist threat to call a strike of government employés, Premier Edouard Daladier tonight was reported to be under pressure from Great Britain to come to an amicable understanding with Germany on major differences. He urged Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet to speed up negotiations for some type of Franco-German settlement.

Daladier's domestic troubles were complicated by the fact that the communists made fresh demands for wage increases as he was apparently laying the groundwork for a new national union government by trying to make his peace with Socialist Leon Blum. His own political needs, as well as Britain's urgings, were reported to be behind his anxiety for a permanent peace with the reich.

The strongly organized Public Service Workers' union warned Daladier today it had decided on "action" if its demands for wage increases to offset rising living costs were shelved.

The communists, members of the Popular Front, with the Socialists, would be omitted from a new national union government were Blum and Daladier, leader of the more conservative radical Socialists, to settle their differences.

Fugitive from St. Charles Is Captured in Burglary

DeWitt Kandel, 16 years old, 1857 Loomis street, who escaped from the St. Charles School for Boys eleven days ago, and John Tulo, also 16, of 1021 West 18th street, a former ward of the Juvenile authorities, were held in the Juvenile home last night. They were arrested in an attempted burglary of the drug store at 1900 South Halsted street, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rakstis.

FIRST U. S. SOLDIERS IN FRENCH TRENCHES 21 YEARS AGO TODAY

New York, Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The twenty-first anniversary of the entry of the American troops into the trenches on the western front in France in the world war will be celebrated tomorrow at Fort Hamilton, Governor's Island, Fort Wadsworth, and other army posts where First division troops are now stationed. Fort Hamilton is the present headquarters of the First division, whose men entered the Somerviller sector in France on Oct. 21, 1917.

Brig. Gen. Walter C. Short, commanding general of the First, issued the following order: "Twenty-one years have passed since our division, new and untried, challenged the might of an enemy for the preservation of our country. On us fell the glory of being the first American troops selected for this task, on us rested the responsiblity of raising the gage of battle, never to let it fall until our work was done."

SLUGGED AND ROBBED OF $25.

Jacob Frank, 65 years old, was slugged with a revolver yesterday by one of three bandits who robbed him of $25 in his clothing store at 238 North avenue.

CZECHS OUTLAW REDS AND CLOSE 22 NEWSPAPERS

Jewish Refugees Seized by Prague Police.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Indicating a "turn to the right" in the political philosophy of the Czechoslovak government, police today outlawed the communist party and suspended about twenty-two communist newspapers in three provinces—Bohemia, Moravia, and Silesia.

Police Round Up Jews.

Beset by various problems, not the least of which was caring for refugees from Sudetenland occupied by Germany under the Munich accord, Prague began rounding up Jews. They were detained on government order that all refugees must register pending a decision as to where they will resettle.

Officials explained the government did not want to concentrate large masses of refugees in the Prague area. To do so would destroy economic balance, they said. Permanent residents of the city said the refugees were attempting to take over some of the business and commercial life.

100,000 Hungarians Demonstate.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 20.—(AP)—More than 100,000 excited Hungarians demonstrated in the center of Budapest tonight. They demanded a common Polish-Hungarian frontier and shouted "Give us arms!"

The demonstration was held before the statue of the Polish general, Bem, who led Polish-Hungarian volunteers against the Austrians and Russians in 1848.

Several speakers demanded the dismemberment of Ruthenia, the autonomous Czechoslovakian state, in the face of claims by Hungary and Poland for territory.

Awaits "Final Offer."

Hungary is expecting a "final Czech territorial offer" within the next 24 hours after days of unsuccessful conversations with the Czechoslovak government on the minorities question.

It was stated at the foreign office that the new proposal again would be rejected, should Hungary's demands not be fulfilled 100 per cent.

In that case, it was believed Hungary would ask Germany and Italy once more to force the Czechoslovak government to extend its offer, or would make another appeal to the four powers which effected peace over the Sudeten problem to call a conference on the dispute.

Germany Cautions Hungary.

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The Hitler government raised the stop sign against Hungary today in a friendly but unmistakable objection to any hasty partition of what is left of the republic of Czechoslovakia.

ILLINOISIAN PICKS 102 BUSHELS OF CORN IN 6½ HOURS

Kankakee, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Merritt E. Hayden, a Yellowhead township farmer, set the pace for Illinois huskers this week by hand picking 102 bushels of corn in 6½ hours. The veteran picker celebrated his sixty-sixth birthday by gathering corn from 5:30 a. m. to 1 p. m., taking one hour for lunch.

Old and young huskers are pounding the bangboards throughout Kankakee county trying to equal Hayden's record. The weighing of the corn was witnessed by his relatives and friends.

The unofficial corn picking champion made his record in a field that averaged more than 71 bushels to the acre on his farm. Hayden is a member of the Hayden family—now totaling more than 250 in Kankakee county, Ill., and Lake county, Ind.—that has been raising corn in this section since 1873.

STRIKE TIES UP 55 FREIGHT TRUCK LINES IN IOWA

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 21 [Friday].(AP)—Leo Quinn, secretary of the truck drivers' union [A. F. of L.], said 1,000 central Iowa motor freight drivers and warehousemen left trucks and loading docks idle last midnight.

Quinn said the men went on strike when 55 operators of transport and transfer motor truck lines failed to accept an agreement covering wages and hours. Trucks of eight transport contract firms operating out of Des Moines and of 47 transfer companies running trucks in the state were tied up, Quinn said.

During the three hours before the time set earlier in the day for the strike 15 operators signed the union agreement, Quinn said.

CONSIDER NAMING HEAD OF TURKEY IF ATATURK DIES

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The full council of Turkish ministers met today to fulfill constitutional provisions for an interim presidency in the face of President Kemal Ataturk's grave illness.

The meeting was held in Dolma Eagtche palace where the dictator lay at the point of death. The purpose, it was said, was to "decide constitutional steps dictated by the continuation and gravity" of Ataturk's condition.

Under the constitution the president of the national assembly assumes the interim presidency in case of resignation, death or prolonged illness of the chief of state. The assembly president, Abdul Halik Renda, joined the ministers in today's meeting.

This morning's official bulletin said Ataturk's general condition was improved.

GERMAN TROOPS KILL 5 CZECHS IN BORDER CLASH

Hitler Boasts of Conquest on Sudetenland Trip.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—While Reichsfuehrer Hitler resumed his inspection tour of the newly conquered Sudetenland today, the first clash between Czechs and Germans since the area's occupation by German troops was reported from northern Bohemia. Five Czechs were killed and one German frontier guard was wounded.

The Germans said that a patrol of fifty Czechs, under the command of an army officer, crossed the new Czech-German border near Lobositz and occupied a frontier village on the German side after German troops had departed.

Say Villagers Were Molested.

"The Czechs, among whom were some wearing the uniform of the Czech army, molested the inhabitants of the village, demanded the removal of swastika flags and the surrender of hostages and Hitler's pictures," the Germans reported. "Repeated attempts were made at plundering."

It was stated that German customs officials and a platoon of guards "armed with carbines and automatic pistols quickly succeeded in driving the Czechs over the border. On the Czech side the invaders reopened fire, which was answered by German troops."

[The Czechoslovak general staf at Prague said six persons were killed in disorders provoked by Sudeten Germans. It said four persons died during rifle attacks by Sudeten German free corps members on a Czech military patrol at Zelechovice in northern Bohemia. An official statement said the mayor of Zelechovice became the fifth victim when he was killed after the battle was over. The sixth person reported killed was a farmer in the commune of Vazacka. The general staf said he was working in his fields when a German soldier fired on him.]

Boasts of His Conquest.

Hitler in an address at Krumau in the Bohemian forest proudly proclaimed that he had conquered for Germany "10 million Germans and more than 100,000 square kilometers [38,610 square miles] of territory [Austria and Sudetenland] without the stroke of a sword."

He referred to Germans outside the borders of the reich who "were not as fortunate as the Sudetens in possessing German citizenship and yet were prepared to sacrifice everything for the German community."

An appeal was made to Hitler to mediate the Arab-British conflict in Palestine by the Association of Arabic Students in Berlin.

16 FRANCISCAN MONKS JAILED IN GERMANY FOR 'STIRRING UP HATRED'

SALZBURG, Germany, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Sixteen Franciscan monks today were sentenced to jail terms ranging from ten days to one month on charges of "incitement to hatred" and "malicious damage to property."

The charges were brought against them following an incident last Friday in which the monks were alleged to have hurled furnishings from third-floor cells of their monastery in protest against an ejection order.

The monastery building is state property and notice was served on the Franciscan order last July to evacuate the third floor, which was required for GSP [secret police] offices. The new occupants came to take possession last Friday.

Love Passes a Stoplight, but Wins a Judge's Heart

St. Petersburg, Fla., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Franklin King, young milk truck driver who was in municipal court today on a charge of driving through a stop light, made this explanation: 'I had just proposed to my girl and just when we reached the place where the stop sign must have been—well—she said 'yes.'" Judge B. T. Sauls didn't hesitate. "Young man," he said, "under the circumstances I guess I'd have forgotten to look for stop signs, too. Case dismissed."

HELD FOR ROBBERY.

Louis Berger, 18 years old, was held to the grand jury yesterday by Judge Lambert K. Hayes for robbing Joseph Kodish, 1309 South St. Louis avenue, of a watch and ring.

MAKE VACCINE TESTS IN FIGHT ON PNEUMONIA

New York, Oct. 20.—[Special.]—A vaccine for the prevention of pneumonia is a possibility of the near future, states a report of the United States public health service made public today.

The report was on a series of tests made in Civilian Conservation corps camps to determine the value of a vaccine originated by Dr. Lloyd D. Felton, senior surgeon of the service.

The vaccine was developed under grants made by the influenza commission of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, the pneumonia fund of Harvard university and other private agencies.

About 30,000 persons escaped death from pneumonia and influenza from September, 1937, to August, 1938, it was stated, due in no small measure to the more extensive use of serum and other modern aids in the treatment of pneumonia. The estimate was based on Metropolitan Life Insurance company figures.

SYMPHONIES BY STARLIGHT

By CALEB

CULMINATING, on September 11th, in a concourse of one hundred and twenty thousand listeners to a super-orchestra of three hundred musicians, under the baton of Dr. Frederick Stock—the open-air concert series in Grant Park terminated its third season with the sixty-seventh performance of the past summer.

Nowhere else in America, nowhere else in the world, have the best producers of the finest music been represented on such a stupendous scale—and the sponsors and participants are deserving of the warmest felicitations on their success in this unique contribution to the "universalizing" of music.

Just how tremendous that success has been, in terms of happier thoughts, nobler moments, loftier spirits, and deeper acquaintance with beauty, brought to untold hearts and homes, no one can know or say. The "returns" from such excursions into the domain of melody have no yardstick—they transcend accountancy.

But we do know that for tens of thousands of strangers within our gates, and hundreds of other thousands seated under the stars over Lake Michigan, or by parlor console and bedroom receiver, these nightly sessions with the Masters have been "a thing of beauty and a joy forever"—are of that immortal merchandise which money cannot buy.

Indeed, few moments—save those that inspire composers and poets, perhaps, in the act of creation—compare for sublimity with one of these concert hours at the close of day, when the strains of Mendelssohn, Beethoven, Tschaikowsky, Wagner, Herbert or Grieg flame from the golden shell of the musicians' stand out over a sea of silent and upturned faces lost against the glimmer of classic marble and mysterious sky beyond.

In such moments we are conscious of a benediction, a tranquillity—may we not even say, "A peace that passeth all understanding"?—which life offers rarely, and mere workaday effort seldom or never yields.

Plan next summer, if you haven't yet done so, to know the true spell, the enduring spiritual glory of Music under auspices where all the accessories to music's sublimity are themselves assembled—by being personally present at, and a listener to, these Grant Park open-air concerts. In these rendezvous with the greatest contemporary artists of voice and instrument, as well as the premier composers of all time, Chicago has given to the world a monument to civic spirit not reared with hands, but nonetheless eternal in the heavens!

DISARMED ARAB REBELS SENT TO DETENTION CAMP

Jerusalem Quiet as British Continue Cleanup.

JERUSALEM, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Small groups of Arab prisoners, rounded up and disarmed in the British occupation of the old city section of Jerusalem, were herded today into a concentration camp on the site of Herod's palace.

The concentration camp is on Frank mountain, between Jerusalem and Bethlehem to the south.

The Holy Land lapsed into an ominous uneasy peace while the British Coldstream guards continued poking into the dark recesses of the old city to clean out the last vestiges of rebel rule. The occupation started yesterday after Arab snipers had held most of the old city for four days. Arab casualties in connection with the occupation were announced officially as nineteen killed and twenty-five wounded.

Arabs Cut Telegraph Wires.

Scarcely had the British retaken most of the old city when Arabs in other parts of Palestine severed telegraph lines. The government had one emergency line working.

Two Arabs were killed and several others wounded after they set fire to the international oil pipe line near Tulkarm. Three Arabs were killed near the Raselain railway station when they attempted to ambush a Jewish truck.

Presaging a sweeping cleanup of Palestine, Maj. Gen. Robert H. Haining, commanding British forces of pacification, issued this order:

"Soldiers! On the threshold of your sacred mission in retaking the birthplace of three great monotheistic religions of the world [Christianity, Judaism, Mohammedanism] remember one single misdeed or misstep by a single soldier will stain the proud escutcheon of the British Empire. I am sure you will all do your duty in the tradition of England's reverence for holy places and her respect for all religions."

Rebels Organize Reserves.

The lack of major incidents elsewhere in Palestine led to a general belief that Arab insurgents in other sections were biding their time. Authorities directing the operations of 20,000 British soldiers hastened plans for occupation of all areas ruled by the rebels, including Bethlehem.

This will be a tremendous task, for the rebel command, headed by Gen. Abdul Haj Mohammed, has forced the headmen of all Arab villages to list able-bodied males for conscription, giving the irregulars a reserve force of between 20,000 to 30,000 men.

Haj Mohammed, a former Turkish army officer trained in the old imperial German army, entered Palestine secretly six months ago and took over organization of the Arab bands waging guerrilla warfare.

Washington Their Example.

He has divided the Holy Land into five strategic districts, each zone of operations for a rebel force commanded by one of his lieutenants.

Haj Mohammed called a war council recently in northern Palestine and told his followers that the Arab world, like the American colonies, was fighting for independence from a great power. He exhorted the tribesmen to take George Washington as an example of patriotism and courage and to emulate his success.

Gen Drum, who has commanded the 6th corps since September, 1937, will leave Nov. 1 to take charge of the 2d corps area at Governor's Island, New York. His successor here will be Maj. Gen. Stanley H. Ford, now commanding the 7th corps at Omaha, Neb.

GERMANS CLASH WITH ESTONIANS ON NAZI SALUTE

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

TALLINN, Estonia, Oct. 20.—The Hitler salute, which was recently adopted by a large portion of Estonia's German speaking minority, has caused resentment in wide circles here and has resulted in a diplomatic incident.

At a concert given by a German choir, one-third of the audience, composed largely of Estonian Germans, gave the Hitler salute. Newspapers declared the salute was inconsistent with the country's customs. The German envoy was reported to have told the foreign ministry that those raising their arms were "Reich Germans" who were obliged to give the Hitler salute.

Labor Group of 18 Nations Hits Munich Peace Accord

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The International Labor Executive group, representing eighteen countries, today made public a resolution assailing the Munich peace accord and urging a "regrouping of the forces of liberty and justice in Europe as recommended by President Roosevelt."

ITALY WELCOMES 10,000 SOLDIERS HOME FROM WAR

King Reviews Troops Who Fought in Spain.

NAPLES, Italy, Oct. 20.—(AP)—With 10,000 Italian legionnaires landed today on their native soil after a year and a half of service in the Spanish civil war, Italian newspapers said less than 20,000 of their comrades remained in Spain.

The press cited 40,000 as the number that had gone to Spain to fight for the cause of the Fascist insurgents. It said that some 3,000 were killed while 9,000 others were wounded. Two thousand of those injured will remain crippled.

Music, flags and flowers gave Naples a festive atmosphere as the fighting men streamed off the troop ships Sardegna, Piemonte, Liguria, and Calabria. They paraded to the Naples railway station. They were cheered by throngs of Neapolitans and reviewed by King Victor Emmanuel; their commander, Gen. Berti; Crown Prince Humbert, and Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano.

Rebel Envoy Kisses General.

Before the men left the transports, Pedro Garcia Conde, insurgent ambassador to Italy, boarded the Sardegna, where he embraced and kissed Gen. Berti. Previously he had sent a message to the general expressing his government's gratitude for "precious aid in liberating Spain from the bolshevist scourge."

Gen. Berti wirelessed Generalissimo Francisco Franco, rebel commander in chief, as follows: "The Italian volunteers feel great grief in leaving the noble country to which they are bound by unbreakable chains—ideals, blood, and memories."

5 Chicagoans Quit War.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Eighteen American volunteers from the Spanish government's international brigade arrived in Paris today from Barcelona. They will stay in Paris until they sail for the United States early next week. Among them were Joseph Nolan, Robert Zimmer, Oscar Nees, Joseph Hamburger, and Patrick Read, all of Chicago.

BRITAIN ARMING FOR POST-HITLER ERA, HOARE SAYS

CLACTON-ON-SEA, England, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Sir Samuel Hoare, British home secretary, tonight answered Germans who criticized Great Britain for continuing its war preparedness after the Munich agreement.

"I must be prepared for some [German] successor who may not hold his [Reichsfuehrer Hitler] views," Hoare told a political meeting. The home secretary said he believed in the peace pledge Hitler made in Munich just as Hitler said he believed those of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Britain and Premier Edouard Daladier of France.

Sir Samuel is a member of the "inner cabinet" which advised Chamberlain on the pre-Munich crisis over Czechoslovakia. His speech was regarded as the British answer to Hitler's speech on Oct. 9 in Saarbruecken. In it Hitler said Germany wanted peace, but at the same time was preparing herself defensively more than ever. His reason was that Chamberlain's successors in Britain may not have Chamberlain's attitude toward Germany.

FLYING COLUMN ELUDES CHINESE; NEARS CANTON

Japanese Risk Defeat to Speed Campaign.

HONGKONG, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The defenders of Canton hastily dug trenches and built barricades in the streets tonight, apparently anticipating a last ditch struggle with Japanese troops within that South China metropolis.

Northeast of the city a fast moving Japanese mechanized force was reported advancing down the highway from Tsungfa, a town forty-seven miles away. Semi-official Japanese reports said this column was within twenty miles of Canton.

They asserted the column had sidestepped Chinese forces arrayed near Tsungfa, and indicated it was expected to strike a lightning blow at the primary defenses of Canton.

It was asserted that this advanced "flying" column was risking defeat at the hands of the numerically superior Kwangtung provincial troops by its rapid "back door" campaign.

Advances 90 Miles.

A Japanese communique said the "back door" campaign also had developed a drive toward the Canton-Hankow railway. This apparently was an effort to cut off Canton from eleventh hour aid from the interior.

If the Japanese advices were true, the mechanized force driving southwest from Tsungfa had advanced about 90 miles since Japanese transports landed the South China expeditionary force at Bias bay eight days ago.

Japs 40 Miles from Hankow.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Swiftly striking Japanese forces were reported today to be threatening the second line of Hankow's defenses in a drive up both banks of the Yangtze river from Hwangshihkang, 50 air miles from the Chinese provisional capital. Hwangshihkang was captured yesterday in a three hour assault by land forces and marines.

The Japanese reported launching a gunboat attack against Ocheng, within forty miles of Hankow. Japanese columns pushing westward south of the Yangtze river advanced to the walls of Tayeh, forty miles from the Canton-Hankow railway.

Hankow, provisional Chinese capital, a city of 800,000, lost its last means of transportation today with the departure for inland points of 15,000 jinrikisha pullers and their vehicles. Automobiles have been placed under the control of defense authorities. Hankow has no street cars or buses.

A flight of Japanese bombers was said to have destroyed several Chinese planes and damaged railway tracks, an airdrome, and supply trains at Changsha, Hunan province, southwest of Hankow. Chinese said 200 were killed in the raid.

TYPHOON HITS TWO JAP CITIES; PUT DEAD AT 226

TOKIO, Oct. 21 [Friday].—(AP)—An unseasonable typhoon of major velocity struck Tokio and Yokohama today.

Reuters [British news agency] said 226 persons were killed and 590 injured in the storm.

The Reuters report said thousands of homes collapsed and were washed away in floods in the Kagoshima district of Kyushu, southernmost main island of Japan. The typhoon then struck the Tokio and Yokohama districts. An estimated 35,000 were said to have been rendered homeless.

The Japanese freighter Toten Maru and the British freighter Hatterlock snapped their lines and grounded, but the crews were believed safe.

Truck Driver Starts Row in Cafe; Shot by Owner

George Toll called police last night to eject an obstreperous truck driver from his café at 54 East Cermak road. Before they arrived the trucker, Wilbur Dean, 26 years old, of New Britain, Conn., knocked Toll to the floor. The café owner got a gun and fired. One shot struck Dean in the thigh. Seriously wounded, he was taken to St. Luke's hospital. Dean's helper, Lyle Ross, Fort Dodge, Ia., was jailed by central police.

BRITISH ARREST IRISH REPUBLICAN PLOT SUSPECTS

Hunt Stolen Explosives in London Raids.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Scotland Yard inspectors tonight were searching for high explosive caches in and near London following the arrest of two Irish Republicans with a stolen car containing two barrels of a high explosive.

The police raided homes of active Irish Republicans in the Ilford and Stratford districts. A number of persons were arrested. Their indentities were not disclosed.

Believes Mystery Solved.

Scotland Yard believes it has solved the mystery that has worried it for months—the theft of large quantities of gelignite and other powerful explosives from quarries and storehouses.

The possibility of plans for a wave of terrorism on behalf of a "united Ireland" was discussed, but just what the police have discovered is a secret.

Discovery of the explosives is given a sinister interpretation by some Britons, coming on top of Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's pronouncement that Ireland must get Northern Ireland [Ulster].

Suspect Irish Plot.

They know that the Irish have resorted to violence before and this makes them nervous. These persons suspect that the outlawed Irish republican army, which still exists in underground form, may have decided to take matters into its own hands to show that it can get what De Valera merely asks for.

Newspapers are shy of the story.

King Carol to Visit London; May Ask for Huge Loan

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Oct. 20.—(AP)—King Carol and Crown Prince Michael will leave Rumania Nov. 5 for a state visit to London. It was believed that, besides discussing the European political situation, the Rumanian ruler would stress the need for a huge loan to continue his country's rearmament.

LEO HAS A SYSTEM AS A WRESTLER, ALSO AS A PEEPING TOM

A machinist's helper by day and a Peeping Tom by night, Leo Diksas, 19 years old, peered through the curtains into a first floor flat at 3016 Parnell avenue.

Policeman John Trinka, pride of the Deering street station wrestling squad, caught him, or thought he had, until he found himself on his back. Then the policeman resorted to a jiu-jitsu hold and subdued Diksas, who lives at 3341 Lithuanica avenue.

"You're pretty good," Diksas told him at the sex offense bureau yesterday. "But I was champion in high school—I had a system." As a peeper he also had a system. He had a list of what he called good windows. Best ones, he said, were where red heads lived.

MERCY SLAYER NEAR DEATH OF HEART AILMENT

Hempstead, N. Y., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Henry Johnson, who heeded his wife's plea for release from suffering and killed her, is near death in the Meadowbrook hospital here. He is suffering from a heart ailment and from grief for his wife.

She had been ill of cancer for several years and had begged him to kill her. Last Oct. 1 he attached a garden hose to a kitchen jet, strung the hose to her bedroom in their home in Hewlett, and turned on the gas.

The Nassau county grand jury refused to indict him on a charge of murder. Jurors decided that Johnson, who is 65 years old, was temporarily insane.

DIES OF GUNSHOT WOUNDS.

Cornelius Hood, colored, 38 years old, 4050 Calumet avenue, died yesterday in the Bridewell hospital. He was shot and wounded Oct. 8 during a quarrel with Leroy Smith, colored, 40 years old, 4858 Calumet avenue.

PROGRESS AT THE COUNTY HOSPITAL.

The County hospital affairs are once more in the news, with accompanying charges and recommendations, which the public will be wise to take with reserve. The conditions at the hospital are not what they should be and we trust in due time will be, but they have substantially improved since the report of the special committee of inquiry headed by Dr. Irving Cutter a year ago last September. They would have improved even more had it been practicable to obtain the services as superintendent of Dr. Benjamin Black of California, but existing law prevented the county board from meeting the conditions Dr. Black quite properly demanded for his own security and independence. It was too late in the legislative session to procure the amendment of the law, although Gov. Horner and senate and house leaders were favorable to amendment. But ill fortune dogged the effort to meet the situation presented, for soon after the late D. F. Kelly, who with characteristic public spirit and personal sacrifice had cabled his consent to act as superintendent for a year until the law could be changed, came the news of his death. The subsequent arrangement was not ideal and in the circumstances could not be expected to be. But while the selected superintendent, a former army officer, Gen. McCloskey, lacks the experience and medical knowledge the office requires, he has accomplished needed improvements in administration.

What the public should be encouraged by is that President Smith, Commissioner Bobrytzke, chairman of the hospital committee, and a majority of the board have supported the measures of reform proposed by the experts and lay friends of the hospital. We congratulate them on what has been accomplished thus far, though it has been less than is needed, and we hope they will continue in their attitude and effort. It was and is inevitable that politics and personal interest should invade the situation and trouble the waters. But they have not yet prevailed and if the public retains the interest which has been aroused in the hospital problem, the service of Mr. Smith and his assistants will find support. The attempt to muddy the waters and confuse public opinion which has lately broken out in a squabble over the status of the hospital has no merit. We have no doubt the American Medical association will give recognition to improvements as they are attained, but what the public and especially the indigent sick are interested in is the establishment as soon as practicable of an administration independent of politics and competent to put and keep this great institution where it should be.

MECHANIZATION OF DEFENSE.

A picture in the lower right hand corner of this page is one of many published in foreign magazines illustrating the intense and various activities in preparation for war among the European nations. It shows a trench digging machine, a dredge familiar to Americans in the more pleasant associations of peaceful construction. In this case it is digging trenches in Paris for defense against military attack and we reprint it as a reminder that the use of machinery is as important for defense as for offense.

We hear much of the mechanization of mobile forces and the invention of new machines for attack—tanks, movable huge guns, gas machines, etc., etc.—but the program of our army experts should give and we trust does give as much attention to defensive as to offensive mechanization. Trenches can be dug very much faster by machinery than by hand and more efficiently in emergency, if equipment has been provided. Trenches can be made too wide and deep for tanks to cross. Slopes can be made perpendicular. A well considered program would study the problems of defensive works and set its standards on the same plane of modern efficiency as offensive operations.

Our modernization should not lose sight of the consideration that in spite of military preference for the offensive rôle and the observable tendencies of some of our statesmen toward adventures in world politics, our policy is ostensibly and, if the nation's will is not evaded, actually is defensive. Our people have shown very clearly when given the opportunity that they have no ambitions to impose their will on other countries under whatever altruistic disguise they may be operating. And this defensive principle, making all due allowance for the military maxim that offense is sometimes the best defense, should not be overshadowed in our planning for possible war. Certainly, at any rate, our military authorities should exercise at least as much initiative and foresight in modernizing our methods and equipment for defensive efficiency as for offensive.

BANKERS TO SPEAK UP.

Bankers have been blamed by politicians for a major share of what has happened in the last ten years. They have been accused of creating the boom which preceded and caused the depression. And they have been charged with keeping the depression going by declining to lend money for business revival.

For the most part, the bankers, with a tradition for reticence, have taken it from the politicians without defending themselves. And they have an excellent defense. The boom of 1928 and 1929 was precipitated by pressure from the federal reserve board on the reserve banks to reduce rediscount rates in the autumn of 1927. The record shows that bankers, particularly in the Chicago area, took a strong stand against this action then because they said that a boom would be generated which would be succeeded by a collapse. The banks were overriden then and their worst fears were realized.

The bankers are in an equally strong position as regards the failure of loans to expand in the last few years. They have been seeking for opportunities to lend money so far as they are permitted to do so by the laws and regulatory authorities. Frantic to get something out of their funds, the bankers have been lending at a fraction of 1 per cent to the government for short intervals. The failure of loans to expand has been due to the unwillingness of business men to go into debt with prevailing business uncertainties and high taxes. Thus those who are truly responsible are the ones who destroy confidence and increase the exactions from business.

Those who have followed financial history closely are aware of these facts. But the vast majority of citizens do not have close contact with finance, and to them the allegations of the politicians have seemed plausible. Representative bankers comprising the association of reserve city bankers met in Chicago last week behind closed doors and decided that the time has come for bankers to tell their story to the public. The wisdom of this decision is not open to question.

BUYING VOTES IN THE DAKOTAS.

The New Deal's urge toward socialized medicine as a phase of the socialistic trend of government has now taken form in a small but significant way. The United States treasury is, as usual, conveniently at hand. The Dakotas are the first beneficiaries of this new step. There had been no reports of sickness epidemics in the northwest, but there was an epidemic of panic among the New Dealers as the November election time approached, and so they have resorted to socialized medicine as good for what ails those two states.

One of the lesser known of the alphabetical nuisances—the Farm Security administration—undertakes this new venture in vote buying and the federal treasury is to be tapped for the wherewithal. Years and years ago what was known as the Dudley system bought votes in Indiana in "blocks of five." A $10 bill purchased flocks of Hoosiers at $2 per. That performance set the whole country aflame with indignation. But these are different days and this project for buying the Dakotas next month is more liberal. Moreover, we are in an era in which cash control of elections is enshrined in the alphabetical agencies.

Under the new plan now in operation, a federal allowance of $14 for medical attention is given to each of 40,000 families in South Dakota, and a similar amount to each of 37,000 families in North Dakota by the FSA. It provides a credit of $2 per month for the next eight months to each of the 77,000 families. It will be credited to each of the families through a so-called special corporation to be set up in each of the two states, the whole to be in operation before the November elections. How far it will control the electorate in that region is a question. At any rate the cost of the project will be $1,232,000, American taxpayers footing the bill. The timing is perfect; the "objective" clear. Senators and congressmen are to be chosen in the Dakotas.

The old period of blocks of 5 was coarse; today's methods, cloaked in the virtuous guise of "socialized medicine," are coarser.

MIGRATION ON THE WING.

Woodlands have been rustling for several weeks with little waves of migrating birds making their fall journey south by easy stages. They pause and pass on. You will find myrtle warblers in the pines, balsam, and hemlock, song sparrows and white throats in the hawthorns, hermit thrush turning over the fallen brown leaves, vesper sparrows flashing their white tail feathers over the weed patches, and presently juncoes all over the place. Most of the summer residents already have gone, the brown thrashers, yellow hammers, red heads, wood thrush, grackles, and wrens.

The interesting visitations which keep the painted woods alive as the conflagration of the coloring flames to the crest are what you see of a journey so full of hazards that man's most adventurous risks into the unknown seem placid by comparison. A ruby throat or magnolia warbler headed for the Caribbean, for Central or South America wings into difficulties and dangers which might have turned Magellan back.

Recently a Tribune paper carrier bound for Fort William on the north shore of Lake Superior for a load of grain left the Chicago river with twenty or thirty of the small migrants aboard. There were juncoes, myrtle warblers, a pair of cat birds, white throat sparrows, vesper sparrows, and magnolia warblers. The city must be a startling thing to many of the small fellows who find themselves up on twenty and thirty floor window ledges. These boat guests were escaping that at least, but they were going north and adding from 500 to 600 miles to their trip. But they stuck to the ship until it went into the locks at Sault Ste. Marie.

Their companionship with the crew was intimate. They sat on shoe tips and shoulders. They flew into the rooms and ate all the flies. Two in a room would clean it up in ten minutes. Toward evening a night hawk came aboard exhausted. A magnolia warbler did not debark at the Soo but went on to Fort William through a Lake Superior gale which he weathered by getting into the dining room. When he got off at Fort William he may have been farther north than he was when he started for the Caribbean.

Whatever the perils of wind and water, the migrants must go, driven by the necessity which has spurred on the great movements of the human race, the search for food. When you see them in your woods and thickets they are temporarily in sanctuary.

TRUER POSE.

A farmer, visiting his son at the university, took the boy downtown to have his photograph taken. The photographer suggested that the son stand with his hand on his father's shoulder.

"It would be more appropriate," remarked the father, "if he stood with his hand in my pocket."—Rural Progress.

BAD OFF.

"What's the trouble?"

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

A PROBLEM IN FOLKLORE.

The nights may be getting cooler, but the Indian summer issue is getting hotter. Chicago's millions are wallowing in the mellow pleasures of this perfect October, talking about it in the family circle, boasting about it to strangers, and writing poems about it or trying to; but here and there purists, precisionists, and sticklers for the folklore of New England are rising to proclaim that this is not Indian summer at all, but merely a fortunate extension of September.

Nevertheless, whatever the almanacs, weather bureau men, and old wives of Newburyport, Mass., have to say on the subject, the last two weeks have been Chicago's idea of the subject of John McCutcheon's classic cartoon. It is Indian summer, Lake Michigan style, and there is nothing better in the medicine hats of the meteorologists. In November we look only for sad skies, raw rains, and a melancholy chill.

The Indian summer that is a brief November glow, following a sharp spell of "squaw winter," does not happen in Chicago more than once in a decade. If it comes this year, the Line O' Type column will put on sackcloth and ashes and print every sarcastic "We told you so" letter that it receives.

Call for Ribaldry and Romance.

It seems to me that the "good old days" nostalgia of the Line recently is an unhealthy symptom. Anything as perennially youthful as your column doesn't need to look backward! After much pondering I have come to the conclusion that the only thing the Line of today lacks, as compared with that of even your most illustrious predecessors, is a whiff of the garlic of ribaldry and a bit of the onion seasoning of romance!

SONNET TO A PLAIN GAL.

(A parody of Shakespeare's Sonnet XVIII.)

Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?
That, I fear, would hardly flatter you.
Then, too, Sir William started his that way,
And unoriginality won't do.
To what can I best liken such as thee?
To what phenomena can I compare
Your beauty, poise, svelte grace, and wit? You see,
These attributes in real life gals are rare.
In you they don't exist. You're plain and drab . . .
O, why go on with such unflattering verse?
I lack a flair for airy rhyme—for dab
Of clever verbiage—this gets worse and worse. . . .
I love you. That's enough. I know you're mine,

The Jolly Gang's Surprise Party.

Boy! Was it some surprise party? Mrs. Smith took Joe for a walk, and then all the gang went up to his house and waited to surprise him. While we were sitting there waiting, Eddie [he's a card] changed all the furniture around in the living room just for a joke. And Pete put salt in the sugar bowl. Full of fun, this whole gang is. And you'd a died laughing to see Jake doing a hula-hula with all Joe's neckties hanging from his belt. Then he put on one of Mrs. Smith's hats and did an imitation of Greta Garbo doing a Big Apple. Gosh! Eddie's the one, though. Just as he was giving an imitation of a cat stalking a bird's nest [it was really a vase on top of the piano, and he still was wearing the hat and neckties], Mrs. Smith and Joe walked in and we all yelled, "Surprise!" That is, all of us except Jake, and he yelled, "Me-o-ow-ow," just like a cat. And the surprised look on Joe's face—you'd never have guessed I had tipped him off. Hilary Haw.

RIFLES IN JERUSALEM.

"Battle Rages in Jerusalem"—
That is what the papers say.
Pity how the Master grieveth
When He turns and looks that way.

There along that winding roadway
Where I rode upon the ass,
See the rifles at their shoulders
Saying "Brothers shall not pass."

Up there in that lovely garden
Where I spent those bitter hours,
Hear the clatter of the bombing
As they kill my dearest flowers.

In the Via Dolorosa
Where the burden seemed so hard,
Sniping out behind the corners,
Taking life without regard.

High upon the mount of suffering
Where I rendered up my all,
Hoping thus to end all striving,
See my darling children fall.

Pity how the Master grieveth
When He turns and looks that way.

Contribs of Our Childhood.

"Aborigine" was a frequent contributor in B. L. T.'s time. What old reader of the Line does not recall his "St. Paul," "And the Greatest of These," "The Famous Buzzard Law Suit," "The January Thaw," "The Sound of the Silence" and "Peggy, the waitress at the 'Y'," who at odd moments played the organ at the little red brick church? CULTIVATE ALOOFNESS FROM BOILS.

ACCORDING to the biblical account, Job must have had a rather unpleasant time during his bout with boils. Any one who has had to battle a single infection of this sort knows how uncomfortable he may be—not only with the pain but because of the absorption of poison from the inflamed region. Many of these victims exhibit loss of appetite, nausea, and twinges in various parts of the body; in fact, there is frequently a general feeling of malaise.

The affliction cannot develop unless infection burrows into the skin. This is not a difficult matter as a hair follicle offers a ready-made channel. There may not be the slightest evidence of dirt, nevertheless an area that has been cleaned thoroughly—if exposed to the air—will become populated with organisms within a short while. Germs are carried constantly on dust particles and they are so tiny that five million or more may rest easily upon the head of a common pin.

In most instances bacteria are lodged within the cuticle by rubbing—they do not crawl about like flies and maggots. A shirt or coat collar may irritate the epidermis and if it is soiled we have an ideal combination. Then add to the picture the tendency which many have of scratching or picking at the face and the neck and we can understand how pus germs find their way into these recesses.

Another factor is the resistance of the system and the skin reflects the state of the general health with great accuracy. If the individual is tired, fatigued from loss of sleep, or has become run down from some malady; if the blood is not in tiptop condition [with signs of anemia or too much sugar], the ability of the epidermis to fight back is lowered appreciably. We may say, then, that given an accommodating hair, some slight irritation, the presence of bacteria, and a lessened resistance—a boil is almost certain to come.

Years ago some foolish person said every boil was worth one hundred dollars to its owner. What an absurd statement! I have known sufferers who would be willing to give many times that sum to be freed from one. Not only does the lesion place a strain upon the powers of the blood, but the bugs can spread through careless handling to adjacent parts and, in some cases, actually invade the circulation and endanger life.

To stop the progress of the disorder, many physicians advocate the use of pure carbolic acid, which is brought into contact with the center of the heaped up mass every so often. After a bit, a kind of crater will form and, a few hours later, the slender applicator can be advanced well into the core. This procedure is rarely painful as the acid acts as its own anesthetic. After each application, any excess can be neutralized with a little alcohol.

But now and then this plan will not succeed which means that the swelling must be opened to release what grandmother called "corruption." About the simplest anesthetic, should a slight incision become necessary, is ethyl chloride—which will freeze the skin sufficiently to relieve pain.

But once the eruption is in full bloom there is nothing quite so effective as hot, wet packs which are maintained continuously. Under this treatment many of these abscesses will discharge spontaneously and drain freely. Never apply pressure anywhere around the sore spot.

Carbuncles differ only in the fact that they have many heads instead of one. They may be regarded as boils multiplied by five, ten, or more.

We can all save ourselves a lot of trouble if we will use extra precautions as to cleanliness, particularly of the back of the neck, avoiding soiled clothing, and give prompt attention to each tiny pimple, for it may be a pus pocket in the making.

BETTER GENERAL HEALTH.

M. W. writes: What causes whiteheads? What is the best way to get rid of them?

Whiteheads, similar to acne, are due to the plugging of a portion of a sebaceous gland. Other authors hold that the seat of the trouble is a hair follicle. Attention to the general health will be helpful, as well as scrupulous cleanliness and the use of a sulphur ointment. They may be removed by electrolysis. If the cap is punctured care should be taken not to injure the surrounding skin in expressing the contents.

ARTHRITIS.

E. writes: Is there a cure for arthritis?

REPLY.

There are many procedures that are helpful. Some will be successful with one type of the ailment; others with another variety. Unfortunately the malady is baffling and every known remedy may prove unavailing.

We have a leaflet giving information on the various remedies, which can be obtained by sending a stamped addressed envelope.

DIZZINESS AFTER ILLNESS.

A. C. writes: Why does lying in bed for a long period of time—as in a hospital—make one weak and dizzy on arising?

REPLY.

The muscles of the body have become relaxed through disuse. Furthermore, the circulation is not active. One must play lazy for a time to permit the heart to resume its normal stride.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE HOSPITAL?

Chicago, Oct. 18.—When a hospital with as many educational benefits to offer interns, as the County hospital affords, is removed from the college list of approved hospitals, it seems only logical that before leaving town the A. M. A. executives would not only explain, but thoroughly justify the explanation.

It is strange, too, that before removing the hospital from the approved list, these mysterious grievances were not discussed minutely by both the removing executives and the hospital executives.

The County hospital is desperately needed in Cook county by many of its taxpayers. Bad and unnecessary publicity unduly frightens the public. I for one am tired of having the County hospital kicked around every time somebody's political delicacy is offended.

LOOK TO STREET CAR SERVICE!

Chicago, Oct. 17.—I can't understand why there should be such determination about building a subway when the street car service all over the city is deplorable. If as much effort were put forth to improve the transportation around the outlying districts in Chicago, where more people would derive a real benefit, that would be something. We can't see where a subway extending over the small proposed area warrants the amount of money that will be spent to build it.

I speak from experience. I live on the Racine avenue car line and "Toonerville Trolley" is a most fitting name for that line—a disgrace to a large city like Chicago.

If Mayor Kelly wants to make an impression on the people of Chicago and secure our votes, let him put forth a little more effort to improve the street car service. DISGUSTED CHICAGOAN.

READY FOR HALLOWEEN.

Itasca, Ill., Oct. 19.—This item has recently appeared in numerous papers:

> Tiring of scraping wax off his show windows after each Halloween, George J. Pfaff, postmaster of Itasca, Ill., now offers cash prizes to would-be waxers for the best pictures drawn on his windows with soap.

Many letters have been received from all over the country. Many organizations have adopted this plan for this year, as it will control much mischief and damage. Every boy and girl pledges to do no damage, and if they do, they lose their prize money.

We are twenty-five miles west of the loop, on Irving Park boulevard, and the show starts after school. Judging starts at 5:30 p. m. I believe a picture of the children drawing would interest every one. G. J. P.

BARS 'HATS,' 'VISITING FIREMEN.'

Chicago, Oct. 19.—It is to be hoped that when and if King George and Queen Elizabeth come to the United States in the spring that our newspaper reporters can take a lesson in courtesy from the British. There seems to be no possible excuse for calling them the "visiting firemen," or commenting on their hats. No one can blame the British if they think Americans boorish, for after all, the press is supposed to represent us to a certain extent. R. H. S.

A SPOT FOR COLUMBUS.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—THE TRIBUNE should start a movement to have the famous '93 Columbus statue now located in front of the engine house at 64th street and Wentworth avenue restored and moved to Columbus park. Quite the proper place for it. C. D. M.

HOW ABOUT THE WHEAT FARMERS?

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Wouldn't this be an ideal phrase for one of the 1940 presidential candidates to use: "What this country needs is a good 5 cent loaf of bread"? That would be literally eaten up by the public. EDWARD KUDERNA.

DEFENDS THE NEWSBOY.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Since no one else seems to "rise up" to defend the Sunday morning newsboy I gladly take my pen in hand for this rightful cause.

If the selfish complainers would go to bed at a rightful hour Saturday night instead of prowling, they would sympathize with themselves less and not have to sign themselves "Disturbed," etc.

One of the curses of this generation is the lack of encouragement to young men to get out and to earn their way early in life.

God bless the kid who wants to help earn his own clothes, who will get out of bed early, good and bad mornings alike, to go out and sell papers.

Remember that the boy doesn't make any fortune out of your purchase.

It is so easy to discourage a boy's rightful ambition to "go right." For civilization's sake, for progress' sake, for manhood's sake, help the boy of humble parentage.

I am now past my "three score and ten" and am proud that I began as a newsboy. WILLIAM FETZER.

TO COURTNEY AND JARECKI.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Did you two boys see what I saw Saturday night at the benefit given by the 4th ward Kelly-Nash organization? Well, I guess you didn't because I was there and you weren't.

What a picture when Horner and Kelly walked to the stage together, arm in arm, just like two peas in a single pod. And a year ago they were calling each other all the names that couldn't be found in the dictionary.

But our dear governor forgot one thing—just whom are the Horner Democrats [those promised jobs, and there are thousands in Chicago] going to vote for? You will find out, Uncle Henry, after the votes are counted. H. N. S.

THE LAMPSHADE MAKERS.

Chicago, Oct. 18—With all the wage laws put into effect by the New Deal, we still have the old sweat shop conditions going strong. For a prize low I would suggest the lampshade business. Women toil daily for a mere pittance and in order to keep from starving are compelled to carry shades home and toil half the night. No wonder the smart ones prefer the WPA or relief. M. C.

INHERITANCE.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Can a judgment obtained in Cook county be levied and collected on property in Berlin, Germany?

2. Can it be the American consulate in Berlin itself would be in position to give me this information?

If a testatrix of a will passed away and said will or wills have been destroyed [3] in order to avoid inheritance taxes by her heirs, and letters of administration have been filed with the Probate clerk in Cook county by one of her sons, [4] is this procedure legitimate?

Or can the question be flung at me [5] how can you prove there ever was a will?

The truth of the matter is, two sons were bequeathed the sum and substance of the estate in Illinois and Berlin, [6] disinheriting the husband of the testatrix.

Shall the matter ride and let it be completed by October, or [7] what can be done to prove some mean, underhand work? E. E. S.

1. Not without further court proceedings there, but in general, if the court here had jurisdiction of the parties and the subject matter, the obtaining of a judgment there would be a matter of mere form.

2. If you desire additional information, the best way to find out whether you can get it from the consul would be to write to the consul.

3. It is not clear how the destruction of the wills would avoid the inheritance taxes, nor by whom the wills were destroyed.

4. It is not clear which procedure you mean. There is no objection to a testator destroying his will during his lifetime. In general, there is no objection to the heirs ignoring or destroying the will after his death if they can agree on distribution. It is not legitimate for the heirs to evade an inheritance tax that has accrued, if that is what you mean to ask.

5. We cannot advise to advantage without having a more clear statement of the assumptions on which your questions are based.

6. In general, Illinois law permits a husband to renounce such a will and take instead his statutory share.

7. Depends on the clews in your possession. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

CONTEST OF WILL.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A is mother; B is step-father; C is daughter. A makes out a will leaving everything to C. B, with plenty of persuasion, makes A change will leaving all to B. B eventually deserts A. A dies. Have I as one of the children any legal claims to share in the will? D. A.

You have not stated your relationship to the facts. If you are not C, then it is difficult to see how you would have received anything in any event. If you are C then conceivably you might gain by contesting the will on the ground of undue influence. If you wish to make the attempt the first step would be to employ an attorney. WITNESSES LINK LEADERS OF C.I.O. TO COMMUNISM

Forge Chain of Evidence at House Hearing.

Displays Communist Flag.

Tears streamed from his cheeks as he told how communists had threatened his life. After he dried his eyes he rose to his feet and shook out a red flag bearing the words: "Communist Party" in gold letters before surprised congressmen. Committee proceedings were suspended as photographers fired photo bulbs in snapping Mitchell with the flag draped over his arm.

When order was restored Mitchell said he had found the flag in the desk of Loy T. Jones, president of the U. A. W. A. local at the Murray Body works.

Mitchell testified that communists directed and plotted sitdown strikes as a means of stirring class hatred and promoting industrial strife. He told how he had protested against communist influences in his local and was told to keep "my mouth shut."

"They threatened my life," he sobbed.

Blames Reds for Sitdowns.

Police Superintendent Frahm had none of the emotional display of the witness who preceded him. He delivered a matter of fact recital of the communist menace from the point of view of a police officer.

Quietly he said that 75 per cent of the strikes in the Detroit area were fomented by Reds in union ranks. He listed the number of strikes as 187 between November, 1936, and July, 1937, and estimated that there have been about fifty strikes thus far this year.

He fixed the "disturbing element" of labor, as he designated Reds, at 10 per cent.

"Communists and communist sympathizers resort to dues drives," Supt. Frahm said, "and if they can find two or three men in a plant who haven't paid up they will call a sitdown and stop the plant.

Tells of Terrorism.

"If workers refuse to go on strike, they get their addresses, then break windows in their homes and threaten their wives, burn or wreck their automobiles and beat them up after they leave the plant.

"The leaders never are present when there is any trouble. They agitate until trouble starts and then get out of the way, leaving the poor laboring man to handle things as best he can."

He said workers are "getting wise to the situation" and are dropping out and no longer pay dues.

"There is no question about it," he said with conviction. "It [communism] is destroying labor unions."

Assails Gov. Murphy.

Frahm let indignation creep into his story when he told the committee he got no help in maintaining order during sitdown strikes and predicted that as a result violence will be widespread in future strikes. He was bitter about Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan and Duncan McCrea, prosecutor of Wayne county, of which Detroit is the county seat.

Frahm told of finding Murphy and Frank Martell, a Detroit labor leader, sitting down on boxes with sitdown strikers in a Detroit department store.

Asked if any efforts were made to help stop the sitdowns, Frahm said, "No, not that I know of. They never helped us."

He told of calling on McCrea for assistance and being ignored.

"The communists are not instigating these strikes for better hours and wages, but for mass discontent and hatred," Frahm declared.

"In a short time there is going to be an awful clash and a lot of people are going to get hurt. I am satisfied the manufacturers want to deal with the working people, but the union heads can't control the men because of the communists."

Secretary McGillis of the K. of C. council testified that 300 Detroit youths were recruited by communists and sent to Spain to do battle for the Red Loyalist forces. And, he added, the city paid for their medical examinations.

The youths were generally recruited in welfare headquarters and the unemployement lodges of labor unions, he said. Most of the recruiting was said to have been done by Philip Raymond, secretary of the Michigan communist party.

Chairman Dies asked how the youths obtained passports. McGillis answered that he didn't know, but had heard suggestions that passports were faked.

Calls It a Racket.

"Communism as it is practiced in Detroit and other cities besides undermining the government is a racket," McGillis said. "The Reds make suckers of the law and people laugh about it afterwards.

"They collect money from the rank and file and make no accounting. The collections go into the pockets of the collectors all along the line to the top. It's a fine business for those in the high posts."

McGillis said that the racket extends into the heart of communism in Russia where the political creed which professes to be true democracy is nothing but a mask for the worst form of dictatorship. Less than one per cent of Russia's millions are members of the communist party, he said. The party members live off the sweat of the brows of the Red serfdom just as the party organizers in this country live off the rank and file.

Officials Listed as Reds.

Harry Mikulak, Detroit police sergeant and member of the police racket squad, named a long list of auto union officials who, he said, were known to police and listed in police records as communists.

These included Nat Ganley, business agent of local 155, and John Anderson, president of the local; William McKie, vice president, local 174; John Hell; Karl Prussian, acting president of the De Soto unit; Paul Kirk, U. A. W. organizer; Jack Wilson, member of the Chrysler local; Mike Dulatsky, chemists' union financial secretary; David Miller, member of the Cadillac union, and Joseph McClellan, Chrysler union.

At the conclusion of the hearing Chairman Dies announced that Homer Martin, U. A. W. A. president, would be the first witness when the hearing reconvenes tomorrow morning.

Tell Red Evidence

[Associated Press Wirephotos.]

James Mitchell of Detroit (left), who rose before Dies committee in Washington and unfurled red flag bearing words "communist party" in gold letters. He said he found the banner on the desk of an officer of the auto union in Detroit. Fred Frahm (right), Detroit superintendent of police, offered in evidence a picture of a man he said was a communist attacking a Detroit policeman.

FORESEE LABOR PEACE SOON IN SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Industrial and labor leaders tonight forecast labor peace would come to San Francisco by Monday, ending months of industrial strife.

A compromise settlement of the dispute which has tied up 138 warehouses was ratified today by the San Francisco Distributors' association, representing the employers. C. I. O. warehousemen called a meeting for tomorrow night to act on the agreement. Approval was forecast.

Settlement of the strike of 5,000 clerks in 35 downtown department stores tomorrow or Saturday was forecast by authoritative sources as Mayor Rossi's committee of ten adjourned day-long sessions.

GOV. KRASCHEL DEMANDS THAT PLANT REOPEN

Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Although faced with a demand from Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel to reopen Swift & Co.'s strike bound packing plant forthwith, representatives of both the company and the C. I. O. union delayed action tonight pending further digestion of the executive statement.

Duplicates of the governor's statement, which demanded arbitration or negotiation on what he termed minor differences, went to both factions. Kraschel placed settlement of the strike squarely in the hands of company and union.

Gov. Kraschel yesterday ordered 600 National Guardsmen to aid local officers in maintaining order at the plant after an outbreak of violence.

REPUBLIC STEEL APPEALS ORDER TO REHIRE 5,000

Cleveland, O., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The Republic Steel corporation today appealed from a National Labor Relations board decision ordering the reinstatement of 5,000 strikers. A petition to review the order and set it aside was filed by the corporation in United States Circuit court in Philadelphia.

A company spokesman said the labor board had reached a conclusion in the case without affording the corporation a hearing on the charges against it. "Our petition alleges that this procedure denied the company due process of law, in violation of the constitution," he said. The labor board order grew out of last year's little steel strike, in which the C. I. O. sought unsuccessfully to force Republic Steel to sign a labor contract.

"Join the 'regulars'!" Would you like to? Then here's some good advice. Ordinary constipation is very often due to lack of "bulk" in the diet. Instead of seeking temporary relief, get at the cause of the trouble! Instead of taking emergency medicines, eat a natural laxative food—Kellogg's All-Bran. This crunchy, toasted cereal contains the "bulk" you need. And All-Bran is one of the richest of all common foods in Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B_1. Out of 1,000 Men Who Sampled Old Quaker — Now 3 Years Old — 960 Found It Rich in Flavor, Smooth and Mellow . . . Supporting Our Belief That Old Quaker Rivals Many Higher Priced Brands!

MAN, TELL ME WHERE I CAN GET IT!

NOTE: Trials conducted by Market Research Corporation of America.

• Here's great news for every man who enjoys good whiskey but doesn't enjoy paying high prices for it. Old Quaker—now 3 years old—rivals many fine whiskeys that are more expensive. Here's why we think so:—

We went to 1,000 men and asked them to sample Old Quaker. "Smell it!" we said. "Taste it! Swallow a drink of it! And give us your frank opinion."

None of these 1,000 men knew the name, age or price of the whiskey he was trying, yet 960 commented on the smoothness, richness, mellowness of Old Quaker, confirming our belief Old Quaker is an amazing bargain at this price.

What This Means To You

If these 960 men are right—here's a simple, direct way for you to save money on whiskey. Change to Old Quaker, now 3 years old! Make this same simple trial yourself! And see for yourself if it isn't news for every thrifty drinker!

J. T. Raiford, Engineer, tells Investigator Anderson: "Now I know why people like straight whiskey. I'll buy Old Quaker in the future."

SCIENCE LEADERS FIGHT CALIFORNIA VIVISECTION LAW

Proposed Pound Measure on Ballot Nov. 8.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Interest in an issue of growing importance will center on this state on Nov. 8, when Californians vote on the so-called proposed humane pound law. Medical men describe this proposition as a disguised effort to outlaw animal experimentation by great medical institutions and say it is backed only by anti-vivisectionists.

The voting here will be watched particularly by scientists throughout the nation. They say the California proposition is one of many promoted throughout the country which would restrict research because of misplaced sentiment. Already, they say, men who seek progress through animal research are forced to work in secrecy or suffer bitter attacks.

Bar Medical Schools.

Backers of the proposed referendum deny that it is a shrouded antivivisection proposition. They say they are interested solely in prohibiting the use of unclaimed cats and dogs in public or private pounds in experimental work at medical schools or research laboratories.

These advocates, among them Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin of Chicago, who has been giving a series of teas here and in Oakland, where speakers support the proposition, contend the law cannot interfere with true research.

Opposed by Dr. Milliken.

These arguments, however, are opposed by such men as Chairman Robert A. Milliken of the executive board of the California Institute of Technology; President Robert Gordon Sproul of the University of California; Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, head of Stanford university. Such organizations as the American Medical association, the Pacific division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and the California Society for Promotion of Medical Research, also oppose it.

Such groups as the California stockmen, aware of the value of animal experimentation in the cure of diseases of cattle and sheep, are joining the fight.

Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the United States Public Health service, opposes the proposal.

IT'S HER BIRTHDAY, SO JUDGE GIVES HER A PRESENT—A DIVORCE

Wearing an orchid, Mrs. Grace Curran of 4441 North Damen avenue went into court yesterday to ask a divorce from Edwin G. Curran.

"Well," Mrs. Curran explained, "it's my birthday."

Mrs. Curran, who is 35 and employed by a radio chain, got the divorce as a birthday present. Questioned by her attorney, Emmet F. Byrne, she testified that her husband often got into trouble over checks and that she had to bail him out of the lockup.

NEW HARMONY A LOST HORIZON OF COMMUNISM

Today's Social Schemes Failed It in 1824.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

And error cease to reign:
The charms of innocence return,
And all be new again.
—Owenite poem.

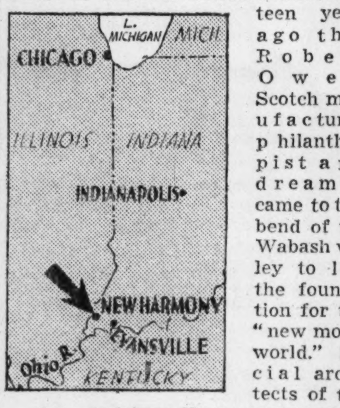
New Harmony, Ind., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—It was one hundred and fourteen years ago that Robert Owen, Scotch manufacturer, philanthropist and dreamer, came to this bend of the Wabash valley to lay the foundation for the "new moral world." Social architects of the new order arrived here by the boatload. The old world, already sagging under the impact of the machine age, was to learn here a lesson in human harmony, in which there would be no more weeping over poverty and no more pride over wealth. It was to be a sort of Garden of Eden communism.



Arrow points to New Harmony.

The experiment lasted just three years. In 1828 Owen said that he had been mistaken in thinking that young America had been prepared for something better than individual strife, that he had found the habits of this system so powerful that the land leases he had given so trustingly had been applied to individual purpose and individual gain.

Look Askance at Communism.

The citizens of Indiana of that early day, according to W. T. Harris, former United States commissioner of education, who regards New Harmony as a great lesson in sociology, looked on the expansion of communism in New Harmony as in the direction of suppressing individual initiative and substituting one man power for freedom of choice and ownership of home and lands.

Life was gay and interesting to the Owenites while the money of the Scotch Santa Claus lasted. There were stimulating ideas born here, many of which have borne fruit to this day. Equality of women in education and in law, the first women's club, religious modernism, greater knowledge of natural laws, abolition of slavery, prohibition, labor coöperative societies, a rational education for all.

It has all shaken down into the broad American scene. The golden rain trees and some of the century old houses still adorn these quiet streets. There are many old people who live in memories, descendants of the Owenites or of the earlier German religious colony founded in 1816 by Frederick Rapp, who sold his 30,000 acres to Owen for $150,000.

"It reminds me of 'Lost Horizon,'" said a young woman of today, Miss Francis Horton, who sets type by hand in the office of the New Harmony Times.

She is all unknowingly carrying out two of the Owen preachments, the rights of women and the dignity of labor. Most of the common labor of the town has gone WPA. There are no other jobs, they say. Machines have ruined the farms just as they ruined the cotton industry 100 years ago, from this labor standpoint.

"This is a good country for those who want to work," says Miss Horton. "I like to be independent. I have a job here. That is enough."

Clarence P. Wolfe, the editor, says that this town as an experiment in culture was a success. There is plenty of culture here. There is the Working Man's institute, of which he is a director. The working men, it is true, do not have much to do there, except to draw books from the library or look at the marvelous collection of minerals, birds, animals, and antiques in the museum. Business and professional men run the institute, which enlightens the workingman and others by occasional lectures by prominent men which cost but 10 cents to attend.

Land of Childlike Faith.

These classic shades, Mr. Wolfe maintains, would be the ideal place for a college or university. Many of the Roosevelt administration plans, he says, are like those of the trusting Owen, who had a childlike faith in humanity and who believed that environment governs all. He would figure a little more on elemental selfishness, or original sin.

The town has not grown much since Owen's day. It has about 1,100 inhabitants, but there is probably no town in the middle west that has given rise to more ideas of social welfare. And good ideas do not die. It took 2,000 years for the idea that human slavery is bad to come into practice.

"What opportunity is there for a young man here?" he was asked.

"It gives him a chance to make a living and to live to be 85 and enjoy it. And he does not have to fret or strain very much about it, either. He has time to smile and be neighborly and go fishing. You couldn't get me to Chicago if you gave me the town.

Brain Trusters Beat Owenites.

"What's all this struggle for anyway? We have what we need and are happy. Things are not all right, but they never will be. Some of those old Rappist were shovel leaners, too, and the Owens crowd had too many brain trusters. There is not much new."

The ladies of the town complain because they can't get men to work around the place or women to help in the house. WPA has absorbed this labor.

Mrs. Laura Corbin Monical lives in the fine but faded mansion known as the Rapp-Maclure house. It was built by Father Rapp and later occupied by Dr. William Maclure, geologist who came out from Philadelphia in 1826 with the famous "boatload of knowledge," consisting of scientists and educators.

In the yard is a stone with the imprint of two human feet upon it. Father Rapp told his followers that this proved that the Angel Gabriel had visited him to tell him that the end of the world was near. The Owen scientists soon disposed of this myth. The grave of Thomas Say, charter member of the Philadelphia Academy of Science, is in the same yard. He worked here for years over his books and collections.

Workers Thrive; Idlers Fail.

"Owen let everybody in," said Mrs. Monical. "Everybody was equal. Those without money expected to be taken care of. And he failed. All the Rapps knew was how to work, and they became wealthy. That should be a lesson for politicians today."

Mrs. Phoebe Elliott lives in a house 110 years old. Her uncle was killed by Indians while carrying dispatches to Fort Dearborn. Her father carried the first mail to Evansville. She complains of the encroachment of filling stations, the noise of dance halls. The Owenites would have no liquor sold, but there are plenty of beer shops now, even one called Owens' restaurant. There is not much impress of the grand idea of common ownership of property left.

Time Store Started Here.

Josiah Warren, inventor of a printing press and author of the Time Store system, also lived here. His ideas seem somewhat in line with the Townsend scrip plan or the California ham and eggs every Thursday plan.

Under the Warren plan of life labor was the only true value. He divided his labor into time. He set up a store and only charged for the time it took him to sell goods to each customer. He took for money what were called labor notes, representing five, ten, or fifteen minutes of labor.

And so we have the human procession. Indians, who did not worry about property or work; the French traders who were shrewd exploiters; the British red coats, instruments of imperialism; the colonial soldiers, forerunner of the new commonwealth of America; pioneers of the northwest, who were to set up an enduring system of individual enterprise and government by law.

Into this particular section came a religious brotherhood of Württemberg peasants. Practicing humility, simplicity, self sacrifice, neighborly love, a regular and persevering industry, with daily prayer and confession. They were bound to succeed and they did. They cleared this wilderness and left a town which the Owenites bought for an experiment station for the social idealists of England and France of a hundred years ago. To rationally educate and employ all, to know the laws of nature, to worship a supreme power, to help one's fellows. It is, as Miss Horton said, a "lost horizon," at least a far horizon.

[The fourth article of this series will deal with a modern socialistic experiment in a rural colony, that at Dyess, Ark.]

ROBERT FRIIS.

Robert Friis, 12 years old, climbed into a freight car Wednesday while playing in the railroad yard near his home at Clinton, Ia. Suddenly the door was slammed shut and the train started.

By the time he got the door open the train was moving too fast for him to jump so he settled back and went to sleep. Early yesterday he awoke to find the car on a siding of the North Western tracks near Austin boulevard.

The boy walked to a nearby drug store and called his mother on the telephone. Then a police squad summoned by the operator took him to the Austin station and gave him breakfast. Police arranged to send Robert back to Iowa.

Ease CHEST COLD misery

Then, to make its long-continued poultice-and-vapor action last even longer, spread a thick layer of VapoRub on the chest and cover with a warmed cloth. This also gives the skin extra protection against chilling.

Long after restful sleep comes, VapoRub keeps on working—loosens phlegm—eases muscular soreness or tightness—clears air-passages—checks tendency to cough—relieves local congestion.

JUDGE MAY ACT TODAY ON FAKE ARSON WARANTS

Victims Go to Court Again Seeking Arrests.

Judge John J. Rooney in Felony court may decide today whether to issue warants for State Fire Marshal Sherman V. Coultas and nine other men accused in connection with the notorious fake arson cases. The warants are sought in behalf of Emil Guerrieri and Frank Kolesiak, who charge they were beaten and threatened by Coultas and several amateur sleuths into confessing setting the fire last April in the Center hotel on West Madison street. Eight men died in the blaze.

Judge Rooney, who has been hearing the warant applications piecemeal for sixteen days, was ill yesterday. At his home it was said he would endeavor to hold court today.

Another Judge on Bench.

Kolesiak and Guerrieri and their attorney, Joseph T. Harrington, made their eleventh trip to Felony court yesterday, but found Judge Matthew Hartigan occupying the bench. They made a request for some additional subpenas for witnesses and records.

"This is a matter being handled by Judge Rooney, and I am going to let him continue to handle it," said Judge Hartigan. "He is familiar with the case, and it is up to him to make any decision in regard to it."

Judge Rooney and Attorney Harrington engaged in a short, boisterous hearing of the case on Wednesday. At that time the attorney was obviously irked by the many delays in his warant requests. He called the judge's attention to the fact that in this case the procedure has been entirely different from that in the ordinary case. The judge agreed with him that in the ordinary case warants are issued immediately on proper request.

"I do not see why when the request is for men in uniform or public office it should be any different from a warant demand for an ordinary citizen," said Attorney Harrington.

Seek Warant for Policeman.

Among those for whom the warants have been asked beside Marshal Coultas are Roscoe Bonjean, attorney and investigator for the marshal; Frank E. Doherty, assistant marshal, and Policeman Sol Corsi of the Maxwell street station. Warants are also sought for a group of amateur sleuths who, it is charged, helped to beat and scare Guerrieri and Kolesiak into making fake confessions.

Capt. John Egan of the Maxwell station said he has forwarded to Commissioners Allman a report of the allegations that Corsi aided the amateur investigators without reporting to any superior officer or to the department. He said Corsi has denied that he took any part in the case. Guerrieri, however, has identified Corsi.

Capt. Eagan said the matter is in the hands of Commissioner Allman.

Gov. Horner is personally investigating Coultas' conduct in the case.

TWO INDIANA HOTEL EMPLOYES QUARREL; BOTH SHOT TO DEATH

Anderson, Ind., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Arthur Lahue, 37 years old, and Henry Paetsch, about 40, both of Anderson, were shot to death tonight just outside the kitchen of the Anderson hotel.

Coroner Robert L. Armington said Lahue, salad man at the hotel, evidently had shot Paetsch, the chef, and then turned his .32 caliber revolver on himself.

Police Captain L. S. Dietzen said he was told the two had quarreled at their work and Paetsch had sent Lahue home.

Capt. Dietzen quoted Lahue's mother, Mrs. Sarah Lahue, with whom he lived, as saying her son came home, told her he had had an argument with the chef and got his gun. She said he had spoken often of having trouble with Paetsch, the captain reported.

ORDER 2 WOMEN HELD IN TAVERN DEATH MYSTERY

Deputy Coroner Ted A. Luber yesterday ordered a chemical analysis made of the body of Joseph Bushnell, 71 years old, a widower, of Wilmette. Bushnell died Wednesday after becoming violently ill in a tavern at 10 West Lake street. An inquest into his death was continued until Nov. 15.

Two women in the tavern with Bushnell were ordered charged with disorderly conduct. They are Mrs. Lucille Larson, 37 years old, a housewife, and Mrs. Dorothy Winston, who as Dorothy Keith said she produces tavern floor shows.

The Larson woman testified yesterday that she and the other woman were approached by Bushnell in a tavern at 164 North State street. He bought them several drinks, she said, then went with them to the Lake street tavern. After they had ordered dinner, Bushnell became ill, then unconscious. He died while being taken to St. Luke's hospital.

TEACHER DIES SUDDENLY.

Taylorville, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Miss Florence Layzell, 49 years old, principal of the west grade school here, and a teacher in the city schools for 31 years, died suddenly today in her home following a cerebral hemorrhage.

ANOTHER ARSON CASE CONFESSION IS REPUDIATED

Fire Marshal Hears of Fourth in Peoria.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—State Fire Marshal Sherman V. Coultas of Jacksonville arrived here yesterday to attend the Illinois Firemen's convention and discovered that another arson confession, the fourth in recent weeks, has been repudiated and charges of third degree methods made against his staf.

Harry L. Wyman, a respected citizen and business man of Chillicothe declares he is the latest victim of the so-called unethical methods of Coultas and his staf.

Declines to Take Action.

State's Attorney John E. Dougherty of Peoria county in whose hands the so-called confession of Wyman has been placed, so far has refused to take any action because he says he has no evidence to support the charge that arson was committed in the burning of an automobile.

In this respect the case is similar to the one in Chicago in which Coultas and his staf of sleuths wrung confessions from Emil Guerreri and Frank Kolesiak in the Center hotel fire case, which firemen said was not even an incendiary fire. Eight men were burned to death in the fire. In the local case the police said the evidence shows Wyman was twenty-two miles away with forty friends when the automobile fire was discovered on his automobile sales lot.

Burned Auto Valued at $35.

Wyman was arrested three months ago by Deputy State Fire Marshal Walter E. Parlier, who obtained the so-called confession to the alleged incendiary fire of a $35 second hand automobile. When Wyman applied for the payment of the insurance on the car, Parlier became active.

The automobile dealer said that Parlier shouted, screamed, and yelled at him for three hours demanding that he confess. He said he was so nervous after this session that he signed a paper handed to him by Parlier without even reading it. He said he was told to sign the so-called confession or get locked up and "get the works."

Dealer Is Released.

Wyman was released after signing the confession. He hasn't been rearrested and no formal charge has been placed against him. However, he has not been given an opportunity publicly to clear his name. The state's attorney has refused to present the case to the grand jury thus far because of the lack of evidence to support the so-called confession.

Gov. Horner, who is personally investigating Coultas and his staf as a result of the Chicago and Springfield confession cases, now will add the Peoria case to his list. In Springfield, William Rath, who is on trial for arson of two buildings he owned, charges Coultas tortured a fake confession from him.

School Teacher Fatally Injured by Street Car

Miss Edna L. Frazee, 52 years old, a school teacher, died last night in St. Paul's hospital of injuries suffered earlier in the day when she was struck by a Wallace street surface lines car at 35th street. She had just left the McMillan school at that intersection. W. Vincent, the motorman, said the accident was unavoidable. Miss Frazee lived at the New Michigan hotel, 2135 Michigan avenue.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Bob Becker

A Late Fall.

October 20, 1938.

SINCE Jack Frost has made only a brief visit at the farm to do any of his colorful painting on the vegetation, the foliage on the trees is not as bright this fall as it was last year during the third week of October.

When we hiked over the farm this week we noticed how green the oak woods were and how few brilliant splashes of color there were along the hedgerows or in the timber.

The sumac, which always provides an abundance of scarlet and red along the fences, has put on its best show and now many of these shrubs are devoid of leaves.

The pin, white, black, and other oaks lack the rich browns and reds which we usually associate with these trees at this time of the year.

Bittersweet Is Bright.

One of the brightest bits of color on the farm this week comes from the bittersweet. This vine is fairly abundant along the fences and in the woods. Right now the leaves of the bittersweet are a lemon yellow color.

When you look across a field toward a fence over which the bittersweet has entwined its vines the yellow leaves stand out prominently against the rather colorless landscape.

There is more color around the ponds than in the woods, since the willows circling these small bodies of water are a yellowish green. Many of the hickory and ash trees are devoid of foliage. So Jack Frost can do nothing to improve their looks this autumn. But once he touches up the oak trees in the woods the farm landscape will be more attractive.

Several sparrow hawks arrived on the farm this week to do everybody a good turn by eating insects. The warm late fall is an incentive for these birds to stay in Chicagoland, for such weather keeps them supplied with insect food.

We flushed one of these graceful small hawks along a fencerow. It flew to the top of a telephone pole and sat in the sunlight for a few minutes. Then we saw it cruise over a field, occasionally dipping down to pick up an insect.

The sparrow hawk, smallest and brightest colored of all our hawks, is a faithful ally of the farmer because it consumes so many insects. Some of them fly as far south as Mexico and Panama for the winter, but you may see occasional sparrow hawks most anywhere in the middle west during the winter months. At that season of the year the birds may raid the flocks of English sparrows for food.

Ambitious Muscovy Duck.

An ambitious Muscovy duck which has ideas about raising a family of ducklings this winter is one of the oddities of the Tribune's Du Page county farm.

We went with the flockmaster one day this week to visit this persistent duck. She was sitting on her nest of eggs as though she thought it was spring or early summer instead of the middle of October. The flockmaster says that this bird's ducklings are expected to arrive any day now. When the eggs do hatch the ducklings will be placed in a brooder house unless warm Indian summer is with us.

In other years ducklings have hatched in September and thrived through the cold winter, but this is the first time any of the Muscovy ducks have decided to raise a family so late in the autumn.

YOU CAN GET CLOTHES SPARKLING WHITE

without back-breaking rubbing

if you use amazing American Family Flakes

I'VE NEVER SEEN YOUR CLOTHES LOOK SO WHITE! YOU MUST HAVE RUBBED AND RUBBED TO GET THEM SO CLEAN!
NO, I SIMPLY USED AMERICAN FAMILY FLAKES AND THEY LOOSENED THE DIRT SO FAST I COULD HARDLY BELIEVE MY EYES. NO MORE CHEAP SOAP CHIPS FOR ME!

ARE you being "penny-wise" and "pound-foolish" about the soap you use? Are you entrusting your wash to cheap soap chips that require boiling, back-breaking rubbing—in order to save a few pennies? Then read the next statement carefully: It is such boiling and hard rubbing that all too often cause clothes to wear out long before their time. Actually rob you of the long period of service you rightfully deserve.

American Family Flakes work on an altogether different, safe principle. First, these famous flakes are guaranteed not to contain harmful alkali or harsh chemicals, so even the finest washable fabrics retain their color and brilliance after many washings. Second, the paper-thin flakes dissolve amazingly fast into rich, active suds. Third, they are especially made for Chicago's hard water. Laboratory tests have proved that American Family Flakes contain more suds-making material than other package soaps tested. And it's this extra suds-making material that eliminates the ruinous hard rubbing that can take the life out of clothes.

American Family Flakes remove dirt so easily that even grimiest spots come out without back-breaking rubbing and the rest of the dirt soaks loose almost like magic. That is why the wash comes out sparkling white and sweet-smelling; why colored fabrics are gay and brilliant, even after many washings; why even daintiest washable fabrics are really safe in the rich, gentle suds of American Family Flakes.

Get a box of American Family Flakes from your dealer. Your very first wash will prove a revelation as you see your clothes come out gloriously clean with so little work on your part. Then and there you will prove that you will never want to use cheap soap chips again. And before long, you will know why American Family is the largest-selling brand of soap in this territory—why "It is cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes." Made by Procter & Gamble

SEEK TO BREAK $2,250,000 WILL OF ADA GARRETT

Flaw in Document May Upset Large Bequests.

Martin J. O'Brien, public administrator, instituted proceedings yesterday to void the $2,250,000 will of Mrs. Ada Sawyer Garrett, known as Chicago's Hetty Green.

Should O'Brien succeed, Jason Paige Jr., a second cousin, would lose the $1,000,000 Mrs. Garrett bequeathed him and twelve Chicago institutions would be deprived of $220,000 in charitable bequests. The fortune would be divided by two first cousins, Joseph A. Cary of Albany, N. Y., and Mrs. Adeline Mabel Wakem, said to be a Chicagoan now visiting in the east.

Existing Bequest $3,000.

Cary is to receive $3,000 under the will. The other cousin was not mentioned in it.

Mrs. Garrett died June 18 at the age of 82 years in her apartment in the Lake Shore Drive hotel. Paige learned with surprise the size of his bequest. He is an advertising man, 28 years old, living at 390 South avenue, Glencoe.

O'Brien attacked the will because the old Merchants Loan and Trust company was named executor and all the witnesses were connected with the bank. Because the bank would have benefited as executor, O'Brien charged, it was against public policy for those connected with it to act as witnesses.

The bank was one of those which through mergers eventually formed the present Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company. The Continental has been approved as executor, and the will has been admitted to probate by Judge John F. O'Connell.

Asks to Vacate Order.

O'Brien asked that the order admitting the will to probate be vacated. He asserted that there are no relatives who would share in the estate living in Illinois to serve as administrator, and asked that he be named to administer the estate.

But Frank H. McCulloch, attorney for the bank, challenged O'Brien's claims. McCulloch said one of the witnesses was in no way connected with the bank. McCulloch said he himself is the only surviving competent witness, and that there is nothing in the law to disqualify him as a witness. Moreover, the attorney asserted, Mrs. Wakem is a legal resident of Illinois and he has no doubt she would act as administrator if necessary.

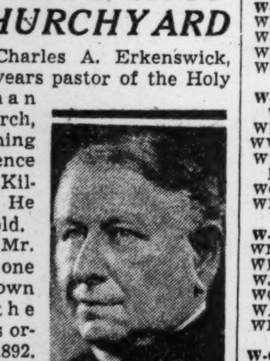
So far as is known, the relatives are not questioning the will. O'Brien filed the suit on his own initiative. Attorneys said the public administrator's office, a fee office, could receive as much as 6 per cent of the personal property for administering the estate, and that attorney's fees could also be claimed.

Will Drawn in 1904.

The will was drawn in 1904—six years before Paige was born—but Mrs. Garrett provided for any heir his parents might have. Of the four witnesses, two are dead and one is incompetent.

Charitable bequests are: Chicago Historical society and Indiana house, $50,000 each; Art institute, Passavant hospital, and Chicago Nursery and Half Orphans' home, $25,000 each; St. James Episcopal church and Commons Association of the University of Chicago, $10,000 each; Church Home for the Aged, Visiting Nurses' association, Home for Destitute and Crippled Children, Children's Memorial hospital, and St. Mary's Home for Children, $5,000 each.

REV. ERKENSWICK DIES; ONCE SHOT IN CHURCHYARD



The Rev. Erkenswick.

The Rev. Charles A. Erkenswick, for fourteen years pastor of the Holy Ghost Roman Catholic church, died last evening in his residence at 211 South Kildare avenue. He was 70 years old.

The Rev. Mr. Erkenswick, one of the best known priests on the west side, was ordained in 1892. His first assignment was as curate at St. Theresa's in Chicago. He then served St. Dionysius parish in Cicero for twenty-nine years. He was made pastor of Holy Ghost parish in 1924.

On Good Friday, March 30, 1929, he was shot down in the churchyard and critically wounded by an assailant later identified as Gaetano Menna. Menna told police the priest had refused to seek the release of Menna's sons from the county jail, where they were confined for robbing the poor box of Holy Ghost church. Menna was sentenced to 1 to 14 years in Joliet penitentiary.

TWO BANDITS ROB INN.

While their women companions waited in their car, two bandits entered the Orchard Inn near Park Ridge early yesterday and took $20 from Mrs. Margaret O'Brien, the owner.

500 STATE NURSES HEAR A PLEA FOR PEACE, FREEDOM

Intelligent action and sacrifice are necessary to achieve peace, social justice, and freedom, and a scientific spirit recreates hope and the realization of work to be done. This was the message given 500 nurses last night at a convention banquet of the Illinois State Nurses' association in the Stevens hotel. The speaker was Dr. A. L. Sachar, national director of the B'Nai B'rith Hillel Foundation.

"It is a tragic paradox that in an era when we have attained so much control over ruthless nature; when we can truly make man 'but little lower than the angels,'" Dr. Sachar said, "we should be living in the shadow of fear and insecurity, at the mercy of paranoics and meglomaniacs. Our nurses and our medical facilities can be marshaled for the purpose of enriching life, lengthening its span, binding up its wounds."

COUNCIL GETS AIRPORT TRACK REMOVAL DRAFT

Ordinance Is Approved by Railroad; Vote Thursday.

One of the final steps for expansion of Chicago airport was taken yesterday when the city council received the draft of a proposed ordinance authorizing removal of the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad tracks. These now bisect the site of the airport.

The council directed publication of the ordinance draft, which was submitted by the aviation committee. A vote on its passage will be taken next Thursday. Attorneys for the railroad have agreed to provisions of the measure. Before the next council meeting, the proposed ordinance will be submitted for approval to the railroad board of directors in New York.

Make Mile Square Field.

With passage of the measure, the city will be assured of a mile square airport, bounded by 55th and 63d streets and Cicero and Central avenues. Only the south half of the tract is used at present. The C. & W. I. tracks will be shifted to a double track north of the airport.

For three years the city council has been negotiating with the railroad for removal of the tracks. Several months ago an agreement was reached by which the city will pay for a new right of way and pay all costs of track removal and new construction. Then a dispute arose between the city and railroad officials over liability for damages that might arise from shifting the tracks.

Divide Damage Liability.

This was settled several days ago. Ald. Bryan Hartnett [12th], chairman of the aviation committee, said the ordinance now provides that the city will assume responsibility for any personal or property damages during the actual track removal. When the railroad starts using the new right of way, the company will be responsible for personal liability while the city will retain responsibility for any property damage.

The 1938 city budget included an appropriation of $800,000 for expenses of relocating the tracks. The WPA has spent $4,000,000 in improving the north half of the airport. When the tracks are removed, this section will become part of the enlarged airport.

HOSPITAL CHIEFS DRAFT LETTER TODAY TO A. M. A.

Clayton F. Smith, president of the County board, and Dr. Raymond W. McNealy, chief of the Cook County hospital staf, will meet today to draft a letter asking the American Medical association to define its objections to the way the County hospital is operated. The A. M. A. dropped the hospital from its approved list last summer.

"We will ask officials of the A. M. A. to tell us what they think is wrong," Smith said. "They are welcome to investigate the hospital if that will help them and help us. We want to do what is necessary for the continued improvement of the hospital."

Commissioner Frank Bobrytzke yesterday denied making statements in which he was reported to have charged that medical schools in Chicago are trying to gain control of the hospital. Smith said that any such charge would be both ridiculous and untrue.

New York, Oct. 20. — [Special.] — Snow White and Prince Charming have gone to court in an attempt to collect $300,000 from Walt Disney. Adriana Caselotti, the voice of the heroine in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," and Harry Stockwell, who sang and spoke for the Prince, filed separate suits against Disney Productions, Ltd., and the R. C. A. Manufacturing company.

They charged the defendants had violated their contracts by making records from the film's sound track without their consent. Disney's representatives claimed their contracts covered all rights.

Fredericksburg, Va., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—More than 500 dogs were sold or swapped today in one of the best dog marts since 1698. It's an annual institution, dating back to colonial days.

The colonists in those days needed good dogs. Usually the ones they raised weren't as good as they wanted, so they began trading with the Indians for their dogs. So once a year the colonists and the Indians met and swapped dogs. The dog mart was discontinued during the revolution, and revived only eleven years ago.

Today's auctioneer was W. Barton Mason of Orange, who succeeded last year's auctioneer, Nathaniel Bacon Kinsey. Kinsey was too fast a talker for his own good. Last year he auctioned off his own dog before he realized what he was doing.

Her talk did not touch on partisan politics.

TELEVISION SETS FOR HOME READY TO GO ON MARKET

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Television finally is ready for home use. David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, made this announcement today. He also said his company is ready to market receivers. Other manufacturers are expected to follow suit.

Sarnoff told the board of directors of the Radio Manufacturers' association that television field tests conducted in the New York area by R. C. A. and its associate, the National Broadcasting company, have "convinced us that television in the home is now technically feasible."

He didn't give a definite date, but said that sets and program service would be available before the opening of the New York world's fair next April 30.

Lifer Trusty Who Escaped Indiana Prison Comes Back

Michigan City, Ind., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Tired of being hungry and hunted, Vance Armstrong, 45 years old, lifer trusty who fled from Indiana state prison Aug. 8, voluntarily returned to prison early this morning. An uncle, John Armstrong, of Frankfort, Ind., brought the escaped convict back. Because he had a perfect prison record for 10 years, officials were surprised when Armstrong escaped. He was eligible to apply for a parole from the state clemency commission. Now he must serve a year to clear his record before he can seek parole. Armstrong came to prison Jan. 28, 1928, from Howard county as an habitual criminal.

Narwhal Family Makes Its Bow to World Today

The Field Museum of Natural History will present today, for the first time anywhere, an exhibit showing a habitat group of narwhals, members of the whale family. There are four, the largest 22 feet long. Because of size, structure, and skin characteristics, the original specimens, which were captured by Capt. Robert A. Bartlett, could not be mounted. However, the group exhibited is said to be a true group reproduction or model of the originals. It is the work of Leon L. Walters, staf taxidermist.

APPROVE SUBWAY FINANCING DEAL WITH LOOP BANKS

Council Gets Guarantee on Warant Sale.

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.

The city council yesterday passed an ordinance providing for the financing from the traction fund of the city's 22 million dollar share of two subways. The ordinance approved an agreement between the city and four downtown banks for the sale of tax warants from the fund.

Two rapid transit subways are to be built at a cost of 40 million dollars. An 18 million dollar grant has been allotted by the Public Works administration and digging is expected to be started early in December.

Banks Underwrite Warants.

The four banks have agreed to buy up to 19 million dollars worth of city corporate tax warants from the 67 million dollar traction fund. With 3 million dollars of traction fund cash the city has already placed in a special subway fund, this will make up the city's share of the project. The banks' commitment holds good until June 30, 1940, the date fixed for completion of the subways.

The banks last July agreed to buy $14,512,000 of the tax warants, but increased the amount of the guarantee when it was found that the subway plans picked by the PWA would cost more than originally contemplated for subway work.

City Finances Unharmed.

The council's finance committee recommended adoption of the ordinance after it had been assured by R. B. Upham, city controler, that withdrawal of the money from the fund would not disturb city finances.

It probably will not be necessary, Upham said, to sell any of the tax paper to the banks in 1938 and 1939, as sufficient warants will be redeemed with tax receipts to provide money for the subway work.

During 1940, however, the city may have to sell 5 or 6 million dollars worth of warants to the banks to complete the subway financing, he continued. He explained that it was necessary to get the banks' guarantee to buy up to the full 19 million dollars worth of warants in order to satisfy the PWA that the money would be available as needed.

Carl F. Farbach, general counsel for the PWA, returned to Washington yesterday with a draft of the subway contract between the PWA and the city. He prepared it here in the last three days after consulting with local PWA officials and city representatives. After PWA officials in Washington have approved the draft it will be returned for final approval by the city.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 20.—(AP)—A city councilman charged he was "given the rush" and a black eye today during a demonstration of Harvard students in the college yard, inspired by a demand of city fathers that the university be made a separate municipality.

Councilman Michael Sullivan said he had halted a group of marching students and asked to see their permit to parade when he was suddenly "rushed" from the scene.

Members of the Lampoon, undergraduate funmaking publication, were goose stepping around the yard in blue shirts, riding breeches, and Sam Brown belts, when a general mêlée started. Fellow students bombarded the Lampoon boys with eggs as, waving multihued flags, they marched past a trench dug for water pipes.

The paraders, dispersed by Charles Apted, head of the college police, said Sullivan tried to seize their flags when they told him they had no parade permit.

NEBRASKA KICKS ABOUT SIZE OF PWA ALLOTMENTS

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Nebraska citizens are protesting against the state's failure to get what they believe is the state's equitable share of PWA funds because of money spent in developing the little TVA, a power grid system that aims at statewide control of electricity.

A Nebraska citizens' committee which traveled to Washington failed to receive assurance Nebraska's quota would be increased. The committee wants $2,951,000 toward construction of fifty-two projects totaling $7,450,000.

Want 5 Million More.

Nebraska's total of new PWA funds on a population basis, the committee says, should be $7,500,000. The state has received, says the committee, only $2,215,436, exclusive of $5,190,000 to the Loup river public power district, one of three links in the little TVA.

The citizens' committee was sent to Washington after a protest meeting of 200 representatives of labor, contractors, and municipalities in Lincoln.

Solution of the problem means life or death to the building and contracting industry in Nebraska, said Britt Pryor, former president of the state federation of labor.

Money Spent in East.

William Parkinson, secretary of the Omaha Builders' Exchange, contends the state's hydro-electric projects did little to relieve unemployment in Nebraska, that most of the money was spent on materials, benefiting the industrial east rather than the agricultural west.

An Omaha river dock and terminal and many outstate irrigation projects are among those periled by the PWA attitude.

"If Omaha loses its chance for a river terminal because of money sunk in hydro schemes," complained Harry Trustin, Omaha commissioner of public improvements, "I couldn't say what I think in public."

MRS. LILLIAN SCHMIDT.

Harry C. Schmidt's marriage to Mrs. Lillian Schmidt failed because he bet too much on the races, Judge Robert C. O'Connell was told yesterday. Schmidt, who is 35 years old, is an accountant living at 5830 Kenmore avenue. Mrs. Schmidt, who lives at 7715 South Shore drive, had brought him into court for being $180 behind in his payments for the support of Harry Jr., 11 years old.

Mrs. Schmidt's attorney, Irving Eisenman, told about the horses. "They're evidently still his trouble," the attorney said, when Schmidt was unable to pay. "This is another race you've lost," the judge told Schmidt. "Six months in jail."

State Approves $133,835 Street Jobs in Chicago

BARGAINS GALORE AWAIT SHOPPERS AT FOOD STORES

WarmWeatherHoldsDown Vegetable Prices.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Advancements in retail food prices have been held in check by the exceptionally warm weather for this season of the year and the generous supplies of fruits and vegetables rolling in from local and outlying fruit and vegetable producing areas.

Merchants have marked down a long list of foods for today and tomorrow and increased the prices of comparatively few items. Many of the foods that are on the shoppers' regular list will be found on bargain counters. Thrifty housewives will find that a canvass of the shopping centers will pay, for the reductions are not uniform in all stores.

Lard and Butter Cheaper.

Cash and carry customers will have little trouble in finding lard at prices 1 to 2½ cents a pound under last week. Butter is on sale in city and suburban retail food centers. Roll butter is off 1½ cents and package butter 2 cents a pound. Some, however, have raised package butter a penny. American cheese also can be found at as much as 3 cents less than a week ago.

Several merchants decided yesterday to feature canned juices of tomatoes, grapefruit, pineapple and prunes. They also have on the display counters at lower prices package prunes, macaroni, cookies, salmon and tuna fish, and canned tomatoes, pumpkin, and apple cider.

Shipments of citrus fruits are increasing, especially from Florida. Texas growers have started sending their oranges to the Chicago market. Oranges are lower, and the small ones are considered especially reasonable in price.

Low Price on Grapefruit.

Grapefruits are unusually low in price for this season of the year. They are lower this week than last.

White and Idaho potatoes are off 2 cents a peck in a few places. Spinach is cheaper—the price has been cut 2 to 3 cents a pound within the last week.

Cauliflower is much cheaper. Prices are being pushed down by shipments of cauliflower that have just started to come in from Long Island. Broccoli also is lower.

Eggs are higher. Most grades are included in the price advance; some are up as much as 3 cents a dozen. A penny a pound was added to the price of green beans in many places. Lemons are up—5 cents a dozen added to the price in some stores. Rutabaga and eggplant are higher in some cases.

Warm weather has interfered with the butcher's business. There is a tendency for meat to continue to go lower. Many shops are holding fresh ham sales this week-end with prices 6 cents a pound under last week.

Cuts in Meat Prices.

Leg of lamb is off 2 cents a pound in some shops and loin lamb chops are off 4 cents in other places. Many butchers cut their pork loin prices 2 cents a pound.

In almost every shopping center there are butchers who have raised sirloin beef steaks 6 cents, porterhouse steaks, 4 cents, and pork spare ribs, 2 cents a pound.

Beef rib roast is up 2 cents in some shops and down an equal amount in others.

John Campbell, official live stock reporter at Union stockyards, says the wholesale price trend on fresh meats is downward. Dressed lamb is off 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds, pork loins and most beef carcasses are 50 cents a hundred lower. The best carcasses of beef, however, are about the same as a week ago.

Hogs Up 10 to 20 Cents.

Hogs are up 10 to 20 cents a hundred and lambs are 40 to 50 cents a hundred higher. Good and choice steers are reported to be steady to 50 cents a hundred lower than last week.

The central fruit and vegetable market reporters say no cheap Concord grapes are expected in Chicago this fall because of the short crop. Michigan growers have only a fourth of a normal crop of grapes.

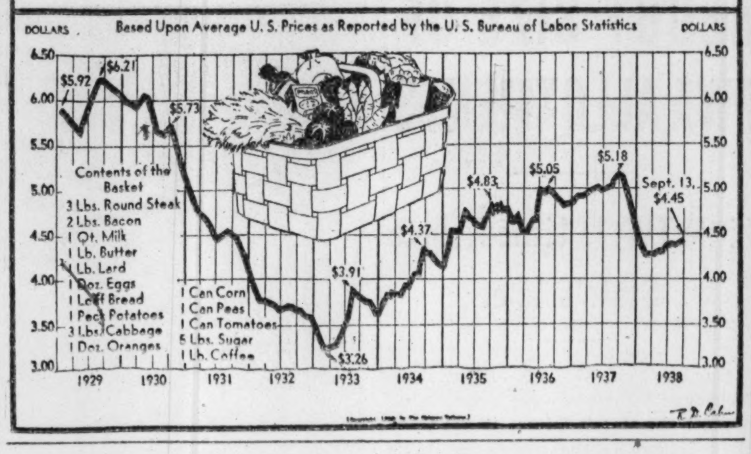
The Cost of the Market Basket Calculated From Government Prices



BOARD OF HEALTH WARNS AGAINST SCARLET FEVER

Warning that the scarlet fever season is ahead, officials of the board of health urged yesterday that parents safeguard their children against the disease. Early symptoms are listlessness, tiredness, sore throat, and a hot, dry skin. More cases were reported in September than in the same month of the two previous years, the board said.

Prevalence of whooping cough this year already has set a new record. More than 6,200 cases have been reported, as against the old record of 5,925 cases for a full year, set in 1936. There are relatively few deaths, however, from whooping cough.

EGGS IN BLACK BUTTER; RECTOR TO TELL YOU HOW

It's an old American custom for men to leave the cooking strictly to the women. In Europe it's not uncommon for a young man to choose a kitchen career, apprentice himself to a famous hotel or restaurant, and to work for almost nothing until he has qualified as a chef.

In the Café de Paris George Rector, the celebrated chef, had such an apprenticeship. There he became acquainted with a dish which later became a classic at Rector's café: Eggs au beurre noir [eggs in black butter].

In his column in the woman's section of next Sunday's TRIBUNE Mr. Rector will give the recipe for this delightful French importation. He also will tell his own recipes for egg timbale, eggs Florentine, nut bread, brown betty and hard sauce.

DON'T FRET OVER SOUR CREAM; IT'S GOOD IN FIG PIE

One of the best ways to use up sour cream is to bake a sour cream pie. In fact, sour cream pie is so good that it's worth letting the cream sour especially for it. Instead of putting raisins or dates in your next sour cream pie, try it with dried figs.

FIG SOUR CREAM PIE.

1 cup dried figs
1 cup brown sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon quick cooking tapioca
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon ginger
1 cup sour cream
2 eggs
4 tablespoons sugar
Pastry for 8 inch crust

Cover figs with boiling water and let stand about 5 minutes; drain, clip stems and put through a food chopper using medium knife. Combine sugar, salt, tapioca, and spice and blend with cream. Add beaten egg yolks, figs, and mix well. Allow to stand about 10 minutes. Pour into a pastry-lined pan and bake about 35 minutes in a hot oven [400 degrees]. Cover with meringue made of egg whites beaten with 4 tablespoons sugar. Lower oven temperature to 350 degrees and return pie to oven until meringue is browned, about 15 minutes.

IT'S EASY TO GIVE A NOVEL PARTY ON HALLOWEEN

Halloween offers so many opportunities for novel entertainment that one can scarcely blame the modern hostess for thinking that the ghosts, hobgoblins, black cats, and witches were invented for her special benefit.

If it's your turn to entertain the bridge club, or any group for that matter, during the last week of October you are a lucky woman. For it is easy to find dishes that are suited to the season.

ORANGE JACK O' LANTERNS.

Cut a slice from blossom end of large oranges. Scoop out insides. With sharp knife cut jack o' lantern features in side of orange. Combine orange pulp with diced apples, chopped celery, walnut meats and Mayonnaise to moisten and stuff into orange shells. Serve on bed of lettuce, one to each person.

DOUGHNUT SHORT CAKES.

Split doughnuts in half. Put together with oranges and bananas folded into whipped cream and top generously with more of the fruit and whipped cream mixture.

BLACK CAT PUMPKIN PIES.

Bake individual pumpkin pies. Using a paper pattern cut black cats from plain pastry which has been sprinkled with cinnamon or mixed pumpkin pie spice. Place one cat on top of each pie before baking.

WITCHES BROOMSTICKS.

Use long bread sticks. Make celery curls from short sticks of celery, crisping in ice water only long enough to spread split ends slightly. Tie two or three curls on one end of bread stick to make a broom.

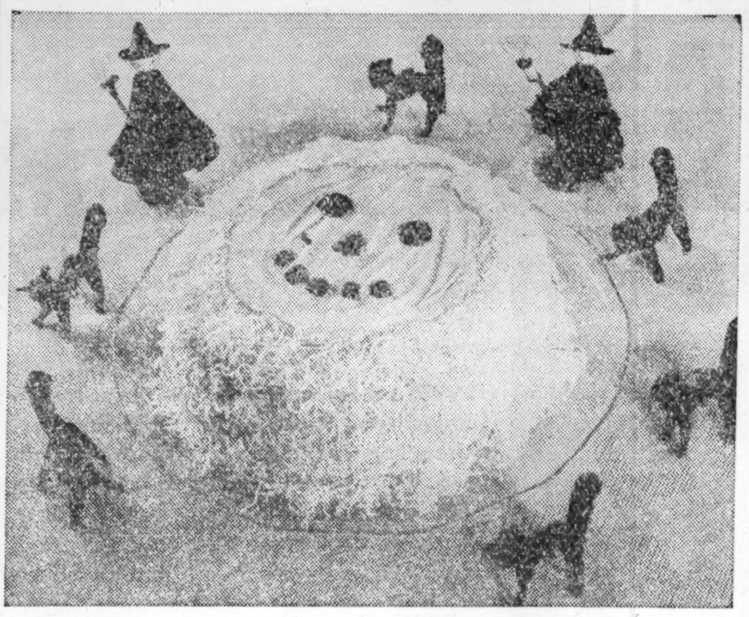
JACK O' LANTERN SANDWICHES.

Cut rounds of white and dark bread. Spread dark bread with any preferred sandwich spread and top with white bread in which features have been cut with sharp knife. Use rounds of white or dark bread. Spread with pimiento cream cheese. Make features of slices of ripe olive.

FROZEN FRUIT SALAD A LA HALLOWEEN.

Whip one-half cup of cream and fold in ¼ cup mayonnaise and 2 cups mixed chopped apricots, peaches, and pineapple. Freeze in cylindrical mold for mousse in 3 or 4 parts ice to 1 rock salt. To serve slice and place on bed of lettuce. Arrange features cut from candied fruits on each slice and serve with additional mayonnaise.

A Jack o' Lantern Cake



In this case the fearsome jack o' lantern serves only to make the cake look more attractive. It is a two layer white cake with orange tinted frosting. To do the decorating, cut a pumpkin shape from waxed paper and place it on top of the iced cake. Cover rest of cake with shredded coconut. Remove pattern and fill in with frosting. Use raisins to make the features. If you'd like a recipe for the cake and frosting, write to Mary Meade enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

HERE'S A CAKE THAT'S FROSTED WHEN IT'S DONE

A cake that comes out of the oven already frosted is really something—any busy homemaker will testify to that. There are plenty of baked toppings, but a marshmallow one on a butterscotch cake probably is best of all. Note that sugar and butter are cooked together, to give a rich butterscotch flavor to this cake.

BUTTERSCOTCH CAKE WITH MARSHMALLOW TOPPING.

½	cup butter
1½	cups brown sugar, packed
1	teaspoon vanilla
2	eggs
2	cups sifted cake flour
2	teaspoons baking powder
½	teaspoon salt
⅔	cup milk
12	marshmallows

Mix sugar and butter and cook over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Cool and add vanilla. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Mix and sift dry ingredients. Add alternately with milk to cooked mixture. Beat only until smooth. Pour into greased cake pan 9 by 9 inches. Arrange marshmallows at even intervals on top of batter and bake in a 350 degree oven until done, about 50 minutes.

YOU DON'T NEED TO BUY AN ENTIRE HAM JUST TO BAKE 2 SLICES OF IT

Next time you crave a taste of baked ham, but don't care to buy a whole ham, ask your butcher for two half inch slices and bake them with apples and raisins.

BAKED HAM SLICES

2 slices ham, ½ inch thick
2 large apples
Raisins
Fruit juice

Slash fat on ham in several places to prevent curling. Place one slice in bottom of greased baking dish. Wash and core apples. Cut in half inch slices and place over ham. Fill centers with raisins. Sprinkle with brown sugar and cover with second slice of ham. Moisten with about one-fourth cup of fruit juice or water. Bake in a moderate oven until ham and apples are done, about 45 minutes. Remove ham to platter and thicken remaining liquid with flour and water paste to make a sauce.

SYNOPSIS.

David Beddoes, young American, accompanies his cousin, Alison, to a party at Lady Wibbe's. By mistake they go to the house next door. While they are talking to the spinsterish woman who receives them they hear a woman scream and a body fall. The spinster explains it is a parrot. But young Penelope Wibbe says their strange neighbors have no parrot. But they acquire one next day. While in the house David had seen a favorite book of his former love, Betsy Greentree, with her initials in it. Betsy's father died after losing his money. While traveling in Europe with her aunt, Fanny Rush, Betsy met and married an Englishman, Geoffrey Scarpath. David learns the Scarpaths live in the mysterious house and sends a letter there to Betsy, which is unanswered. David confronts Scarpath, who explains that Betsy is suffering from a chronic nervous condition and can have no visitors, that she is being taken care of by his sister Evelyn. In the guise of a telephone repair man David gains a secret interview with Betsy and learns she did not receive his letter. She tells David her husband is not in love with her and she doesn't know why he married her. David arranges a scheme whereby they may communicate, with Penelope Wibbe's aid. Then Betsy's writing materials disappear. When Dr. Broderick, the specialist attending Betsy, insists on her taking the medicine, which always makes her feel worse, she grows desperate. Alison's friend, Dr. Colin Ladbroke, leaving her flat one night, finds Betsy unconscious on the threshold. Revived, Betsy explains Penelope helped her escape. She is half starved. Colin attends a lecture at which Dr. Broderick speaks. After it Colin invites his friend, Dr. MacConochie, also a neurologist, to his home for a drink.

INSTALMENT XXIX.

AMAZING REVELATIONS.

Sprawled by Colin's fire, Dr. MacConochie resumed where he had left off.

"New deescoveries! Why can't the windbag admeet he's on to nothing fresh? Broderick's no worse in that way than the most of us. It's spoiled he is and losing his grip."

"He still ranks at the top, I suppose?"

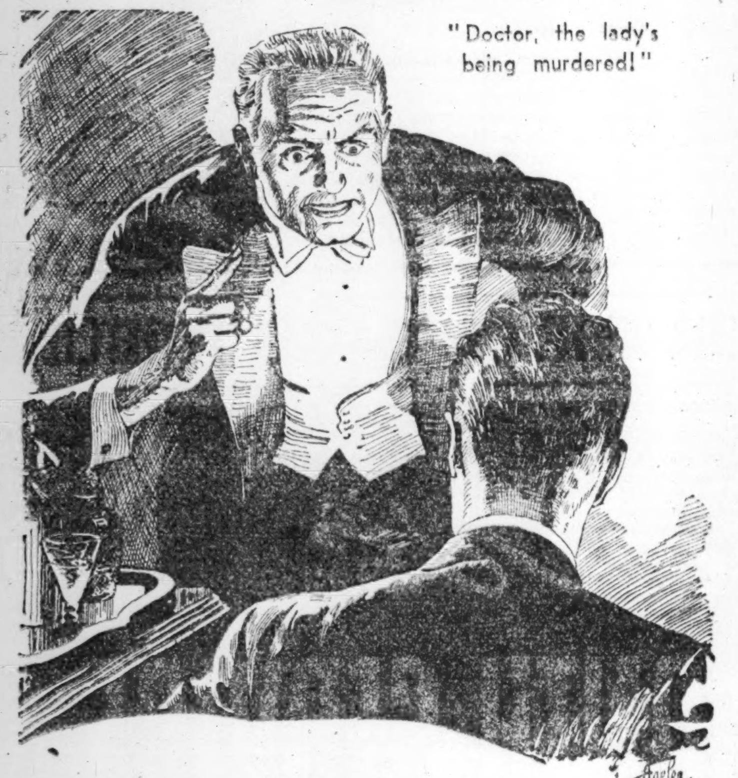
Darkly his guest declared that a reputation once wound up kept going for a considerable time of its own momentum, but as he said it his red-brown eye gleamed with a challenge for further discussion. Colin willingly rose to the bait.

"So you dined with Broderick. At his house was it?"

"It was not," grinned the Scotsman. "Think he'll be wasting social advances on me? No, 'twas a friendly rivals' occasion, arranged by our honorable chairman—five of us nerve-men, at a restaurant in Piccadilly, passing compliments to one another. Now, I'll tell ye!" He leaned forward. "I was there first, and Broderick came in on my heels. He didn't ken I was aboot, which is how I speired what I did."

"And what did you notice?" prompted Colin. "His poor physical condition? Fairly evident, that is."

"Mon, he was stricken!" The brawny specialist thumped his knee. "Shaking, droolin' at the mouth, a sight to make you weep! Takes one look round, grabs hold of the commissionaire and puts a question. The answer is 'No.' Down he falls on a seat by the entrance, hides behind a newspaper that's trembling and twitching, jumps up, sits back, forever keeping tabs on the door.



"Doctor, the lady's being murdered!"

"Weel, then, a pair-rson comes in. At least, not in, for Broderick sees him through the swing-doors, and out he pops like a jack-in-the-box. Back he comes alone, and makes a dive into the gentlemen's lavatory. Five minutes he's gone, and meanwhile Henderson, Barham, and the chairman have turned up. The four of us are standing there, waiting for our Martinis, when the guest of honor joins us. And the change in him!"

"Change?" asked Colin. "Why, how do you mean?"

"Not the same mon," declared the nerve specialist. "Spick and span, smiling, all pulled together. At the top of his form he was—and all, mind ye, in the five, or we'll say, seven minutes!"

After a pause, "So that's your idea?" said Colin slowly but with a brain revolving at high speed.

"And what else would I think?" retorted the Scot. "You saw him. Notice his horrid color? The soft, puckered skin of him, all dry, and the jumping muscles? Only for so long can he harness 'em. O, it's a shocking business! I've suspected it for some time, but tonight I had proof."

"The old story, I expect," remarked Colin cautiously. "Worked to death, sleeping badly—maybe domestic snarls to boot."

"Aye, and more! It's my opeenion these late years he's bitten off more than he can chew. Town establishment in a vairy expensive quarter, big country house, wife that tricks herself out like any royal duchess, two lads at Eton. I know for a fact he's refused a knighthood. Angling, you see, for a peerage—and that'll cost him a big wallop. Worries, is it? I'll tell you this: I'd not be standing in his shoes, not for all the birthday honors from noo till domesday!"

"What do you imagine it is—morphine, cocaine?"

"Cocaine," stated MacConochie promptly. "At the start careful doses, and only on rare occasions, presently bigger ones, and now——" he shrugged. "One of these days he'll overdo it. They'll find him dead in his bath, creditors howling like wolves round his door."

"Humph! Very interesting—and about the last thing I'd have conceived. What I'm asking myself is, to what extent would a habit of this kind affect judgment? In your experience could it lead to a faulty diagnosis?"

"Not of itself," MacConochie pronounced.

"I was thinking," Colin resumed, "of a patient just come under my care who is said to be suffering from multiple sclerosis. Strictly speaking, I shouldn't venture to treat her, only there are circumstances. . . . To be frank, I've seen what may be rather glaring contradictions. The thing, throughout, is peculiarly complicated, I may add. Mind if I just outline the facts to see how they strike you?"

"And why not? I'll be pleased to hear."

They talked late. MacConochie, whom further whisky seemed to render the more clear minded, gave concentrated attention, questioning, weighing answers with pursed lips, and growing for a time extremely cautious. He would require, obviously, to make a personal, perhaps a prolonged, examination of the patient. On one or two points, however, he was dogmatic, even scathing. Once he sprang from his chair, eyes blazing. "Doctor," he roared, "the lady's being mur-rdered! Have ye the least doubt?"

"That's the odd feature. There is, apparently, a most definite doubt. Quite apart from the lack of a visible motive, I've reason to believe . . . but there are a few bits I haven't told you."

At the close MacConochie was no longer listening.

"Say no more!" he burst out impetuously. "Just you slip the little lady along to me—unoffeecially, understand?—and let me look her over. How's that? Between friends it is. I've heard ye say she's no money. That'll be all richt." He waved a flail-like arm.

It was precisely what Colin had been angling for. He had guessed that MacConochie, niggling over pennies, might propose this generous act—partly through professional inquisitiveness, partly to score off a rival, and not a little by reason of a north of Tweed tenderness where womenfolk were concerned. He expressed his gratitude, found it swept aside, and at once spoke of appointments.

"We can't make it just yet." The nerve specialist thumbed over a shabby little diary. "Tomorrow I go to Edinburgh, to deleever two lectures. Fix it for Saturday—at noon exact. That do? Now, then! My advice to ye is to gang as ye're ganging, and while ye're aboot it make sairtain of the thing we mentioned just noo. I'd want the report on that, see?" He moved to the outer door, opened it, and faced the fine drizzle. Scorning a taxi—"Hoot, 'tis a braw nicht for a guid pair of legs!"—he clattered off homeward, taking enormous strides.

A gray car slid away from the enclosure railings and crawled slowly after the big Scotsman's figure. To Colin, watching, it bore a strong resemblance to the one parked on Monday night by the Foundling hospital. Well, and if it was? If Scarpath wanted to spy, let him.

The gray car was in Queen Anne street the next afternoon when Dr. Ladbroke brought his patient away from her first visit to Svendsen, the Swedish masseur. She failed utterly to notice it, her mind being too full of her new, breathless excitement.

"Only one go at me, and look, I've walked all this way without a single stumble! It can't be true. It isn't possible."

Far too early to be sure, but, whatever the case, here was the girl putting on flesh, sleeping like a top, and in every way making visible improvement.

KNOWING TYPES OF SHRIMP IS COOKERY HELP

BY MARY MEADE.

"What do you suppose was the matter with my shrimp salad?" asked a charming business associate of ours, who hasn't a great deal of time to devote to her cookery. "We couldn't eat it. It was awful! Why the shrimp were a funny green color," she said.

We suggested that she might have used uncooked shrimp, and she was quite astonished. She hadn't realized that markets usually carry both raw and boiled fresh shrimp, and that the difference between them is a difference between a greenish-gray color and a bright pink.

When you buy fresh, uncooked shrimp, you'll need to wash them, then cook them about 15 minutes in boiling, salted water. After they're cooked, drain and remove shells, legs, and intestinal veins. These last are the dark lines down the back of shrimp which always need to be removed, even from canned shrimp.

Now the shrimp are ready to chill for cocktails, or to serve hot in any of a score of ways.

Creamed Shrimp.

[Serves four.]

1 pound fresh shrimp or 2 cups canned
1½ cups milk
1½ tablespoons butter
1½ tablespoons flour
¾ teaspoon salt
Pepper or paprika

Make a white sauce by blending butter, flour, and seasonings and adding milk. Cook over low heat until smooth and thickened. Add shrimp and let heat through.

CURRIED SHRIMP: Add ½ to 2 teaspoons curry powder [depending upon how sharp flavored you like the dish] to the sauce for creamed shrimp.

Creole Shrimp.

[Serves four.]

2 cups cooked or canned shrimp
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup cooked rice
½ cup cream
¾ cup tomato sauce or paste
¼ teaspoon celery salt
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon onion juice
Buttered crums

Cook shrimp gently in melted butter for several minutes. Add other ingredients and place in a buttered baking dish. Scatter fine, buttered bread or cracker crums over the top and bake at 350 degrees for half an hour. More salt may be needed than is called for, especially if the rice wasn't cooked in salted water, as it should have been.

FRENCH FRIED SHRIMP.

[Serves four.]

Season 1 pound cooked or canned shrimp with salt and pepper, and dip in milk and then in cornmeal or sifted dry crums. Fry in deep, hot fat at 380 degrees for about 3 minutes, or until golden brown. Drain and serve at once with or without a tartar sauce.

HERE IS ANOTHER WAY TO PREPARE SWEET POTATOES

Looking for a new and different way of serving sweet potatoes? You'll find the answer in sweet potato and pineapple fritters. They are not at all hard to make and are most attractive for company luncheon or dinner. Or for a simpler dish, pour the batter into a greased casserole, dot with butter and bake in a hot [425 degrees] oven until done, about 30 minutes.

SWEET POTATO AND PINEAPPLE FRITTERS

[Serves six.]

2½ cups cooked or canned sweet potatoes
2 eggs
4 tablespoons melted butter
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup drained crushed pineapple
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg

Wash sweet potatoes; measure two cups. Mix together potatoes, eggs, butter and salt. Add pineapple; add flour sifted with baking powder and nutmeg; beat well. Drop by spoonfuls into hot deep fat [375 degrees] and fry to a golden brown.

Front Views and Profiles

Thrills and Chills.

Are we entering a cycle of morbidity? The theaters are resurrecting Karloff's and Lugosi's chillers. Peter Quill gives us the shivers every Friday, and the "Lights Out" orgies are returning to the air. Two weird tales, one of them a revised version of an old one, are being repeated all over town.

The first story, told as a true story to Hank Richards by the secretary to a La Salle street attorney, concerns a girl unemployed for months, who turned to Our Lady of Sorrows church for solace and help. She had completed her ninth novena and was leaving the church when a tall, cadaverous man approached her, asking if he could be of assistance.

"You are seeking employment," he ventured after her assurance that he could do nothing for her. "Take this card to the address given on it and," scribbling a signature on the back, "give it to the gentleman you find there and ask him for work."

The girl went the next day to the address given, found herself in the office of a business man, and asked for employment.

"Yes, I do need a secretary," the man said, "but how could you have known? I didn't know myself until yesterday, and I've told no one."

The girl handed him the card and explained how it had been given her.

"Incredible," the man gasped. "The signature is that of my brother. He's been dead for years."

The other tale tomorrow.

Later version:

Ticket Buyer.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was a visitor at the Chicago Historical society yesterday. The girl at the reception desk failed to recognize her and charged admission. She paid, without identifying herself.

Mrs. Roosevelt wanted to see Mrs. Thorne's miniature rooms. She said, with characteristic frankness, "I don't care for period rooms, but these are lovely."

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

We always were crazy about those little purse kits. Now that fashion has decreed bags as big as tents and as soft and shapeless as a yard of satin we hurry to remind you of them again. They are the only answer to the problem of keeping your big bag tidy. And they do away with the fishing for key or lipstick that is so ungraceful and so irritating.

These purse kits are very well made, some in lether, some in moiré and taffeta, and come in a raft of colors. Once you've used one you'll be a slave to them for life.

Each flat little kit has six pockets. Some one figured out that you can stow away about two dozen items in its compact depths. And certainly there is adequate provision in the kit for the indispensables that would otherwise tumble about your bag in strange and wonderful confusion.

There are pockets for compact, comb, lipstick, keys, and hairpins. Anything else you'd like to tuck in, short of a machine gun, you'll find space for, too. Into ours we manage to tuck pencils, handkerchief, mirror, nail file, and cards. Personally, we find the purse kit indispensable.

Right now there are some new ones, one with a zipper and another with the new and most acceptable feature of a slim wallet in which you may slip your bills. This wallet has a flat pocket for change. It's all a little miracle of efficiency.

You can actually use these removable purse kits as bags if you want to. They're quite good looking enough—and Lord knows they hold everything!

The Housewife

Are you one of those clever housewives who likes to make her kitchen curtains herself? If you are we suggest you try checked gingham the next time you shop for materials. In the first place it's a most appropriate fabric for the kitchen, in the second place it's ever so pretty, and in the third, it comes in so many colors and sizes of checks that you won't have difficulty matching your walls or your towels or floor.

It pays to get a good quality and to shrink it before you start cutting it. Rick-rack braid—two or three rows of it—makes an attractive edging for these curtains. It can be in white or in the color of the checks.

As Low As Five Dollars

Elsa Maxwell Will Be Guest at Two Parties

BY JUDITH CASS.

WHEN Elsa Maxwell, known on two continents as a party-giver, comes to Chicago it is certain to occasion furor among Chicago's noted party-givers. Miss Maxwell, who aptly has been called "Number One Social Lion Tamer," will lecture under the auspices of the Junior guild of St. Luke's Pro-cathedral in Evanston.

Now, the junior guild is composed of as nice a group of young women as could be found, young women who entertain charmingly in their homes and clubs, but, after all, they aren't exactly the sort of party-givers who should or would want to entertain for Miss Maxwell, who this time will be a lion instead of a lion tamer.

So, what more fitting than that two of Chicago's most noted hosts should come forward and undertake to give parties for the lady? Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, president of the Arts club, has planned a tea for next Friday, the day Miss Maxwell will arrive, and Ernest Byfield has arranged a supper party for that night following the lecture.

The lecture, entitled "Today Society Is Different," will be given at Orchestra hall. Mr. Byfield's party will be in the Pump room of the Ambassador East hotel, and Miss Gertrude Lawrence has agreed to act as hostess that night.

Hostess and Guests Are Old Friends.

Miss Maxwell and Miss Lawrence are old friends, of course, for both belong to that international set of sophisticates that we Chicagoans hear and read about but seldom see at close quarters or in numbers.

Miss Maxwell has herself done much to change the dignified social worlds of New York and London into the giddy merry-go-rounds they are said to be now, so she should know well the subject on which she is to speak for the benefit of the St. Luke's charities. Chase house and St. Mary's home are among the organizations to which the St. Luke's guild contributes.

Mrs. Arch Richards is general chairman of the benefit and Mrs. Dean H. Rosensteel is president of the guild. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the committee or at Orchestra hall. Catherine Littlefield, director of the ballet that will appear with the Chicago City Opera company this season, is to be an especial guest at the Arts club tea, too.

English Union Tea for Miss Lawrence.

Today at tea-time at the Arts club it will be Miss Lawrence who will be the "lion," but it is the English-Speaking union and not the club that is entertaining for the attractive star of "Susan and God."

Receiving with Mrs. Samuel M. Rinaker, the wife of the president of the union, will be Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, Mrs. Sterling Morton, Mrs. James B. Forgan, Mrs. Louis C. Seaverns, Miss Jean Armstrong, Mrs. Winston Elting, and Mrs. Arthur A. Small.

Pouring will be Mrs. John R. Winterbotham, Mrs. Charles S. Dewey Jr., Mrs. Byron S. Harvey Jr., Mrs. Thomas S. Tyler, Mrs. Arthur G. Bissell, and Mrs. Shreve C. Badger.

Mrs. John Paul Welling will act as hostess at the Cliff Dwellers this afternoon at the regular Friday after the concert tea. Assisting Mrs. Welling will be Mrs. John Alden Carpenter, who is just back from a summer in the east; Mrs. James Field, Mrs. Charles H. Swift, Mrs. Henry Voegeli, and Mrs. Tiffany Blake.

The artist members of the Cordon will be especial guests at the Cordon's weekly tea today. An exhibition of artist members is hanging now in the club galleries.

Vassar Alumnae Start Series of Parties Today.

Chicago Vassar alumnæ are giving the first of a series of tea and cocktail parties this afternoon at Vassar house, 540 North Michigan avenue. Professional dancers will illustrate the Lambeth walk and then dance with any guests who want to try the new dance.

Flowers Given Vital Role in Evening Mode

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Fashions in flowers are as mysteriously feminine and as flatteringly worn as any of the small new hats. If St. Luke's fashion show didn't prove that all lovely ladies are much lovelier with flowers, the spectacular parade wasn't the big success we all thought it was.

The flower interlude was almost a spotlight stealer. Violets and red roses were combined to make the most romantic and typically feminine corsage or nosegay for any sort of costume. Perfect foils for slim, smart, black suits, perfumed accents for luxurious muffs, and still more effective tucked in the belt of soft green or dove gray wool daytime dresses worn under short fur jackets.

Orchids, fabulously lovely in deep fuchsia shades, are the last gasp for weddings, for afternoon costumes of dull wool combined with glittering lamés. Orchids last amazingly long with just average care; come expertly arranged and wrapped with matching tape but no fluttering bows or extras to mar their luxury. It's no trick at all to cherish an orchid corsage for four to five days. And they're breathtaking in beauty as well as price these days.

White flowers are extremely high fashion . . . from the waxy, well loved, fragrant gardenias to the exciting new arrangements of valley lilies clustered inside a carefully spread out easter lily.

There are dashing new ideas in foliage leaves. Among the most romantic flowers are the spikes of waxy white stephanotis. These are all for dress parade costumes, arranged with superb artistry, without stiffness and without extra doodads such as silver ribbon or colored loops or ferns.

For tweeds and street wools, nothing can match the lapel nosegays of button chrysanthemums, in white, wine, gold yellow, and orange; some are mixed and some in one tone. The only way to wear them, of course, is with the stems DOWN.

Lovely Tea Tables

If the 3,000 persons who attended the sixtieth annual reception at the Art institute yesterday had been asked to select the most attractively decorated tea table it is probable that each of the five tables would have received an equal number of votes.

Never before in the years this reporter has been attending the Art institute receptions have all the tables been so lovely; it would have been almost impossible to choose which was the most effective.

If the women had been asked which they came to see, the paintings and sculpture of the forty-ninth annual American exhibition or the tea tables and the women who presided at them, the honest answer would have been the latter, I am sure. And why not? The paintings and pieces of sculpture will be there through Dec. 4, and it is only once a year that Art institute members as a body have the chance to be served tea by the best known women in social and artistic circles.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

While admitting that the story of "Too Hot to Handle" has some elements of the unusual, fact remains that I reacted limply to the piece as a whole.

It just doesn't seem a fitting vehicle for any of the principal players, and, while it CAN boast moments of suspense and humor, there are so many forced and incredible situations, so much dialog that doesn't ring true, that, well honestly—I was bored a good part of the time. . . . And I assure you when a film which features Myrna Loy, Clark Gable, Walter Pidgeon, Walter Connolly, and Leo Carrillo can so affect an observer, it's a phenomenon of sorts. . . .

Messrs. Gable and Pidgeon are discovered as rival newsreel camera men over in Shanghai. . . . Myrna Loy is a loving sister, flying around the world in search of an airman brother who has disappeared. He is believed by all but herself to be dead. She is sure such is not the case. . . . Alma and Bill Dennis have been chums since childhood. . . .

When the New York office rears and tears its hair because no punchful news stuff is being sent in by Bill, he cables Alma—then in Manila—to come to the rescue on a fake stunt. . . . In this lamentable enterprise to fool the people, Chris becomes entangled. . . . Alma's complicity caused her to become "too not to handle." I'll let the picture explain this angle.

Strange indeed are the happenings that occur before Alma and Chris are sorted out together and Chris pays through the nose for having been a naughty—if enterprising boy.

Fate leads all three to Brother's place of captivity in an African jungle and permits the picture to indulge in considerable high and low class voodoo stuff. . . . Chris' impersonation of a new kind of a medicine man, who uses news reels to properly impress the natives, provides some of the picture's brightest moments.

Miss Loy and her co-stars neither look their best nor act with particular enthusiasm. Leo Carrillo, as Hunter's assistant, is the most enjoyable person in the cast.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 20.—(AP) Eighty thousand Catholics, marchin twelve abreast and singing hosanna today staged the greatest religious demonstration in the city's history at the conclusion of the eighth national eucharistic congress.

From the gondola of a gray blimp that lolled overhead a priest looked down on the throngs and directed their singing by means of amplifiers.

Toward the end of the two mile parade route Cardinal Mundelein knelt on a float before the holy eucharist in the $30,000 gold monstrance draped with burgundy velour

Every Star Has Her Off-Stage Beauty Worry

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Even the Hollywood beauties have their little problems, as one just reported—how to look off the screen what a loving public visualizes them. Lovely they must be.

The eyes, of course, present the main consideration. Actresses with a reputation for starry-eyed wonder and soulful emotion such as Claudette Colbert, Janet Gaynor, Bette Davis, and Louise Rainer are employing the same subtle eye makeup which they use for the screen. Incidentally, this type of makeup can be every bit as beneficial and exciting for the fans as it is for the stars.

If your eyes are small or deep set, you can create an illusion of size by arching the eyebrows just a trifle lower than usual. Plucking just a few of the hairs from the upper edge of the brows and accenting the lower arch a trifle with a pencil will give the desired effect. Mascara the tips of the lashes and delicately outline the edge of the lids with a brow pencil. Be careful not to use too much eyeshadow.

If your eyes have that round, innocent look, be careful not to overdo it, especially if your face is round, or you will have that "baby doll" look, which is to be avoided if you want to appear truly charming. Follow the natural browline, and do not pluck the brows. Mascara only the lashes from the center of the eye to the outer corner and when outlining the lids, start the line at the center of the eye and continue it imperceptibly just a trifle beyond the outer corner of the eye.

Large eyes are a splendid feature, but if they are too prominent they may throw the face out of balance. If you have large eyes, use a soft loose hairdress with no small curls or dips. Small lines in hair or makeup tend to accentuate heavy features. In applying makeup, attempt to draw attention to the lower part of the face. Never pluck the brows, but, at the same time, do not pencil them too heavily.

Hollywood Actors Will Start Punching Time Clocks Nov. 1

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Something new is coming into the lives of Hollywood's actors and actresses—time cards and time clocks.

The new screen actors' guild contract, which goes into effect Nov. 1, limits hours of work for players to forty-eight a week, with provisions for overtime.

Overtime goes to all actors earning $1,000 a week or less. Extras have been receiving overtime.

Murray Kinnell, an executive of the guild, estimates that at least 70 per cent of the so-called "name" people are paid less than $1,000 a week.

lar entertainer, will play the piano and sing. He makes up songs about people in the room and from his years with Miss McLaughlin he knows many persons on the near north side by sight.

Friends of the Children's Memorial hospital will stop in at 625 North Michigan avenue before or after the symphony concert today to see a special exhibition of dinner and luncheon table settings arranged in competition by members of the hospital's junior board.

The Chicago Woman's Symphony Orchestral association is sponsoring a program at 11 o'clock this morning at the Woman's Athletic club. John Palmer, authority on music and musical history, will talk about the program to be given next Tuesday night by the Woman's Symphony at its first concert of the season.

Miss Mae Doelling Schmidt will assist at the piano. The lecture is exclusively for members of the association and their guests.

Next Monday Mrs. Clifford Caldwell will give a reception at her home, 199 Lake Shore drive, for Igor Gorin and Izler Solomon, who will be guest soloist and conductor with the orchestra Tuesday night.

Lillian Mowrer, author of "Journalist's Wife," who is to speak before the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations at luncheon today at the Palmer house, will be heard by members of the Woman's Athletic club and their guests at 11:30 o'clock next Tuesday at the club. The subject of Mrs. Mowrer's talk today is "France after the Crisis."

William H. Wieboldts Are Parents of Son.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wieboldt [Barbara Ann Sargent] of Oak Park are being congratulated on the birth of their first child, a boy, on Wednesday at the Presbyterian hospital. The baby has been named for his father. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sargent of Winnetka and his paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Werner A. Wieboldt of Highland Park.

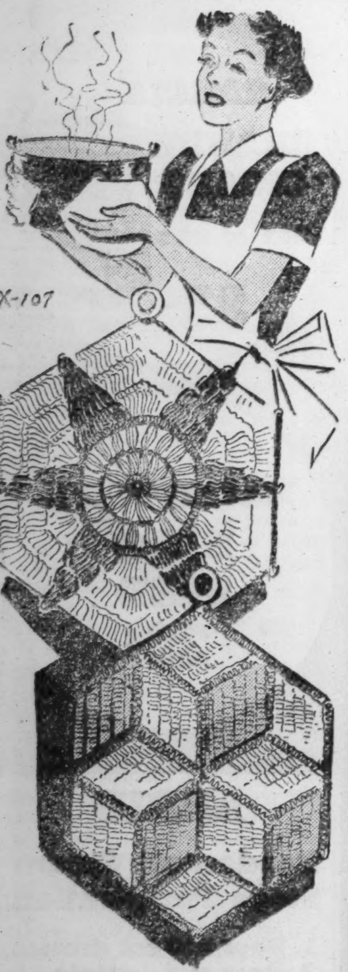
The same day, but two hours later, a son was born to Mr. Wieboldt's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Werner A. Wieboldt Jr. of Sabinal, Tex. This baby also has been named for his father. Mrs. Wieboldt is the former Elizabeth Ann Wall of Galveston.

Mrs. Frederick M. Schmidt is busy answering inquiries about her new granddaughter, the infant born in New York on Monday at the Doctors' hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Teegen [Dorothy Schmidt]. Mrs. Schmidt will go east in three or four weeks to see her grandchild, who may be named Clara after her grandmother.

Dudley Northcote is arriving today for a fortnight's visit with his cousins, Mrs. Thomas Grover and Mrs. Grover Winston, of 200 East Chestnut street. Mr. Northcote's home is in England, but he lived in Chicago with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Amyas S. Northcote, some years ago.

The Mario Braggiottis [Mary Melville Clow] and his piano partner, Jacques Fray, are arriving today from California. The team of Fray and Braggiotti is to spend two months on a concert tour in the middle west, so Mrs. Braggiotti's parents, the junior William E. Clows, and her friends expect to see the visitors frequently.

Crocheted Holders for the Kitchen Utilize Scraps



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Every well appointed kitchen has a variety of pot holders and, regardless of the number, there never seems to be enough. Crocheted holders are an ideal choice because they utilize scraps of thread and one can have any number of color schemes harmonious with the kitchen decor. The two hexagonal pot holders are easily made of simple stitches, and half a dozen can be created in a short time. They are an excellent suggestion for shower gifts or presents in general.

For directions for crocheting the pot holders, No. X-107, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

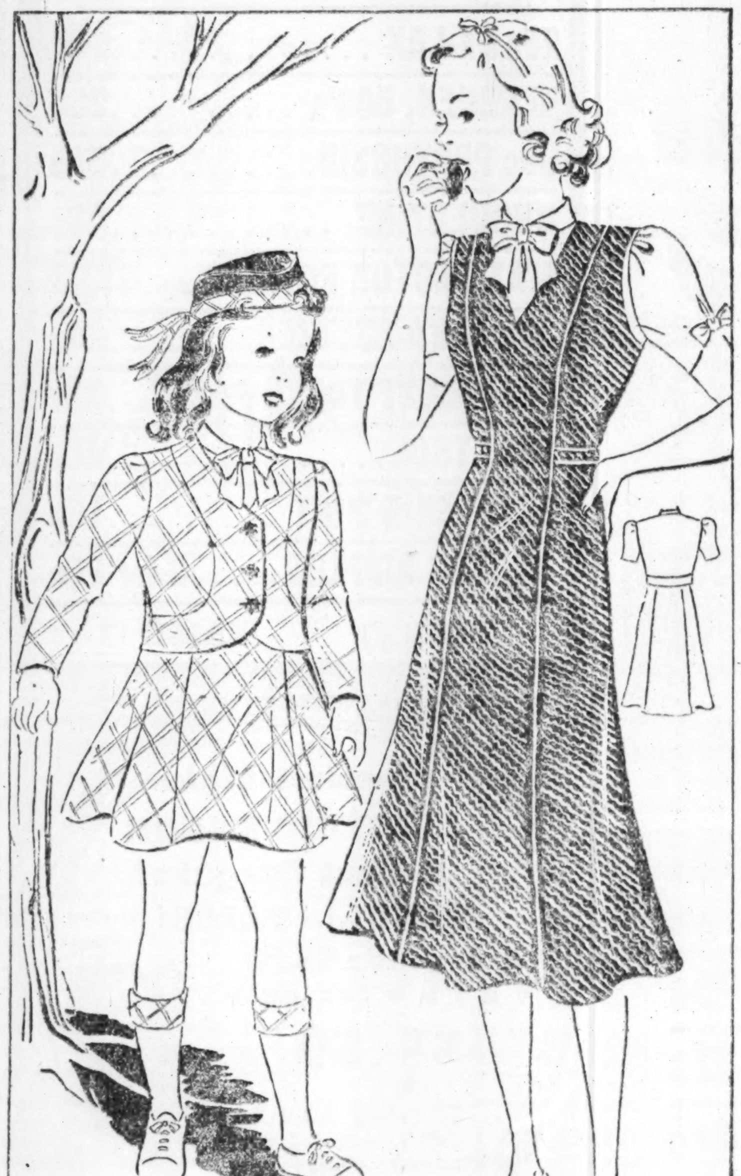
Practical Fashions United



GIRL'S JUMPER DRESS WITH JACKET.

Two of the most practical fashions for schoolgirls are combined in this one pattern, the jacket dress and the jumper. Without the topper the frock is an attractive union of jumper skirt and contrasting blouse. With the jacket it is a suit ensemble that is extra warm by virtue of two layers of woolen fabrics over the chest, one that of the jacket, the other that of the skirt top. Princess styling prevails in the skirt, which is paneled for streamlined fit and has a narrow belt from the side seams around the back. The blouse has a high, tied neckline and short puffed sleeves trimmed with bows. The jacket is collarless and the neckline is V, to allow the blouse to show.

All types of woolens make up attractively, with soft woolen, silk, or cotton in a contrasting shade used for the blouse. Of course, you may use silk for the entire costume, if you prefer.

Style No. 3443 is designed for sizes, 6, 8, 10, 12, and 14 years. Size 8 requires 1⅞ yards of 35 inch material for the jumper, 1¼ yards of 39 inch material for the long-sleeved jacket, and 1 yard of 35 inch fabric for the blouse.

A Son of Bach Wins Place in Chicago Music

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Chicago Symphony orchestra patrons were introduced last evening to the work of a composer whose name has never before appeared on these programs. He did not come upon the stage of Orchestra hall to bow his acknowledgments at the conclusion of the piece. He has been dead 150 years.

The "he" in all this is Johann Christian Bach, a son of Johann Sebastian and one of the last of the twenty children of that redoubtable papa. The work is his Symphony No. 4, in D major, which is hardly a symphony at all in the modern sense of the term. The third movement is a repetition of the first. In between is an andante. There are themes of surprising lyrical loveliness with a freedom and a length of line that dimly prefigure the Mozart slow movements and the trios of his minuets. Very lightly scored, the symphony received at the hands of Frederick Stock and the orchestra a performance which did justice to its eighteenth century reticence.

More important from a musical standpoint than Johann Christian's success in finally muscling into the orchestra's proud program books was the first American performance last evening of Nicolas Miaskowsky's Symphony No. 15. A comparatively recent [1935] work of this appallingly prolific Russian, the symphony won a great popular success and kept last night's audience applauding loudly for a considerable time.

In general the symphony is cheery, brilliant, and fast moving, although its slow movement betrays a little of the sorrowfulness of the same composer's more familiar Sixth.

The symphony's melodies are full of odd intervals, startlingly original in their fulfillment or lack of it. Harmonies are virtually never very alarming. In fact, a second year student could parse most of the slow movement. Rhythmically, the piece is restless and urgent, characteristics which are strengthened by the brash, clashing tone colorings which are freely used throughout.

Completing the program were Strauss' "On the Shores of Sorrento" [from the symphonic fantasia, "Aus Italien"] and the Brahms Second symphony.

OPERA ENTHUSIASM

BY CECIL SMITH.

Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoor," the San Carlo Opera company's penultimate addition to the current répertoire, aroused great enthusiasm in last night's Auditorium theater audience.

Lucille Meusel delivered her coloratura music with remarkable agility, at the same time projecting its expressive qualities with exquisite phrasing and completely disarming charm.

To the first part of the mad scene she brought such tonal warmth and such rare taste that Carlo Peroni, the conductor, had difficulty persuading the audience to let her go on with the ensuing cabaletta.

The tenor part of Edgar proved an especially happy one for Rolf Gerard, who sang with more force than I have heard from him before, without sacrificing his musical integrity. Apart from a tendency to bellow—especially in the sextet, where he overbalanced every one else—Mostyn Thomas was satisfactory in the ungrateful character of Lucia's avaricious brother.

Harold Kravitt, Francesco Curci, and Charlotte Bruno were among the capable exponents of shorter rôles. Joseph Pizzo played the harp intermezzo beautifully and Mr. Peroni conducted one of his most masterly performances.

The famous Roth quartet of Vienna gives its first Chicago concert at Mundelein college tonight. Quartets by Beethoven, Dohnanyi, and Haydn are listed.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

Ely Culbertson will present Autobridge playing boards to all readers who attain master ranking in the national bridge examination.

As I stated yesterday, this self-rating examination is a test of general knowledge and therefore Culbertson players will not be favored over the followers of other systems. Every question will be answered on a basis of pure logic. Later on I will discuss the close questions in this column, hence I ask examinees not to argue with me through the mails until such time as it appears that I have passed up the query they had in mind.

Remember, if you want me to rate your answers and, when the exam is over, send you a certificate of merit if you have earned a good score, you must mail each week's answers [in one batch] to me, care of THE TRIBUNE. Post your envelope before 5 p. m. every Sunday.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question 7: You are West, declarer at a three no trump contract. Your hand and dummy are as follows:

DECLARER	DUMMY
♠ A 10 2	♠ Q 7
♥ K Q 4	♥ J 7 3
♦ Q J 9 2	♦ A 10 8 6 3
♣ A Q 9	♣ K 8 4

North's opening lead is the six of spades. What card do you play from dummy, and why? [One sentence will be sufficient for the explanation.]

TODAY'S HAND.

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ 8 5
♥ Q 7
♦ 4 3
♣ A K Q J 9 6 4

WEST	EAST
♠ K Q J 10	♠ 9 7 4 3 2
♥ K 10 9 6	♥ 8 5 4 3 2
♦ J 9 7 2	♦ 5
♣ 5	♣ 7 3

SOUTH
♥ A J
♦ A K Q 10 8 6
♣ 10 8 2

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
3 clubs	Pass	7 no trump	Double
Pass	Pass	Redouble	Pass
Pass	Pass

After learning about North's solid club suit [the new Culbertson convention is that an opening three bid in a minor suit shows an absolutely solid suit] South would have been better advised to contract for seven clubs rather than seven no trump. But in this case the latter contract, redoubled, worked out very nicely.

The title of this hand might well be "The Magnanimous Declarer," because a curious thing happened on the opening lead. West, in detaching the spade king, happened to let the heart king also fall on the table! West was horrified at this accident. By the rules both cards became exposed. He could, of course, select the spade king as his lead, but the heart king would remain subject to call. West immediately started to moan about the declarer's "uncanny luck," volunteering that the contract "never would have had a chance without the accident because he, West, had the diamond suit stopped." North had spread his hand as dummy the moment the two cards hit the table, and now declarer, after a rapid survey, smiled benignly on West, and with a lordly wave of the hand, said: "O, go on. Pick up the heart king!" West beamed and hastily accepted the offer, but his relief was short lived. The spade ace won and declarer immediately laid down the heart ace. Seven clubs then were rattled off. For the last four cards declarer retained his A K Q 10 of diamonds. When West had to discard to the last club he suddenly saw the light. He could not let go the heart king without establishing dummy's heart queen, nor could he let go a diamond without giving declarer four diamond tricks.

Tomorrow's Hand

Neither side vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ A K 10 6 4

Mr. Culbertson will discuss this hand in tomorrow's column.

Pre-School Child Needs Varied Toys

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"What should my 15 months' old little daughter have to play with? She is trying to do so many things—not just hold them, but do them. She gets so upset when she fails. What can you suggest?"

Home and dozens of things in it—in the kitchen, livingroom, bathroom, and bedroom—make the most wonderful playground for a small boy or girl. But we can supplement all that with simple toys and equipment.

This baby ought to have a great deal of freedom about the house, and should be watched to see just what things she can play with successfully. She needs large, hollow blocks. The better toy stores and department stores have blocks that are just right for this age. Picture books fit in, too. The following are suggestions for other playthings for children under 3:

Coal shovels, pails, sand shovels, zinc shovels, wooden spoons, trowels, footstools, low tables, solid, low chairs, big soft balls, hammer, nails; blocks, large, solid 6 by 4 by 3 inches; blocks, large solid [paving blocks] 8 by 4 by 4 inches; blocks, large hollow, 8 by 8 by 4 inches; smaller round corner blocks, animals, soft dolls, soft squares of cloth in primary colors to wrap dolls in, irons to iron squares of cloth, wagons [four wheeled] with sides and without, pieces of wood to load in wagon, wheelbarrow, slide, kiddie cars, two planks nailed together, raised an inch which can be laid flat or inclined to increasing degrees of steepness, for walking; sand boxes, pebble boxes.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Urgent Appeals for Beds.

A case worker on the south side has sent an urgent appeal for two single beds or cots, complete. One is for a child of 10, now under observation for tuberculosis, who has been sleeping on the floor because of overcrowded living conditions. The other is for a man, one of an extremely large family, just released from a state institution. This home, too, is much overcrowded, and he has no bed. The worker will arrange transportation of offers, but would, of course, prefer those on the south side.

—if you crave strange foods, if you continually lose weight, if you have a sense of fullness in the abdomen, a tired feeling, a numbness in the arms or legs, or if you crave food shortly after eating — then you may have a Tapeworm.

The only sure proof is the passing of the white, flat, ribbon-like links in the stools. Double doses of Jayne's Vermifuge (full strength) often cause these pieces to appear.

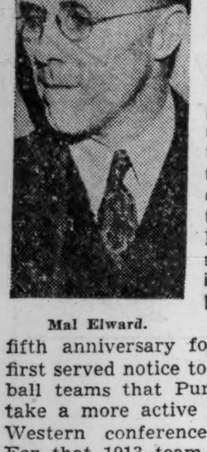
NORTHWESTERN TO SOLVE ILLINOIS PUZZLE

IT'S A THRILLER, THIS WISCONSIN, PURDUE SERIES

More Fireworks Are Due Tomorrow.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]



Mal Elward.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 20.—'Way back in 1913, when A. A. Stagg and Chicago feared Purdue and Elmer Oliphant, but beat them, 6 to 0, the Boilermakers tied Wisconsin, 7 to 7. Tomorrow night, on the eve of the homecoming game with Wisconsin's Badgers, the member of that 1913 Purdue eleven will be the guests of honor at the alumni banquet in the Union building.

It's the twenty-fifth anniversary for the boys who first served notice to midwestern football teams that Purdue expected to take a more active part in deciding Western conference championships. For that 1913 team, coached by the late Andy Smith, lost only to Stagg's Maroons. They were tied by Illinois as well as Wisconsin.

Last year at Madison, Wisconsin again tied Purdue, 7 to 7, so Saturday afternoon when the Boilermakers take the field against Wisconsin, still a conference title contender by virtue of a victory over Iowa, the Boilermakers will be ready to make good again on the ukase of the 1913 varsity.

Six to Attend Dinner.

Six of the members of Andy Smith's first Purdue eleven definitly will attend the dinner tomorrow. They are John E. Berns, guard, and M. J. Stinchfield, end, of Indianapolis; Frank A. Blocker, tackle, Hammond, Ind.; Herbert S. O'Brien, half back, Detroit; Kenneth R. Bishop, center, Paris, Ill., and Edward L. Usner, tackle, Lafayette, Ind. Oliphant, now living in New York, who further publicized the Boilermakers when he continued his football career at West Point, will be unable to attend.

Each of these alumni will be presented with a statuette. M. W. Cameron of Indianapolis will be the toastmaster.

No Purdue rivalry, with the exception of the annual battle with Indiana for the old oaken bucket, has been more replete with thrills than the Wisconsin games. The Badgers have won ten games, Purdue has taken eight, and four were tied.

Remember That 1931 Game.

In 1929, when Purdue won its first conference championship, the Boilermakers whipped Wisconsin, 13 to 0. In 1931, however, when Purdue, Northwestern, and Michigan shared the Big Ten title, each losing one game, it was Wisconsin that trounced Purdue, 21 to 14. That afternoon, to Purdue's surprise, the Badgers bounced up with three touchdowns in the first few minutes of play, a handicap the Boilermakers could not overcome. Since then Purdue has won four games, lost one, and tied last year.

Now at the half way mark in the current campaign, Purdue has agreeably surprised its followers. Purdue handily whipped Butler and Detroit —there was some doubt that the inexperienced Boilermakers could win from both—lost to undefeated Minnesota by one touchdown, and last Saturday rallied against Fordham to tie the Rams, 6 to 6.

Rest from Rigorous Campaign.

The players this week have been resting from the fatigue of trips to Minneapolis and New York in eight days and the rigors of those contests. There has been no contact work, and this afternoon, without blocking pads and shoulder pads, the varsity drilled on defensive maneuvers against Wisconsin's attack. After a final brief workout tomorrow the squad will spend tomorrow evening at the Mudlavia hotel.

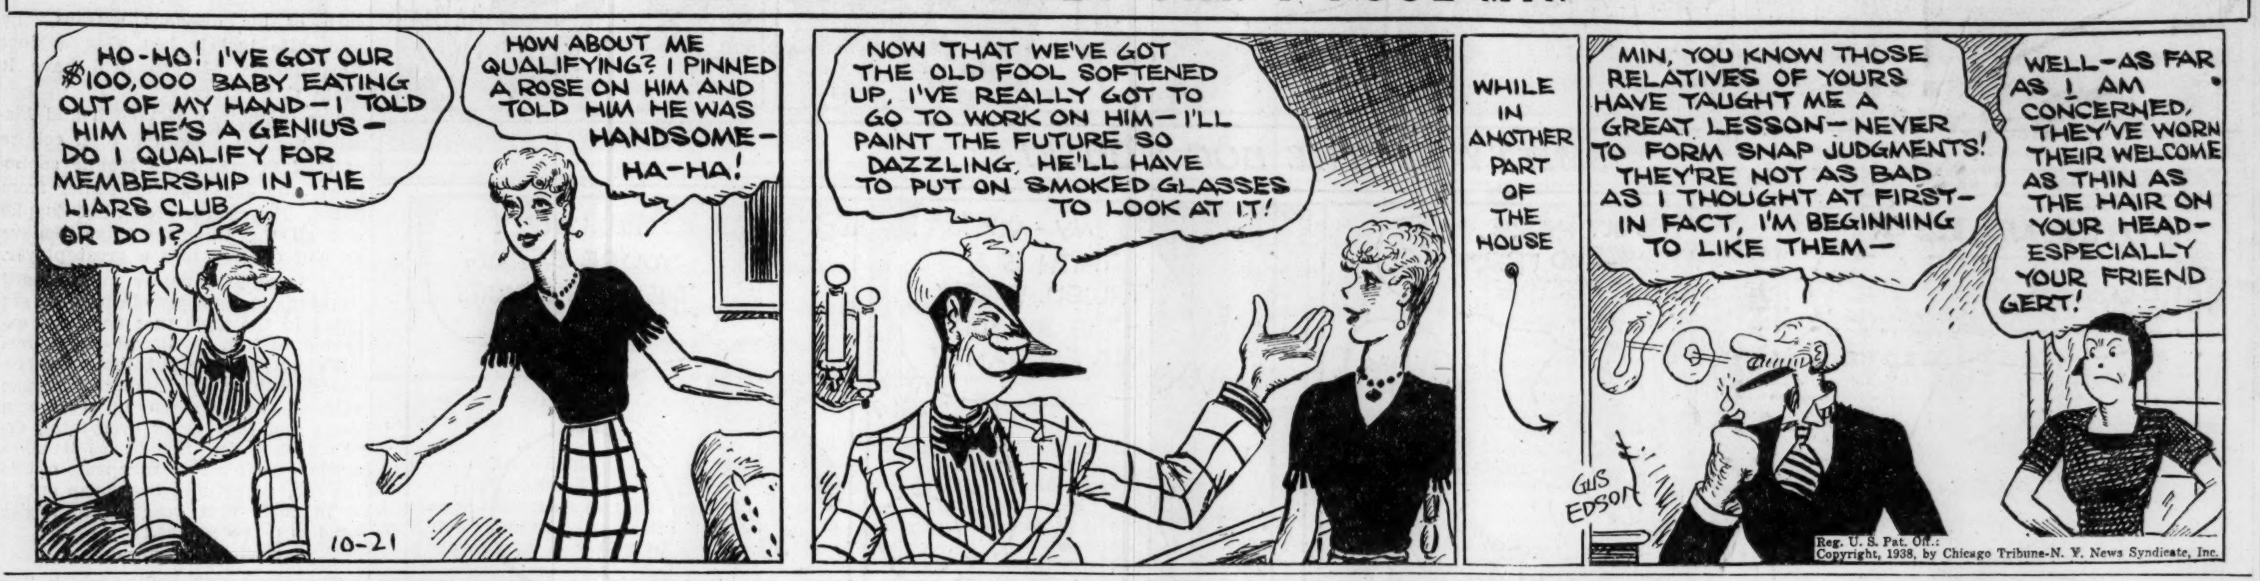
Coach Mal Elward is hopeful that Purdue's speed may check the Badgers' air attack. Purdue's brilliant line defense against the power of Minnesota and Fordham may stop the battering rushes of Wisconsin's Howie Weiss. Then, if opportunity comes, as it did in New York, Purdue's Jack Brown or Lou Brock may break loose.

BADGERS HAVE SNAPPY DRILL.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Favored by the best football weather of the season, Wisconsin's varsity squad ran through a snappy drill at Camp Randall this afternoon before boarding a train for the first part of their trip to Lafayette, Ind., and the Purdue game Saturday. The final drill here indicated that the Badgers' attack will include considerable forward passing.

Al Dorsch is certain to start at left tackle in place of the injured Bob Eckl and big Jack Murray, another casualty of the Pitt game, probably will be ready to start at center. Bill Schmitz, first string left half back, will not make the trip because of a shoulder injury. Roy Bellin has been shifted from right half to take Schmitz's place. Bellin will be replaced by Claude York, a sophomore.

THE GUMPS—THEY CAN'T FOOL MIN—



HO-HO! I'VE GOT OUR $100,000 BABY EATING OUT OF MY HAND—I TOLD HIM HE'S A GENIUS—DO I QUALIFY FOR MEMBERSHIP IN THE LIARS CLUB OR DO I?
HOW ABOUT ME QUALIFYING? I PINNED A ROSE ON HIM AND TOLD HIM HE WAS HANDSOME—HA-HA!
NOW THAT WE'VE GOT THE OLD FOOL SOFTENED UP, I'VE REALLY GOT TO GO TO WORK ON HIM—I'LL PAINT THE FUTURE SO DAZZLING, HE'LL HAVE TO PUT ON SMOKED GLASSES TO LOOK AT IT!
WHILE IN ANOTHER PART OF THE HOUSE
MIN, YOU KNOW THOSE RELATIVES OF YOURS HAVE TAUGHT ME A GREAT LESSON—NEVER TO FORM SNAP JUDGMENTS! THEY'RE NOT AS BAD AS I THOUGHT AT FIRST—IN FACT, I'M BEGINNING TO LIKE THEM—
WELL—AS FAR AS I AM CONCERNED, THEY'VE WORN THEIR WELCOME AS THIN AS THE HAIR ON YOUR HEAD—ESPECIALLY YOUR FRIEND GERT!

Call Out the Police.

Here tiz only Thursday, so I hikes myself over to the Tribune Public Service office at Madison and Dearborn and there is a big line and I said to one of the fellows, "What's it all about?" And he says, "They're lining up for world series tickets; didn't you know Jedge Landis has ordered a replay?" And I comes back, "Quit your kidding." Then a fellow who identifies himself as a friend of an uncle of Jazbo of Old Dubuque gives me the lowdown. They are forming an overnight line awaiting the sale of the one, the only, the original Wake of the News book.

This time of year will never come,

And you were never dearer

'Twas fairer still, we know,

There in that realm of peace and love,
Where sorrow plays no part,
Where pain and grief and loneliness
No longer pierce the heart.

This time of year will never come
But our hearts will break anew,
For just as summer said farewell
We took our leave of you.

MIDWEST STARS TO TWINKLE IN BEAR-RAM GAME

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

Three midwesterners who earned national acclaim as college full backs during the last few seasons will be in the lineup Sunday when the Bears meet the Cleveland Rams in Wrigley field. They are Corby Davis of Indiana and John Drake of Purdue, Cleveland's back field stars, and Sam Francis of Nebraska, who probably will start for the Bears.

Good full backs have been a tradition with the Bears. The last to carry on the tradition, Bronko Nagurski, the man who made his own interference, was so much in a class by himself that he shouldered most of the Bears' hopes. When Nagurski announced his retirement last summer, championship prospects dwindled in the Bear camp.

It's Francis at Full Back.

Coach George Halas immediately set up a hurried search for another full back. Francis, the Olympic shot putter and southpaw kicker with the reputation for running back kickoffs and smashing lines, had not impressed coaches sufficiently in his first year to be considered an adequate replacement. Eventually Halas landed Bert Johnson of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Pennant hopes now are soaring in the Bear camp and the man who is doing most of the full backing is Francis. Francis has had his own ideas on why he, after giving a disappointing performance last year, has experienced a complete reversal of form this season. They perhaps are better than the opinions of any one else on the matter.

"I was considered a pretty fair football player at Nebraska," he explained yesterday. "I had always been cast in a leading rôle and thought I knew all about the game. We always had excellent coaches at Nebraska and they were thorough. It annoyed me to sit on the bench when I first joined the Bears and it was surprising to find out that there was a lot about football that I had not learned at Nebraska.

Takes Season to Get Adjusted.

"It took me about a season to get adjusted. The play was harder and rougher. It meant more to lose. We were always taught in college to be good losers. Up here there are no good losers. Players get angry when they lose. You've got to win to save your job.

"Then it also dawned on me that I wouldn't be the team's star in game after game no matter how I went. There were twenty-nine fellows on the club with as much or more ability and if I didn't hustle they would make me look bad. As quickly as I realized it wasn't a reputation but results they paid off on, and that it was a matter of a survival of the fittest, I began to find myself.

"I don't believe my experience was unusual," he continued. "Most men coming out of college encounter the same situation. Our knowledge of the game is more limited than we realize because we had so little time to practice in college compared to a professional team. Furthermore, advanced students in college do not get as much advanced instruction. The coaches must devote a major portion of their time tutoring less experienced and less talented members of the squad."

Star Against Green Bay.

Francis gave his first indication of professional stardom against Green Bay on Sept. 18. His kicking suddenly became what Halas had been led to expect from the reports of his college accomplishments and he displayed the power which had earned him 1,104,372 votes in THE TRIBUNE's nation-wide all-star poll in 1937.

Davis, a rookie in the pro league, has not had as much opportunity to establish himself, but his play has been satisfactory to his coach, Art Lewis, and annoying to opponents. Drake has been used mostly at half back in the Cleveland lineup. He does not kick, but in all other requirements he has proved himself exceptional. Davis and Drake will carry the brunt of the Rams' attack Sunday.

They Put Power in Power Plays

John Drake, former Purdue star, will be in the Cleveland Rams' back field in Sunday's game with the Bears in Wrigley field.

Corby Davis, All-American full back from Indiana university, also will help the Rams bid for their second straight over the Bears.

The Bears will rely for driving power on Sam Francis, a full back who won All-American honors at the University of Nebraska.

Notre Dame Is Warned of Scots' Power

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 20.—Elmer Layden, once one-quarter of the famous Four Horsemen and now directing Notre Dame's football affairs, is viewing with alarm—again. Elmer has put on his Sunday face and is speaking in whispers. The cause of it all is that Carnegie Tech's warriors will be here Saturday and the Scots never have been backward about upsetting Notre Dame's ambitions. Only last fall they administered a 9 to 7 defeat, whereas they had been figured in advance as soft touches. Elmer hasn't forgotten that calamity.

Some of Elmer's alarm can be attributed to the kind of information brought into Notre Dame's strategy room by the scouts. They told the coach that the Carnegie line is at least as good as it was a year ago and that its backs can run like the Pitt Panther combination. These same backs not only run, but pass, an art to which the Pitt men give little attention. So, after trying to digest all the warnings from his emissaries, Layden has decided to prepare himself for the worst.

It Was an Unhappy Afternoon.

Looking over the statistics of the game between Notre Dame and the Scots last fall merely aggravates Layden's mental condition. On that unhappy afternoon he watched his boys tear up and down the field only to be stopped when progress counted most. On four different occasions the Irish lost the ball when five yards or less from the enemy goal. Once they lost the ball on the 1 foot line. And to add to the day's grief, Carnegie scored its touchdown after working a long pass to the 1 yard line, and its deciding points by a field goal made possible by Manny Kawchak's interception of a pass thrown by Lou Zontini.

Layden probably will start the same lineup which opened against Georgia Tech and Illinois—that is, unless he changes his mind about one item. That involves Ben Sheridan, the Havana, Ill., junior who earlier in the week was promoted to the first team as an alternate for Left Half Back Harry Stevenson. Sheridan, only a reserve in 1937, already has earned whatever laurels the coach may decide to drape over his brow.

Good in Every Game.

Against Kansas Benny had a Roman holiday, what with a thirty-six yard touchdown run included among his accomplishments. Kansas succumbed, 52 to 0, so Benny's feats weren't generously accepted. But

WESTERN UNION (A COLLEGE) GETS ITS STARS BACK

Le Mars, Ia., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Supporters of the Western Union college football team were happy tonight, following the announcement that the school will be able to present a united front in its homecoming battle with York, Neb., after all.

Four members of the squad, including three quarter backs, members of the Iowa national guard, had been summoned to Sioux City for strike duty at the Swift packing plant. When Adjutant General Charles H. Krahl, commandant of the strike unit, learned how badly the boys were needed by their alma mater, he announced they would be released from duty.

U.S.C. CONTINGENT OF 3,000 WILL SEE STANFORD GAME

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 20.—[Special.] — Some 3,000 University of Southern California students will leave for Palo Alto tomorrow to see the Southern California-Stanford football game Saturday.

Five sections, comprising eighty-five special cars, with 1,500 undergraduates aboard, will go north over the Southern Pacific railroad. The contingent will include the S. C. band.

Clemson Sweeps Over South Carolina, 34 to 12

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Clemson rolled over South Carolina, 34 to 12, in the thirty-sixth annual renewal of their football rivalry here today. Breaks, rather than the Tigers' power, made the score one-sided. A record crowd of 22,000 sat in a hot autumn sun and saw the Tigers rack up their fifth successive victory in the series.

Emerson, Gary, Wins, 12-0, for Lead in Prep Division

Yale Decides to Revise Line for Michigan

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 20.—[Special.] — Coach Raymond Pond today made three changes in the Yale lineup for Saturday's game with Michigan, all in the line.

Renner Does Passing.

Bill Renner, former Michigan captain, was released from his duties as Yale's punting coach to pose as passer for the reserves, using Michigan plays. The makeup of the first Yale eleven, according to Pond's latest revision, follows:

MICHIGAN FEARS PASSES.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Coach Fritz Crisler put heavy emphasis on pass defense this afternoon as the Michigan football squad ran through its last workout before going east to play Yale Saturday.

In three games Yale has completed forty-two of eighty-six forward passes, and all week the Wolverine varsity has had trouble stopping the Yale aerials as demonstrated by a reserve team.

The point after touchdown also came in for plenty of attention, with Vince Valek, Jack Brennan, Danny Smick, and Paul Nielson making the best showing.

ZUPPKE ISN'T SURE IF TEAM IS GOOD OR BAD

Seek Defense for Wildcat Passes.

BY STEWART OWEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

The Illini and their supporters think they ought to get the answer by Saturday night, after they have met their first real test against Northwestern in their annual homecoming game in Memorial stadium on Saturday afternoon. They thought they would have that test two weeks ago against Indiana, but when the game was over and Illinois had emerged with a 12 to 2 victory, they weren't sure even then they were as good as the score indicated. They were certain they would find out when they met Notre Dame last Saturday, but when that encounter was ended they still didn't know whether the Irish were very good or they were very bad.

Depends on N. U. Now.

The only conclusion they could draw from their defeat by Notre Dame was that they weren't as good as the Irish. Now they are convinced they'll know rather definitly after they have tried their luck against Northwestern.

The fact that Illinois, with a record of no defeats in Big Ten competition, still is a potential title contender has aroused more interest in the game with the Wildcats than any homecoming game in recent years. While no one is rash enough to predict an Illinois victory, there is an idea prevalent that it will be a tough battle. Northwestern, though tied by Ohio State, likewise is undefeated in the conference. A defeat for either eleven almost would eliminate it from championship consideration.

If you listen to Coach Bob Zuppke as he paces up and down the sidelines of the Illinois practice field you'll get the idea that the Illini are not so hot.

"I've been wanting a big team for years," he said. "Now I've got the heaviest team we've had at Illinois in the twenty-six seasons I've been coaching here, and still it's the lightest in the Western conference."

He stopped to shout instructions across the field, then he added:

Mel Was the Real Hero.

The line which appeared to be a truly great defensive bulwark in its first three games and just seven boys in a row against Notre Dame isn't a great line, according to Zuppke. Mel Brewer, a great guard last year whom Zup converted into a blocking quarter back this season, was out of the Notre Dame game with a leg injury and he won't be able to play against the Wildcats, and there Zup says, is the difference.

"Brewer made that line look great against Indiana," he went on. "The line got all the credit but it was Brewer who was backing it up and stopping the Indiana backs when they got up to the line of scrimmage. That's what happens when you lose a man you can't replace. It makes the whole team look different."

Brewer, who has been hobbling around on crutches with his leg in a cast all week, gave the coaches a pleasant surprise this afternoon when he appeared on the field dressed for action. His story was that he had fallen downstairs, and having cracked the cast into bits, he removed it to find his leg was sound. He announced that he is ready to play, but a noticeable limp in his walk belied his confidence and he was not permitted to take part in practice. Zuppke hopes he will be able to play by next week-end, when Illinois meets Michigan.

Mazeika Is About Due.

In Brewer's place today were Phil Pezzoli, and Ralph Ehni, both of whom played creditably against Notre Dame, but who lack both Brewer's speed and his experience. In an effort to get a little more of both in the lineup against Northwestern, Zuppke today had Bob Wehrli of Naperville, who made the best showing of any of the Illini backs against Notre Dame, at left half back and Tony Mazeika of Chicago at right half.

"Mazeika has had one good day in

Meet at Ten Rounds in White City Ring.

Billy Marquart, 1936 Canadian Olympic featherweight champion, faces one of the hardest tests of his career in a ten round bout with Wally Hally of California in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue, tonight.

In his Chicago debut against Davey Day last month, Hally showed an aggressive, mauling style and ability to absorb hard punches. Moreover, the hard hitting Marquart has not boxed since he defeated Lloyd Pine of Barberton, O., July 6 and his timing may be off. It was Bill's twenty-second victory in twenty-five starts. He won thirteen by knockouts. Marquart weighed 135 pounds against Pine, the same weight Hally carried against Day.

Frankie Kainrath, who has won his four previous professional appearances, has been advanced to the semifinal position in a five round match against Joe Law, south side colored featherweight. In bouts of four rounds Bob Savino, Dallas, Tex., junior lightweight, is paired with Gene Spencer, South Chicago; George Nyberg, Port Arthur, Ont., welterweight, with Norman Roth, north side, and Orlando Trotter, colored light heavyweight, managed by Booker Trotter, with Clarence Brown, Evanston. Booker is a brother-in-law of Champion Joe Louis.

There also will be a wrestling match and an emergency bout, which pairs Johnny Panek, South Chicago 142 pounder, and George Nelson.

Jack Whittingbill, Bloomington, Ill., 147 pound boxer, and Tony Sopko will meet in a five round amateur bout this evening in Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison street. . . . Bobby Pacho, veteran New York welterweight, has opened training in Trafton's gymnasium for a ten round bout with Tommy Howell in Marigold arena Monday. . . . Leo Rodak is in Washington, D. C., for his fifteen round featherweight elimination with Freddy Miller there Monday. The survivor is to meet Joey Archibald, recognized as title holder in New York, within sixty days for championship recognition by the National Boxing association. . . .

Jackie Burke, Ogden, Utah, fighter, and Milt Aron have been rematched for a bout in Marigold Nov. 7. . . . Phil Ross, south side middleweight, will start a comeback after his management contract with Jimmy Carres expires in November.

'More Birds' Is Forecast for Duck Hunters

BY BOB BECKER.

A heavy rain that raised the water in the Illinois river marshes, plus a pretty good flight of mallards that came down when the wind changed to the northwest the middle of the week, are the encouraging features of the Illinois waterfowl situation as shooters get ready to leave for the week-end hunt.

The change in the weather in the north country was responsible for the appearance of the greenheads in Illinois. There was enough cool weather to stir up the birds and send some of them southward.

A Real Storm Needed.

With a pretty good distribution of pintails in those marshes which have sufficient water in them, the duck hunters who are going into the Illinois river country this week-end should do better with their fowling pieces than they did a week ago. But a real autumn storm, the kind that makes the northern ducks glad to see the Illinois marshes and cornfields, still is needed to give duck hunting a big lift.

Since more than thirty-five mudhen hunters were arrested and fined for trespassing on Grass lake last week-end, many shooters have been wondering what is happening on the lake and they're asking if the same situation will prevail this week-end.

Trespass in Boats.

According to H. J. Brogan, justice of the peace in Antioch, who tried twenty-three hunters on charges of trespassing the opening day of the season, two property owners who control much of the land at the north end of the lake had their property posted, and shooters who trespassed were arrested by a deputy sherif of Lake county. Much of the land is under water, and many hunters were arrested when they were in their boats shooting.

FEUD FANS ONLY BREEZE IN RACE OF 2 SCHOONERS

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Lack of a breeze brought an abrupt halt today to the race between the American schooner Gertrude L. Thebaud, challenger for the international fishermen's trophy, and the Canadian salt banker defender, Bluenose, but tonight a storm of charges and counter charges whistled through Gloucester.

A protest that Capt. Angus Walters had been shifting ballast on Bluenose, contrary to terms of the deed of gift governing the trophy, was met by emphatic admission on the part of the fiery little skipper. But he went on to charge Thebaud was carrying more canvas than she is allowed under the rules.

The calm at sea robbed Thebaud of a well earned victory, for she was leading the defender by about a mile when the contest was called off.

Notre Dame Is Warned of Scots' Attack

against Georgia Tech, a battle which Notre Dame won by only 14 to 6, Benny sparkled again. He continued to sparkle last Saturday when the Irish defeated Illinois by the same score, his big contribution to that victory being a sixty-eight yard touchdown sprint after taking charge of an Illinois punt.

Perfect Passing Record.

In the three games Sheridan has carried the ball nineteen times for 121 yards. Against Georgia Tech he made his only pass attempt of the season. It netted five yards. He has been a busy boy running the ball from scrimmage, but he also has been spectacular running back punts in the fashion that made the Illini blood run cold last week-end. He has carried eight enemy punts for a total of 197 yards. In one fashion or another he has handled the ball twenty-eight times for 325 yards, so either he is extra good or there is a lot of good blocking by his mates.

Right End John Kelly turned up yesterday with a cold and as a matter of safety was promptly shipped to the infirmary. If he hasn't shaken off the sniffles by Saturday there'll be no reason for the Irish citizens to worry. There's a lad named Johnny O'Brien waiting to fill the vacancy.

Paul Kell, right tackle, is in the infirmary with laryngitis, but he will be out probably tomorrow, and certainly for Saturday's game. Tad Harvey, junior from Wilmette, Ill., replaced Kell in the workout today.

So. Methodist Drills in Indianapolis for Pitt Game

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Thirty-three Southern Methodist university football players left here tonight for Pittsburgh, where they will meet the University of Pittsburgh Saturday. The squad held a two-hour workout in the Butler university bowl this afternoon. Coach Mattie Bell said the team was in excellent condition.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR LOUIS BOUT IN SAN FRANCISCO

Mike Jacobs, director of Champion Joe Louis' campaign, yesterday outlined his proposition for promotion of a heavyweight championship bout in conjunction with the World Fair exposition in San Francisco next April. Jacobs conferred with John Roxborough and Julian Black, comanagers of Louis, in the Morrison hotel. After the plan was approved by the champion's managers, Jacobs continued his return journey from California to New York, accompanied by his attorney, Sol Strauss.

Strauss drew up the agreement which asks the exposition committee to underwrite $500,000 for the show. The committee, which includes Charles F. Traung, wealthy Californian, must accept or reject the offer by Dec. 20. The plan is to have Louis defend his title against the survivor of a series of bouts among Lou Nova, Tommy Farr, and Max Baer.

One of the provisions is that the exposition provide an arena seating 45,000. Another is that there be no nominal promoter. Still another is that the contest be for fifteen rounds. A drive is to be started to amend the California law which provides for only ten round title engagements and twelve round no decision bouts.

Lewis-Gainer Bout Put Back Until Oct. 28

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The bout between John Henry Lewis, light heavyweight champion, and Al Gainer, New Haven colored boxer, scheduled for tomorrow night, was postponed until Oct. 28 today. Dr. Francis B. Foley, physician for the Connecticut athletic commission, said Gainer was not in condition for the match.

each of his previous seasons," he said. "He had it last year against Northwestern. Maybe he'll have it again this Saturday."

The promotion of Wehrli and Mazeika did not mean the total eclipse of Cliff Peterson, the Moline sophomore, and Jay Wardley, senior from Joliet. Peterson is green, but Zuppke and all the Illinois coaches believe he will develop into a great player.

He is a good passer and a hard runner, and they suspect he may get going in the style that has been expected of him in almost any game. "It's not fair to put too much responsibility on a sophomore," Zuppke said. "They tighten up before a game and they think everything depends on them. Sometimes it takes a whole year before they snap out of the fog. Sometimes they snap out of it in their first year after they've been in a few games."

Defense Is Slow, Too.

The speed and agility which Zup has been seeking all week is not on offense alone, though they have been badly needed there. Its absence on defense has been even more obvious. Their inability to cover pass receivers on defense has made the Illini a setup for a good forward passing attack, and it was against the passes that the Wildcats are expected to throw on Saturday that Zuppke drilled them today. Several times Flip Anders, colored Moline freshman, who has been chosen because of his complexion to impersonate Northwestern's Bernie Jefferson, snagged passes with a group of varsity backs encircling him and then outsped them toward the goal line.

To guard against the flank attack the Wildcats' Jack Ryan is expected to lead against them, Herbert Young, a sophomore from Millville, N. J., was working at right end today, along with Bob Castelo, the regular wing man. Castelo, a star in his sophomore year, was ill most of last season and never has fully recovered his old stamina. Though he probably will start against the Wildcats, he will give way to Young.

PURPLE ENDS DRILLS.

Coach Lynn Waldorf said Northwestern's starting lineup will be the same as faced Ohio State last week. The back field combination will consist of Jack Ryan and Bernie Jefferson, half backs; Dick Richards, quarter back, and George McGurn, full back. The line will be composed of Cleo Diehl and Tom Eby, ends; Bob Voigts and Nick Cutlich, tackles; Don Guritz and Hal Method, guards, and John Haman, center.

CENTERS—John Haman, Paul Hiemens, Joe Hay.

GUARDS—Hal Method, Fred Heitman, Jack O'Leary, Joe Lokanc, Don Guritz, Dick Wells, Jim Liddell.

ENDS—Cleo Diehl, Bob Daly, H. E. Horton, Tom Eby, Jim Smith, George Hermann.

FULL BACKS—George McGurn, Jay Laskay, Francis Purtell.

WASEM, MAROON END, ELIGIBLE; TO FACE OHIO STATE

Squad of 33 Leaves for Columbus Today.

Bob Wasem, star end of the Chicago team last year, yesterday received a clean bill of health academically and was declared eligible for tomorrow's Ohio State game. Wasem, who received mention on several all-star teams as a sophomore last year, will start at right end. He took an examination last week, results of which were not available until yesterday.

Wasem has been working out regularly with the squad and is in shape. Six feet two inches tall, but weighing only 175 pounds, the Fort Dodge, Ia., junior is a good defensive end. His ability as a pass receiver makes the Maroon aerial game even more of a threat.

Thirty-three members of the squad will entrain for Columbus this morning at 10:02 from the Englewood station. Before they leave, Coach Shaughnessy will send them through a final practice.

Bex Starts at Tackle.

Shaughnessy announced yesterday that John Bex, the third sophomore to be tried at the position this season, will be in the opening lineup at right tackle. The coach had intended to start another newcomer, Howard Hawkins, at right end, until Wasem's eligibility was revealed. The rest of the Maroon lineup will be the group which has worked together this week. Hamity, Davenport, Meyer, and Valorz will be in the back field, and Littleford, Weidemann, Fink, Wheeler, and Maurovick in the line.

Yesterday's practice was given over entirely to defensive work against running plays.

OHIO NEEDS A CENTER.

Columbus, O., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The position of center on the Ohio State eleven for the Chicago game Saturday was the most serious problem facing Coach Francis Schmidt today.

It is almost certain that Claude White, whose play stood out in the game with Northwestern last week, is out of the lineup. In addition Charlie Maag, regular pivot man, again has incurred an ankle injury and probably will not be available.

That leaves Steve Andrako and Dick Wuellner. The former was out of the Northwestern game with a hip injury and Wuellner has seen little service this year. Vic Marino tested his sprained knee today, but remains under full speed level as does Frank Howe, substitute half back, who is nursing a muscle bruise.

The squad worked out on razzle-dazzle plays in the early half of today's drill, with Bill Bullock, Jimmy Sexton, and Mike Kabealo hurling passes. Coach Schmidt concentrated on the reserve material upon which the offense will rest chiefly Saturday.

MARQUETTE INTACT.

The Marquette squad, for the first time in three weeks, is 100 per cent intact, but Paul Fojtik, promising Cudahy, Wis., sophomore, may be given the first string right half back position. Backs worked lightly today, but the linemen went through additional scrimmage in an effort to perfect defensive assignments.

Coach Leo Meyer sent the Texas Christian squad through a workout in Kansas City today. The Horned Frogs will arrive in Milwaukee early tomorrow and will practice at the Hilltop stadium in the afternoon.

CHICAGO RUGBY TEAM TO MEET WINNIPEG SUNDAY

The Chicago Rugby club, undefeated for three years, will meet the Winnipeg, Canada, All-Stars Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the New Trier High school stadium in Winnetka.

The Chicago team includes a number of players who distinguished themselves in college football. Most notable of these is Clint Frank, the Evanstonian who starred for Yale last year. The former Eli back is listed at inside three quarter. Another familiar figure is Fred Lind of Northwestern, who will start at standoff half back. Peter Fortune, the president of the club, starred at tackle for Princeton. Fortune is the giant of the team, standing 6 feet 3 inches and weighing 210 pounds.

Included in the C. R. C. lineup will be two overseas players—Alec Crawford, who has played rugby for six years, since he left Glasgow university, and Leslie Mather, a graduate of London university.

Colgate Picks Proviso Boy to Face Iowa

The football squad of Colgate university, numbering thirty-five, will arrive in Chicago at 7:45 o'clock this morning, en route to its game with the University of Iowa Saturday. Accompanying the players are Coach Andy Kerr, William A. Reid, director of athletics, and Student Manager Roy O'Neill.

Dave Buck.

On the squad are two regular players from the Chicago sector. One is Dave Buck, former Proviso High school star, who has earned the starting center berth with the Red Raiders. Against Cornell, Duke, and Columbia he was one of the stars of the team. Coach Kerr, it is said, regards him as the best sophomore center he ever has coached. Buck is only 18 years old. He's 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 187 pounds.

Hamilton Plays Tackle.

The other regular from Illinois is E. Bentley [Big Ben] Hamilton from Peoria, who was a reserve tackle last fall. This year Hamilton has won the starting left tackle job. His rushing of Columbia's passing star, Sid Luckman, last Saturday was one reason why the Raiders scored one of the real upsets of the year in beating the Lions, 12 to 0.

In the squad that arrive this morning Coach Kerr has five regulars who played on the team last fall. The other starters are men up from the reserves and sophomores.

The squad will leave the North Western station for Cedar Rapids at 10:30 o'clock this morning and work out on the field of Coe college late this afternoon.

INJURIES HIT IOWA.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 20.—(AP)—An ever-growing list of injuries today threatened to force drastic changes in the University of Iowa football lineup for the Colgate game here Saturday.

Today's drill saw Bob Herman, reserve guard, and Erwin Prasse, regular end, forced to the sidelines with injuries. Herman reinjured his knee, which was hurt earlier in the season. He was taken to the hospital for treatment. Prasse's injury was a recurrence of a former ankle twist.

Iowa's regular guards, Chuck Brady and Bob Allen, still were limited to light work with injuries they received earlier. Henry Luebcke, tackle, defintly is out of the Colgate game with an injured ankle.

SYRACUSE LEAVES.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Syracuse's squad of thirty-three players entrained tonight for East Lansing, Mich., where it meets Michigan State Saturday. In today's practice, featuring signal work, George Hooper was back at left guard, indicating he will start Saturday after being handicapped by injuries. Hoffman, Sidat-Singh, Ruth, and Johnson lined up as the probable back field.

Football for the Fan

This Tells You Why Your Team Was Penalized.

A forward pass must be made from a point five yards or more behind the line of scrimmage and only to men who are eligible as explained previously. Lateral passes can be made to any one at any place.

Each team is allowed three times out each half without penalty. Players who retire from the game in the first quarter cannot return until the start of the second quarter.

The major offense a player can commit is slugging. For this the offender is removed from the game and his team punished by loss of half the distance from the spot of the foul to the goal line.

Unnecessary roughness calls for a fifteen yard penalty from the point of the foul but not disqualification.

A well deserved penalty is that of fifteen yards for clipping. Clipping is the diving or running into the back of an opponent, or throwing of one's body across an opponent's legs from behind.

Between the teams there is a neutral zone—a rectangle whose long sides are parallel to the ends of the field and whose width is the length of the ball. Any player in this zone while the ball is being passed is offside, and his team penalized five yards. The same penalty is given to a team with the ball whose backs may be in motion toward the line of scrimmage as the ball is passed.

If there is a holding by any one on members of the team with the ball, the penalty is fifteen yards. Holding by the defensive team, however, receives only a five yard penalty.

For communication between an incoming substitute and a teammate before a play is run off, the referee will donate fifteen yards to the opponents.

For second, third, or fourth incomplete forward passes in the same series of downs, there are penalties of five yards each.

If a man, in attempting to catch a forward pass, is interfered with, the pass is considered as having been completed at the point of interference.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Jabbing a flag of the Lone Star state into a snowdrift at the summit of Pike's peak, Gov. James V. Teller Ammons of Colorado by wagering that Rice institute would defeat Colorado university in a football game last New Year's day.

Manslaughter Charges Against Boxer Dismissed

Rockland, Me., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Municipal Judge Zelma M. Dwinal today dismissed manslaughter charges against Roy P. Worcester, 20 year old Bangor heavyweight boxer, in connection with the death here last night of Henry L. King, 21, of Worcester, Mass., at the end of their ten round bout. Medical Examiner H. J. Weisman, who supervised attempts to resuscitate King, attributed death to a hemorrhage of the sac encircling the heart.

3 Sophomores Listed to Start for Hoosiers

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Three sophomores will be in the Indiana university lineup Saturday when the Hoosiers combine the opening of their home schedule with the annual homecoming game against Kansas State, Coach Bo McMillin announced today.

The starting rookies are Archie Harris, giant colored end; Frank Mikan, guard, and Joe Nicholson, pass throwing half back. Other probable starters announced by McMillin are John Janzaruk, end; Haak and Bill Stevens, tackles; Jim Logan, guard; Russ Sloss, center; Capt. Paul Graham, quarter back; Swede Clasen, right half, and Vincent Oliver, full back.

Trainers had expressed doubt earlier in the week that Janzaruk would play because of injuries, but he romped through drill today with the first team and Coach McMillin nominated him to start against the Wildcats. The Hoosiers polished their attack, drilling on blocking for punts and kickoffs and rehersed offensive assignments.

Kansas State's squad is scheduled to arrive tomorrow and will work out in the stadium before the Hoosiers, who will retire to McCormick's Creek State park tomorrow night to escape the din of homecoming festivities. The annual pow-wow dinner in the gymnasium will open the homecoming celebration.

SCHOMMER TO TALK.

John J. Schommer, director of athletics at Armour Institute of Technology, will talk to the Men's Mathematics club of Chicago this evening at 6:15 o'clock in the Central Y. M. C. A.

DE PAUL, LOYOLA OF NEW ORLEANS RENEW RIVALRY

De Paul and Loyola of New Orleans renew their year old football rivalry in Wrigley field tomorrow. The Loyola squad will arrive this morning, and later in the day it will have a limbering up drill.

De Paul's record for this season isn't at all impressive. It has lost three of four games, and against Loyola it will be classified as the team expected to lose. This prospect, however, isn't creating any despair among the De Paul players. Conversely, their rôles as underdogs may inspire them to play the type of football necessary to win.

Loyola has won three of its four games this season. The southerners tomorrow will attempt to avenge the 18 to 7 defeat they suffered in the first game of the series last year.

The Loyola line averages approximately 185 pounds to the player, a little less than De Paul's. The Chicagoans also have a slight weight advantage in the back field.

MO TAKES THE GLIMMER FROM SHINING HEELS

WinsSportsman'sFeature in Final Drive.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Shining Heels, the little daughter of Flying Heels-Glimmer, lived up to her name until the last sixteenth of the Blue Island purse, feature of the Sportsman's Park program yesterday afternoon. The rest of the five horse field found themselves reflected in her heels until the final sixteenth.

Then Mo, a four year old filly from the stable of M. J. Moran, decided to assert herself. Mo had won two races at Sportsman's already, and saw no reason why she shouldn't make it three in a row. So it was that Tommy Ward, who had ridden the preceding winner, teamed up with the Moran entry to catch Shining Heels in those last 110 yards. The long shot Rich Cream came up for third money. Mo, second choice in the betting was a length and a half in front at the finish, returning $6.80.

Two Prowlers Chased.

Ward was on the way to making it a triple for the day when he went to the post with Oddesa's Pride, an even money choice. But Symphon, a 7 to 2 shot was the winner from gate to wire. Track officials chased two men found prowling around the stable of Oddesa's Pride Wednesday night, but could not catch them, even though one was recognized. The horse's temperature was taken yesterday morning and was found to be normal.

The favorite players came back fighting after their $8 double of Wednesday. The combination returned $15, the result of a second choice decision in the first by Tracker and the convincing triumph of Two Tricks in the next.

Little Duke was made an 8 to 5 choice in the opener, but couldn't do better than second to Tracker, which was ridden by Al Bodiou, one of the better half mile jockies. The victor repaid his public with $7. Thelma D'Or took the show end of the purse.

Two Tricks at 6 to 5.

Two Tricks went to the post at 6 to 5 and won from start to finish as though he were a 1 to 10 chance. When it was all over the 8 year old mare from the Wesley Sears farm was five lengths in front of the 4 to 1 shot Blakeen, with Caleb third.

Two Tricks made such a thorough job of her winning that Willie Page had nothing more to do than sit in the saddle. The fans who have been watching Oak Park, 2 year old maiden from the W. H. Goelitz stable, trying to win his first race, thought so much of his chances in the 7 furlong third race that they made him a 2 to 1 favorite. But they reckoned without Jubilee C., winner his last time out. The son of Brown Bud-Kentucky Helen dashed to the front at the start, faded to last place, and then went to the front. Jocky Bobby Conley took no chances, however, and was whipping his mount at the finish, as though he were being pressed instead of winning by four lengths.

Khar Fair, ridden by Ward, refused to be daunted by the manner in which Black River was made a 5 to 2 favorite. The gelding dashed home in front of Chance Queen, with Black River third. Khar Fair paid $12.

NEW FACES WILL BE SEEN IN SIX DAY BIKE RACE

There may be many new faces in the Chicago six day bicycle race which starts in the Stadium two weeks from Sunday night. Harry Mendel, manager of the race, is being swamped with requests to ride the race by many promising riders from this section, as well as from the east and California.

Albin Jurca of Kenosha, Wis., national amateur road champion, arrived in Chicago yesterday and talked with Manager Mendel about riding the race. Mendel also has received applications from Danny Esposito of Newark, N. J., and Charley Bergna of Paterson, N. J., two of the leading amateurs in the east, as well as Charley Morton of Los Angeles, outstanding amateur rider from the west.

WARN INDUSTRY TO COMPLY WITH WAGE-HOUR ACT

Employers Subject to Worker Suits.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—(AP)—The wage-hour administration advised industry today to comply fully with the new fair labor standards act to avoid suits workers can file against violators. The law becomes effective Monday. Officials said that although an inadequate staf would compel them to delay government suits to obtain enforcement, noncomplying employers could be subject almost immediately to litigation initiated by their workers.

The law permits aggrieved workers to recover twice the amount of the difference between their sub-standard wages and the minimum set in the law—25 cents an hour and time and half for overtime. It also authorizes government officials to prosecute violators, who would be liable to a fine up to $10,000 and imprisonment up to six months.

Can't Stop Employé Suits.

Aids of Elmer F. Andrews, administrator of the act, said that although he may decide to be lenient with an innocent violator of the law, he could do nothing to stop an employé suit because the wage-hour division probably would not be made a party to the litigation and may not be served with court papers.

"At first, our enforcement will be more in the nature of education about the law," one of Andrews' assistants said. "Because we haven't been able to set up enforcement machinery we may have to be lenient for a while."

Until all of the twelve regional wage-hour offices are established, officials said they would have to rely on state labor departments, where they are available, to help check on compliance. As soon as additional funds become available Andrews is authorized by law to make grants to states to carry on this work.

Few Departments Available.

Fewer than half the states, however, have labor departments that Andrews can use. A. L. Fletcher, Andrews' enforcement chief, will announce the list of states in the next few days, officials said.

When the act becomes effective Monday the wage-hour administration will have about thirty inspectors in the field to answer inquiries and help determine whether an employer is in interstate commerce and therefore subject to the law.

Officials today studied the possibility that an important distinction in computing overtime payments may exist between workers employed on a weekly basis and those paid by hourly rates. As a result, it appeared possible that some wage earners may legally continue to work more than forty-four hours a week without actually increasing their aggregate incomes.

Unofficial Interpretation.

The interpretation of the law which creates this possibility has been given unofficially by wage-hour authorities in response to inquiries by business men and industrialists preparing to comply with the act.

On this, as on other problems arising under the law, each employer must decide for himself the nature and extent of his compliance. He must keep in mind that any step he takes may be challenged in court.

When the wage-hour law becomes effective, the nation's standard work week will be forty-four hours. When employés in interstate commerce work more hours, they must be compensated at the rate of time and one-half. These provisions have posed for officials the question of how overtime is to be figured for an individual employé.

Here's How it Works.

This is the unofficial advice which some wage-hour authorities have given in response to inquiries:

1. Any employé who worked on an established hourly wage rate must be paid overtime compensation at one and one-half times that rate. Such a rate may have been established by agreement between the employer and employé, by contract, or by collective bargaining.

2. A worker now employed on a flat weekly salary may be worked overtime without increased total pay by regarding his hourly rate as being at a lower figure. [It would have to be at least the legal minimum of 25 cents.] This is an example of such a possibility:

Suppose an employé has been working for the flat wage of $25 a week. His employer wants to keep him working at that wage and also wants him to continue working six full days, or a forty-eight hour week.

Could Set Hourly Wage.

Under this interpretation, the employer could fix the employé's hourly wage on his books at 50 cents. This would give the worker an income of $22 for his forty-four hour week, plus 75 cents an hour for four hours overtime, or a total of $25.

On the other hand, if an employé is covered by an agreement fixing his pay in terms of hours worked, this so-called "bookkeeping transaction" would not be possible. If he had contracted to work forty-four hours a week at $44 a week, his hourly rate under the law would be $1 and his overtime rate $1.50. In such a case his pay for a forty-eight hour week would be $44 plus time and a half for four hours, or a total of $50.

Blow to Messenger Boys.

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The first New York hearing under the new federal wages-and-hours act opened today with a warning by the Western Union Telegraph company that it would have to dismiss 3,125 of its 16,065 messengers in the country if the minimum wage provision should be enforced.

Vast Upturn in Building Is Predicted

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—A return to the post-war construction volume of nearly 5 billion dollars annually within the next five years was predicted today by Thomas S. Holden, president of the New York building congress.

Thomas S. Holden.

Holden, who is also vice president of the F. W. Dodge corporation, spoke at the construction industry conference here sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Leaders of the industry are meeting to formulate a program that will stimulate private construction.

"Now in Recovery Cycle."

Holden said that the construction industry is now in a new recovery cycle. He reported prospects of an increase of 140 per cent by 1943 over the current annual construction volume of about 2 billion dollars.

"While the more spectacular phase of the current upturn is a new federal public works program, there is going on at the same time a revival of private building activity," he said. "The great depression is behind us, and many of the necessary financial adjustments necessitated by the great deflation have been made. We have also reason to believe that the latest recession is also behind us."

Holden said that a gradual improvement in the controversial situation between the government and the privately owned utilities opens a prospect of an enlarged building program in the highly important utility field.

Suggests Basic Policy.

William Stanley Parker of Boston, chairman of the Construction League of the United States, summarized a basic policy for the construction industry containing these essential points:

1. Public expenditures by municipalities must be stabilized.
2. Public expenditures by the federal government should be based upon a minimum normal program, increased from time to time in varying degree as necessary to offset national fluctuations in private enterprise. States and counties should act similarly in relation to the trends of local employment.
3. Construction by public utilities must be stabilized.
4. Promotional programs by private enterprise should be increased during slack times and decreased in periods of full employment.

BUSINESS GAINS REDUCE IDLE, BUT WPA ROLL RISES

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—(AP)—A leading government economist estimated today that business improvement since June has reduced unemployment by a million men and women. He figured 10,250,000 persons were out of work in June and about 9,250,000 now.

On that basis, about one-fourth of the persons who lost jobs in the recession have been reëmployed. After reaching a peak of more than 14,000,000 in the spring of 1933, federal statistics show, unemployment gradually dwindled to 6,000,000 in the summer of 1937. Then, the recession boosted unemployment about 4,400,000 to a total of 10,400,000.

Although unemployment has been shrinking, WPA pay rolls have been rising. The lists went up from 2,806,000 to about 3,120,000—a record—at the beginning of October. Officials said this rise was caused by the fact that relief appropriations were inadequate until new funds became available July 1, and then it took time to enroll those eligible for aid.

Stocks Climb, Led by Lower Priced Issues

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 20.—Under the leadership of lower priced issues the stock market closed moderately higher today. Gains in the leaders ran to about one point, but several new favorites climbed as much as 3 points.

Today's support reputedly was based on Wall street's favorable view of the domestic business situation. Turnover was 1,616,190 shares.

Although standard industrial issues were hesitant at the opening, rails and aviations attracted good demand and pushed substantially higher. The former group was aided by estimates of good car loadings and better earnings.

Carriers Retain Gains.

After chalking up gains reaching 1 point or more, carriers became quiet. They held their own, however, closing just below their best levels. Gains ranging from fractions to 1½ points were made by Douglas, Boeing, Bendix, North American Aviation, and Curtiss Wright.

Near the close of the first hour amusement shares took up the leadership. Radio corporation was the most active and advanced 1 point to 8¾, new peak for 1938. The company's announcement of plans for television development and distribution was said to be the chief reason for the active buying.

Whisky Issues Climb.

Whisky issues were brought into prominence when the amusements logged. A feature was Hiram Walker, which rose 3⅜ points.

Loft, Inc. continued in good demand. It was the second most active issue and closed at 8⅝, up ⅞ point.

Oil stocks were given a whirl in the last twenty minutes of trading to register gains reaching 2 points. The sudden interest in the oils was traced to the announcement that President Roosevelt favored extension of oil production regulation to embrace refining.

After uncertainty most of the day pivotal industrials turned active and higher in the final hour. Many advanced fractions to a point.

CELANESE CORP. TO BUILD A NEW $10,000,000 PLANT

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Celanese Coroporation of America announced today it will build a new 10 million dollar plant near Pearisburg, Va. Construction will begin within a few days and the plant, when completed, will be used for the manufacture of a new textile yarn, about which the company would divulge nothing at this time.

The new plant, officials said, will be larger than the celanese plant at Cumberland, Md., which employs between 10,000 and 15,000 persons when running at capacity. The new plant is expected to be completed within a year.

GRAINS ADVANCE ON BROAD FRONT IN ACTIVE TRADE

Wheat Futures Rise Cent a Bushel.

Grain prices advanced sharply yesterday. Closing trades on wheat futures on the Chicago Board of Trade were at net gains of ¾ to 1¼ cent. Corn finished 1⅛ to 1⅜ cents a bushel higher. Oats, rye, and soy beans followed the advance.

Commission house buying of grain futures was the heaviest in several weeks. Shorts bought as prices rose. The upturn was helped along by the continued light offerings of cash grain for deferred shipment from country elevators. Export business was confined to a few small lots of Canadian wheat and a little American corn.

A large part of the advance yesterday in wheat and corn futures was attributed by brokers to short covering for a large New York speculator. The total volume of business was estimated to have been the largest since Oct. 5, when sales of all grain futures were slightly more than 25,000,000 bushels. The average volume of trading in the last two weeks has been about 17,000,000 bushels.

A good foreign demand for soy beans was reported yesterday. Sales were said to have been made for shipment from Chicago and also from New Orleans. It is estimated about 1,000,000 bushels of beans have been sold abroad so far this season.

TREASURY HEAD DENIES PLANS TO REVISE WAR DEBT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said today that no offers have been received by this country for settlement of the British and French war debts. Reports were published earlier this week that France and Great Britain would act to settle the debts after the American election in November.

"Nobody has made me any offers on the war debts," Morgenthau replied with emphasis. "Nobody has even made a hint."

"Would you be open to any suggestions?" he was asked.

"You mean would we accept money? Sure, wide open," said the secretary.

He said the treasury would announce the terms of the Reconstruction Finance corporation note refunding next Monday.

WICKWIRE STEEL TO BOOST WAGES BY 12½ PER CENT

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Wickwire-Spencer Steel company tonight announced a 12½ per cent wage increase, effective Oct. 31, for 2,000 employés in plants here, at Palmer, Mass., and Trenton, N. J. Fred J. Connor, district manager, said the increase, restoring in part cuts made in the recent recession, was due to better business.

Airplane Maker Raises Pay.

Santa Monica, Cal., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Wage increase of 2½ cents an hour for the 5,500 employés of the Douglas Aircraft corporation and its subsidiary, the Northrop division, were announced today by President Donald Douglas. The increases, said to total about $300,000 a year, are retroactive to Oct. 1. Salaried employés are to be given equivalent raises.

B. & O. Withdraws Request for 6 Million RFC Loan

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—(AP)—The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has withdrawn from the Interstate Commerce commission an application for permission to borrow $6,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The railroad's decision, it was understood, was made after it had applied for permission to reduce its fixed interest charges upward of $11,000,000 a year. The I. C. C. has not acted on the second application.

SEC Asks Order Forcing Land Firm to Testify

The latest move in the clash between the Securities Exchange commission and the Resources Corporation International took place yesterday in the federal court of Judge William H. Holly. SEC attorneys asked an order to compel officers of the corporation, a Chicago concern engaged in a Mexican timber land promotion, to testify before the commission regarding the promotion.

Coal May Soon Be Delivered Through Pipes

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Coal may be delivered through pipes in the future. F. F. Estes, trafic manager of the National Coal association, told the Interstate commerce commission today a patent had been granted on a method of treating coal for such transmission.

Estes said the patent, obtained several days ago by a large oil company [Standard Oil], offered two methods of transmission. Under one system, he said, the coal would be pulverized and mixed with a soap or water solution. At the destination it would be converted into briquettes.

The other plan, he said, called for mixing of pulverized coal directly with fuel oil. Such a mixture could be burned as delivered.

Argues Against Coal Surcharge.

The association rated the soft coal industry as the most sorely beset of all industries in time of economic slumps. Estes made this statement in arguing before the commission against continuance after Dec. 31, of a 10 cents a ton surcharge on coal shipments.

"No industry," Estes said, "felt the depression as deeply as the coal industry. Not during the last ten years has the coal industry operated without a loss."

Estes declared competition for fuel business held by coal had come steadily from oil, gas, and hydro-electric power. In 1926, he said, soft coal provided 60 per cent of the energy used in the nation's industrial plants, but last year accounted for only 45 per cent.

Opposes Gas Pipe Lines.

Estes declared that proposed new gas pipe lines through thousands of miles of midwest territory constituted a major threat to the bituminous coal industry.

The Carter Coal company informed the industry today that it planned to salvage the coal dust at its mines and sell it. The plan was disclosed in the company's protest of certain size and price classifications in the minimum schedule proposed by the producers' board of district 7, including southeastern West Virginia and part of Virginia. The Carter company was the complainant in the Supreme court action which voided the 1935 coal act.

BANK CLEARINGS CLIMB TO NEW PEAK FOR YEAR

New York, Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Bank clearings for twenty-two leading cities of the United States for the week ended Oct. 19 amounted to $6,401,242,000, the largest total for any week this year, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today. Clearings were only 0.5 per cent below the corresponding week of 1937.

Clearings in New York City moved above the 1937 week for the third successive period, the total being $3,960,766,000 for the week just ended, compared with $3,832,248,000 last year, representing a gain of 3.4 per cent. The aggregate for twenty-one cities outside of New York was $2,440,476,000, against $2,598,684,000 last year, a loss of 6.1 per cent, the smallest decline recorded so far this year.

Hides to Lether—15.

Variations on the monotonous theme of shoes have come from the use of special skins or from the inventions of new finishing methods.

Cordovan shoes currently advertised for male wear are not really new. They are made of the oval shells of horsehide butts. The hard inner surface is tightly grained. Therefore, it shakes off rain and polishes easily. Once it had been popular for the uppers of men's shoes.

The name "cordovan" is derived from the Spanish city of Cordoba, once a Moorish lether center. Because the lether is made from only small portions of the hide, it is expensive. Imitations of the highly-polished lether are also being marketed.

"Patent" lether is made by covering the surface of the tanned skins with successive coats of varnish or enamel, giving it a glasslike polish. Suede is made by roughening the lether surface with an abrasive, thus raising a nap.

AIRPLANE FIRM REPORTS RISE IN NET EARNINGS

Many Corporations' Profits Sink.

Lower earnings were reported by many corporations in interim statements issued yesterday. The Glenn L. Martin company, maker of military aircraft, was one of the exceptions, showing a big increase in profits of the September quarter over a year earlier.

Glenn L. Martin.

Glenn L. Martin, president, said that his company will have to operate at top speed through 1940 to fill orders now on the books. September quarter earnings, he said, totaled $768,393, equal to 82 cents a share. This compared with $628,563, or 67 cents a share, earned in the preceding three months, and $492,532, or 53 cents a share, in the September quarter of 1937.

Has 11½ Million Backlog.

"Our backlog of orders," Martin said, "totals $11,497,545, of which approximately 70 per cent represents orders from the United States government and 30 per cent from foreign sources."

The contracts for foreign business, he said, are so drawn that the company stands no risk of cancellation in the event of unforseen developments. He disclosed that the company has organized night shifts in several departments to keep up on its orders. The company's principal plant is in Middle River, Md.

Third quarter net income of Shell Union Oil company was $3,534,055, equal to 36 cents a share. This was less than half of the $7,503,290, or 54 cents a share, reported for the September quarter last year.

General Foods Earns More.

General Foods corporation earned $10,061,654, equal to $1.92 a common share, in the first nine months this year. In the corresponding period in 1937 earnings were $9,791,274, or $1.86 a common share. In the September quarter earnings were $3,868,076, or 74 cents a share, compared with $2,922,351, or 56 cents a share, in the third quarter of last year.

National Cash Register company in the September quarter earned $224,527, or 14 cents a share, against $827,858, or 51 cents a share, in the third quarter of 1937.

Aggregate net income of the first sixty-four companies reporting September quarter results was 42 per cent less than in the corresponding 1937 period, according to a compilation by the Associated Press. This was a better showing than was made in the second quarter when earnings of the same group of companies ran 62 per cent under 1937.

Nation's Auto Makers Shift Into High Gear

In Detroit, the Automotive News in its mid-week survey of activity estimated production for the current week at 62,727 units. Output was 45,506 in the preceding week and 88,315 in the corresponding week a year ago.

"The current week saw assembly operations at Ford get into stride," the publication said, "with the likelihood that output in the next two weeks will take a sharp rise in Ford plants. Assembly operations were boosted considerably in all divisions of Chrysler and General Motors this week."

Boosts Schedule 3 Times.

At Lansing, Mich., C. L. McCuen, general manager of the Oldsmobile division of the General Motors corporation, said that the production schedules of the Olds factory there have been revised upward for the third time since the 1939 models were first shown distributors.

A total of 51,000 new cars will be produced by Jan. 1 instead of the 30,000 cars originally planned, McCuen said. The company will add 450 more workers to its plant by Nov. 1, bringing the Olds total to 6,500. The Fisher body plant, which builds Olds bodies, will add 750 workers to its Lansing plant, raising its pay roll to 3,363.

William Packer, general sales manager for the Packard Motor Car company, speaking in Los Angeles yesterday, said the company's Detroit plant is producing all the cars it can on a single shift. The present force of 12,000 at Detroit may be doubled within the next few weeks.

Business Passes Expectations.

D. E. Ahrens, vice president and general sales manager of the Cadillac Motor car division of General Motors, said today "We expected good business, but the way orders are coming in for new automobiles, it has far surpassed expectations. Last Monday, with $5,950,000 in dealer orders, we did the biggest day's business in our history."

Hupp Motor Car corporation joined the long list of companies reducing prices on the 1939 models. It announced that prices of the senior sixes and eights have been reduced between $50 and $160 from prices of the corresponding 1938 models.

John D. Biggers, president of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company, announced that 660 workers had been rehired in the company's plants at Toledo, O., and Ottawa, Ill. The company has recalled 2,360 workers since Aug. 1, he said.

Orders from automobile manufacturers for safety glass are coming in "even better than anticipated," Biggers said. Increases of 5 to 25 per cent in the amount of safety glass used per car in the new 1939 models have forced increased operations.

EXPORT GRAIN RAIL RATE CUT 6 CENTS PER CWT.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—(AP)—A 6 cent per hundred weight reduction in freight rates on grain shipped from Chicago to North Atlantic ports for export will go into effect at midnight tonight. The interstate commerce commission late today refused to suspend the reduced rate. Numerous protests, chiefly from gulf ports and Buffalo, N. Y., were filed with the commission.

Examples of the new rates: Chicago to Baltimore, 16 cents instead of 22 cents; Chicago to Philadelphia, 16½ cents instead of 22½ cents; Chicago to New York, 17½ cents instead of 23½ cents.

Agriculture department officials, anxious to stimulate wheat exports, had asked the railroads for the reduced rate.

J. R. THOMPSON ELECTS MOORE VICE PRESIDENT

Paul Moore was elected executive vice president of the John R. Thompson company at a meeting of directors yesterday. He was recently appointed general manager of the company.

Moore said that the company is planning to make certain changes in policy which will be announced soon. At the same time the company reported operations for the first nine months of 1938 resulted in a loss of $276,873. In the corresponding 1937 period a loss of $120,638 was incurred.

Gross sales of the company for the nine months period were $8,573,159 against $9,272,449 in the corresponding period last year. The company had a loss of $106,429 for the September quarter against a loss of $125,760 in the comparable 1937 period.

Illinois Central's Operating Net Income Below Year Ago

Net operating income of the Illinois Central for September was $1,958,134, against $2,454,488 in september, 1937. For the first nine months of this year net operating income was $10,372,540, against $11,325,142 in the like 1937 period. Net operating income is before provision for fixed charges.

TAXES PREVENT REAL RECOVERY, DU PONT SAYS

Declares Unsound Policies at Fault.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—American business recovery is being prevented by punitive taxes and unsound governmental policies, Lammot du Pont, president of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., said here tonight. He spoke at the twenty-third annual banquet of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts.

Lammot du Pont.

Du Pont is the first industrial leader to attack the administration's policies since the recent suggestion by President Roosevelt that business men cease "rattling the saber." Du Pont himself is distantly related to the President by marriage. Eugene du Pont, whose daughter, Ethel, married Franklin Roosevelt Jr., is his second cousin. Among other interests the du Pont family controls General Motors corporation.

On Threshold of Prosperity.

That America today stands on the threshold of greater prosperity than it has ever known was the gist of du Pont's talk. The actual advent of this period of prosperity, he argued, is being prevented solely by the unsound policies of the politicians in power.

Du Pont called attention to the tremendous number of important new products that have been perfected by industrial research men. He pointed out that plenty of new capital is available for the exploitation of these new products—capital which would put men to work and start machines going in idle plants if only the political hindrances could be removed.

"Progress is pausing today before a paradox," he said. "The need for new capital is greater, perhaps, than at any other time in our history, and the will to create that capital—to save—is actually existent. But the two are not permitted to meet and mate.

Investment a Hazard.

"The principle of a fair reward, commensurate with the effort and the risk, is being undermined by attacks on earnings, by diversion of the national income into nonproductive channels, and by tax policies adopted in the name of reform that make investment a hazard rather than an inducement.

"We are growing poorer because too many people no longer can afford the luxury of being rich.

"It has long been recognized that the power to tax is the power to destroy. A legitimate function of government—and a proper one if properly used—nonetheless, the power to tax, if misused, may be second only to war in its destructiveness and as all changing as a revolution.

"That is too great a power to entrust to any one man, to any one class, to any one faction, or even to any one party. It is a power conferred by all the people, which affects the lives of all the people, and it should be exercised in the interests of all the people in full daylight.

Take Taxes Out of Politics.

"Therefore, I see only one ultimate solution. Taxation should be taken out of partisan politics.

"Likewise, labor legislation and the administration of all laws affecting employment should be taken out of politics, because, again, the common good is involved. The great gains made by labor during the last half century are the fruits of a national philosophy that in the main tenaciously clung to political freedom, which generally placed coöperation before coercion, and the rights of the many above the personal ambitions of the few.

"Already deviation from that tried course has brought conflict within the ranks of the wage earners themselves, popular confusion over labor's motives, suspicion of the ultimate aims of some of its leaders, and an uncertainty in the minds of management that unquestionably has been a brake on recovery, at incalculable cost to the public. And a major portion of that cost has been at the expense of the working man."

Commodities

Commodity futures continued to move unevenly yesterday. Copper contracts led a downturn in nonferrous metals. Sugar and coffee also closed lower. Advances were made by coffee, cocoa, hides, cottonseed oil and silk.

Still feeling the effect of Monday's removal of restrictions on output by the international copper cartel, copper futures closed 0.19 to 0.22 cent a pound lower. Export copper sold in a range of 11.15 to 11.35 cents, little changed from Wednesday.

Nominal prices for tin futures fell 0.55 cent a pound, but no sales were reported. Lead finished unchanged to 0.03 a pound lower. Crude rubber futures dipped 0.11 to 0.19 cent a pound. The spot price of smoked rubber sheets declined 0.12 cent to 16.81 cents a pound.

Some sales of raw sugar in the spot market were reported at 3.08 cents a pound, up 0.03 cent. Futures, however, were easier and domestic contracts finished unchanged to off 0.01 cent. World futures lost 0.00½ cent.

Hides gained 0.02 to 0.07 cent a pound in listless trading. Rio coffee futures moved up 0.06 cent a pound and Santos futures were 0.05 to 0.07 cent higher.

OIL AND FARMING PROBLEMS TAKEN UP BY PRESIDENT

Told Reasons for Cut in Crude Prices.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 20.—[Special.] — President Roosevelt today offered a variety of proposals and suggestions in regard to the farming and oil industries. His interest in the oil industry was excited by a visit from Ernest Thompson, chairman of the six state interstate oil compact commission set up to regulate the production of oil.

No sooner had the big oil companies stabilized production by reducing their above-ground stocks from 310,000,000 to 280,000,000 barrels, Thompson complained, than they cut the price of crude oil throughout the mid-continent field last week.

Charges Oil Refining Rushed.

This was an unpardonable sin, Thompson said, and "a blow below the belt." Oil price cuts must be avoided, he said. He explained the price reductions by saying that the refiners ran too much oil through their refineries to get an additional supply of 2,000,000 barrels of heating oil in preparing for the winter's demand. To get that much heating oil, they refined enough oil to produce 20,000,000 barrels of surplus gasoline.

"They should have built up the heating oil supply throughout the year instead of waiting until fall and rushing through the refining all at once," Thompson told the President.

In reply, Mr. Roosevelt proposed that if the six states [Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Illinois, Kansas, and Colorado] would extend their compact to include regulation of refining as well as production, the compact would have his blessing and he would ask congress to approve it.

Thompson said he would convey this proposal to a meeting of independent producers in Tulsa, Okla., tomorrow.

President's Advice on Farming.

1. An international conference to be held in the near future to divide up the world market, especially for wheat and cotton, in order to avoid dumping of surplus produce by one country upon another.

2. The substitution for the present acreage allotments of bushel and pound allotments for domestic farmers.

3. A farm subsidy program which would differentiate between "family-size" farms and exceedingly large acreages operated by syndicates.

The President is opposed to unlimited export of the United States' surplus commodities, Senator Lee reported, and expressed hope that a conference between the large producing nations would result in an agreement to ban dumping.

Investors' Guide

Kimberly-Clark.

Investors' Guide: Kindly give me information on the Kimberly-Clark corporation. What does it manufacture? Has it any funded debt?—T. S.

Answer: Kimberly-Clark corporation's chief business is the manufacture of book papers for magazines and other publications. It is the second largest firm in this field. Through a subsidiary it makes newsprint for a number of metropolitan newspapers in the east. Rotogravure papers are a specialty product, sales of which have increased sharply in recent years.

Although the company showed a profit in every year of the depression, it failed to cover annual preferred dividend requirements of $598,000 in 1932, 1933, and 1934. Earnings rose steadily from 1934 through 1937, but slipped in the first half of this year. Net income in the first six months was $1,009,000, or $1.46 a common share, compared with $1,222,000, or $1.90 a share, in the first half of 1937. Sales declined to $13,263,000 against $13,839,000.

Sales fell from $22,373,000 in 1929 to $13,184,000 in 1932, and then climbed up to $27,250,000 in 1937. Net income last year amounted to $2,360,000, compared with $1,457,000 in 1936, $947,000 in 1935, and a low of $438,000 in 1934. In 1929 net income touched a peak of $3,873,000.

Funded debt consists of $9,720,000 of first mortgage 4½ per cent bonds issued in 1937.

The company has outstanding 99,532 shares of 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock and 488,173 shares of no par common.

Dividend payments have been made regularly on the preferred since it was issued in 1928. Regular quarterly payments of 25 cents a share are now being made on the common. Last year $2 a share was paid, of which $1 was in extras. In 1935 $1 was paid, after skipping of dividends in 1933 and 1934.

Kraft-Phenix Cheese.

Investors' Guide: Is the stock of the Kraft-Phenix Cheese corporation listed on any exchange?—J. D.

Answer: No. Kraft-Phenix Cheese corporation was acquired in 1930 by the National Dairy Products corporation, which now holds all of the common stock of the cheese firm. Holders of Kraft-Phenix common in 1930 received for each share $25 par value of 5½ cent debentures and one-half share of common stock in National Dairy Products. Kraft-Phenix 6¼ per cent preferred was retired at $110 a share.

CUDAHY PACKING AGAIN OMITS ITS SENIOR DIVIDENDS

Boosts Arrears to $10.50 Share on 7% Stock.

Directors of the Cudahy Packing company yesterday voted to omit dividend payments again on the corporation's two preferred stocks. Their action came as a surprise to stockholders, who last week had been informed that resumption of preferred dividends would be considered at yesterday's board meeting.

No dividends have been paid on Cudahy 7 per cent and 6 per cent preferred shares since May 1, 1937. At that time regular semi-annual disbursements of $3.50 a share on the 7 per cent preferred and $3 on the 6 per cent preferred were made. Omission of the current dividend, due Nov. 1, puts the 7 per cent stock in arrears $10.50 a share and the 6 per cent stock $9 a share.

Blame Business Conditions.

A statement by the company said directors resolved that "in view of the unsatisfactory business conditions with which the packing industry has been confronted, it is for the best interests . . . that dividends [both on our 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock and on our 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock] which otherwise would be due on Nov. 1 next, be not declared or paid."

Directors of the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company authorized payment of an extra dividend of $1 a share in addition to the regular quarterly disbursement of 25 cents a share. The company paid an extra dividend of 25 cents a share on Feb. 15.

Idle Reserve Bank Funds Largest in 2 Years.

Official figures issued yesterday by the treasury confirmed the earlier indication that the gold supply of the United States had risen above 14 billion dollars. At the same time the federal reserve board disclosed in its weekly statement that the supply of lending funds in the banking system has risen to the highest figure in two years.

The daily treasury statement listed gold holdings of $14,008,236,361 on Wednesday. Imports in the week ended Wednesday totaled $139,000,000.

Expand Excess Reserves.

The reserve board's statement disclosed that the treasury deposited with the central reserve banks certificates against $177,000,000 of the newly imported gold. The feeding of the gold into the reserve system serves to expand the supply of idle money in the member banks.

The member banks on Wednesday were carrying reserves that exceeded the legal requirements by 3 billion 270 million dollars. This was an increase of 220 millions in a week.

Chicago banks reported no change in commercial loans, but a moderate contraction in all types of outstanding credit.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Prices of hogs rose again yesterday as supplies were cut at all leading packing centers. Recent price declines and the fact that farmers are busy harvesting their corn crop in some sections of the country has reduced receipts at Chicago.

An advance of 10 to 15 cents in all classes of hogs raised the price level to the best since Thursday of last week.

Cooler weather stimulated consumption of pork. Packers got up to 50 cents per hundred pounds more for some cuts of pork. Top light loins sold at $17.50, compared with the season's low of $17.00 the day before.

The highest prices since Sept. 9 were paid for fat lambs yesterday. Light receipts, cooler weather and improved consumer demand for lamb meat were the strengthening factors in the market.

The downward trend of the steer market was halted, prices being influenced by light receipts and the change in the weather. Only 4,000 cattle arrived.
